At the Twenty-sixth Annual Meeting of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, held in Freemasons' Hall, Great Queen Street, on Tuesday, May 2, 1826.

The Right Hon. LORD GAMBIER, Vice-Patron and President, in the Chair.

The Report of the Committee having been read by the Secretaries, and the Statement of the Accounts of the Twenty-sixth Year,

On a Motion by the Hon. and Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Lichfield and Coventry, seconded by the Right Hon. Lord Calthorpe,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the Report, an abstract of which has been read, be received and printed under the direction of the Committee: and that this Meeting feels much thankfulness to God that the Income of the Society has again considerably increased, notwithstanding the pressure of public difficulties; and that its Missions are enlarging and prosperous, though not exempt from trials.

On a Motion by Sir Robert Harry Inglis, Bart. M.P. seconded by the Rev. John William Cunningham,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That this Meeting derives motives and encouragements to persevering labour, from the accounts which have been received of the present condition of many of the Society's Stations in India and Ceylon; as ascertained by the personal inspection of the Right Reverend the Bishop of Calcutta, on his Lordship's late Visitation; and that they learn with great satisfaction the progress of Native-Female Education in the East.

On a Motion by Robert Grant, Esq. seconded by the Rev. Charles Jerram,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That, amidst discouragements chiefly attributable to the inadequate supply of Christian Teachers for the Settlements of the Liberated Africans in Sierra Leone, the Meeting is deeply impressed with a sense of the obligation to prosecute the Society's benevolent objects in West Africa, and cherishes the hope that the measures to be taken in pursuance of the recommendations of the Medical Committee, may be the means of preserving in future the valuable lives of the Society's Missionaries, and that the recent accession of Territory adjacent to the Colony, and the consequent facilities for penetrating into the Interior, may ultimately prove subservient to the progress of the Gospel.

On a Motion by the Hon. and Rev. Gerard Thomas Noel, seconded by the Rev. Charles James Hoare,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the Meeting, feeling deeply interested in the education and religious instruction of the Slave Population of the West-India Colonies, anticipates beneficial results from the arrangements by which its Catechists and Schoolmasters in those Colonies have been placed, in connexion with the Bishops of Jamaica and Barbadoes, on the same footing as those of the Incorporated Society for the Conversion and Religious Instruction of the Negro Slaves.

On a Motion by the Right Hon. the Earl of Roden, seconded by William Wilson Carus Wilson, Esq. M.P.

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the experience of the past year having strengthened the conviction of the utility and importance of the Institution at Islington, this Meeting learns with satisfaction the intended extension of the Buildings for the reception of an increased number of Students; and earnestly commends this part of the Society's plans to the support and prayers of its Members.

On a Motion by the Rev. Daniel Wilson, seconded by the Rev. James Haldane Stewart,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the sincere thanks of the Society be given to the Noble President of the Institution, to the other Vice-Patrons, and to the Vice-Presidents, for their continued protection; to the Treasurer, for his assistance; to the Rev. Edward Cooper, M.A. for his Sermon before the Society last evening; to such Clergymen and other Gentlemen as have, during the last year, prepared or supported Associations; to the Younger Friends of the Society; to those Ladies who, in various places, have very successfully exerted themselves in promoting its interests; and to the Committee for their exertions: and that the following Gentlemen are appointed the Committee for the ensuing year. (See List, after Vice-Presidents.)

LAWS AND REGULATIONS

OF THE

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY FOR AFRICA AND THE EAST.

I. THIS Institution shall be designated "The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East;" and shall be conducted by Patrons, Vice-Patrons, a President, Vice-Presidents, a Committee, and such Officers as may be deemed necessary, all being Members of the Established Church.

II. The office of PATRONS of the Society shall be reserved for such Members of the Royal Family as may honour it with their Protection. VICE-PATRONS shall be appointed exclusively from among the Peers, Spiritual and Temporal. The PRESIDENT shall be such Peer or Commoner, and the VICE-PRESIDENTS such Commoners, as may be appointed thereto.

OF MEMBERS AND GOVERNORS.

III. Annual Subscribers of One Guinea and upwards, and if Clergymen, Half-a-Guinea, with Collectors of Fifty-two Shillings and upwards per Annum, shall be Members of the Society during the continuance of such Subscriptions or Collections. Benefactors of Ten Guineas or upwards, Clergymen making Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas, and Executors paying to the amount of Fifty Pounds, shall be Members for Life.

IV. Annual Subscribers of Five Guineas shall be Governors during the continuance of such Subscription; and Benefactors of Fifty Pounds and upwards shall be Governors for Life.

V. Members and Governors of Associations who contribute the above sums shall be considered as Members and Governors of the Parent Society.

VI. The Committee shall have the power of appointing such persons as have rendered essential services to the Society, either Members for Life, or Governors for Life.

OF GENERAL MEETINGS.

VII. An Annual Meeting of the Members of the Society shall be held in London, on the First Tuesday in May; unless that day shall fall on the 7th of May, in which case the Annual Meeting shall be held, for that year, on Tuesday the 30th of April. To such Meeting, those Members of the Society shall be summoned by Letter who reside within ten miles of the Metropolis: when the Proceedings of the foregoing year shall be reported, the Accounts presented, and a Treasurer and Committee chosen.

VIII. A Special General Meeting of the Members of the Society, at which not less than Thirty shall constitute a quorum, shall be called at any time, at the requisition of the General Committee; or by any Thirteen Members, on addressing a Letter to the Secretary, specifying the object of the Meeting. Ten days' notice shall be given in three public Newspapers, of any such intended Meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called; which shall be deemed sufficient publicity.

IX. None of the Rules of the Institution shall be repealed or altered, nor any new ones established, but at the Annual Meeting, or at a Special Meeting called for that purpose.

X. An Anniversary Sermon shall be preached at some Church in London by a Clergyman appointed by the General Committee. An Annual Report of the Society shall be printed for the use of its Members.

ON THE COMMITTEE.

XI. The Committee shall consist of Twenty-four Lay Members of the Established Church; and of all such Clergymen as are Members of the Society. Eighteen Members shall be annually appointed from the Old Committee, and Six from the General Body.

XII. The COMMITTEE shall elect, at their First Meeting in every year, either from among themselves, or from the other Members of the Society (being Members of the Established Church) a Committee of Patronage, a Committee of Funds, a Committee of Correspondence, and a Committee of Accounts. Each of the said Committees shall keep minutes of its Proceedings, and shall report the same to the General Committee.

XIII. The Office of the Committee of Patronage is, to procure patronage and support to the Society; and to nominate, to the General Committee, proper persons, as Patrons, Vice-Patrons, and Vice-Presidents of the Society.

XIV. The Office of the Committee of Funds, is to circulate information respecting the Institution; to adopt proper means of augmenting the Subscriptions and Benefactions; to obtain Collections in Churches and Chapels; and to nominate, from time to time, to the General Committee, suitable persons to act as agents for the Society in the principal towns throughout the Empire.

XV. The Office of the Committee of Correspondence, is, to seek for proper Missionaries, to superintend their instruction, and to correspond with them when sent out.

XVI. The Office of the Committee of Accounts is, to see that the Subscriptions are duly received, regulate the accounts, and undertake the charge of fitting out and conveying the Missionaries to their places of destination.

XVII. The General Committee shall receive the Reports of the other Committees, shall appoint the places where Missions shall be attempted, shall direct the scale upon which they shall be conducted, and shall superintend the affairs of the Society in general.

XVIII. The General Committee shall meet on the Second Monday in every Month, and oftener if needful, the other Committees as often, and at such places, as shall be by them agreed on: their Meetings to be always opened with reading a Form of Prayer composed for that purpose, or one or more suitable prayers selected from the Liturgy. Five Members shall be necessary to compose a General Committee, and Three each of the others. In case of equality of votes, the Chairman shall be entitled to a second or casting vote.

XIX. The Patrons, Vice-Patrons, and President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, Secretaries, and Assistant Secretary shall be considered ex-officio Members of all Committees.

XX. Governors, being Members of the Established Church, shall be entitled to attend and vote at all Meetings of the General Committee.

XXI. All Payments on account of the Society shall be signed by Three of the General Committee, in Committee, and the Secretary or Assistant Secretary.

XXII. The Committee shall have power to appoint such Officers and Assistants as they shall deem necessary for the well-conducting of the affairs of the Society, subject to the approbation of the next Annual Meeting.

XXIII. Five Auditors shall be appointed by the Committee annually, for the purpose of auditing the Accounts of the Society, of whom Three shall be chosen from the General Body. Three shall be a Quorum.

XXIV. The Life Subscriptions, or a sufficient part thereof, to be equal to the Subscriptions of the existing Members for Life, shall be placed in the Public Funds, in the names of Four of the General Committee; who, on their acceptance of the trust, shall sign a declaration of the nature of it, and that they will relinquish the same whenever called upon for that purpose by the General Committee.

OF MISSIONARIES.

XXV. In the appointment of Candidates for the Missionary Office, the following course shall be pursued.——The Committee of Correspondence having found a person supposed to be suitable, shall determine by ballot to nominate him to the General Committee. Previous to the day of nomination, each Member of the General Committee shall receive notice of such nomination. On the day of nomination, a report shall be made by some Member of the Committee of Correspondence of his qualifications, and the General Committee shall then proceed to ballot for him, unless any Member shall declare that he wishes for further information; in which case the ballot shall be deferred till the next meeting of the General Committee. In the ballot of either Committee, the agreement of at least three-fourths of the Members present shall be necessary to his election.

XXVI. A Candidate thus chosen shall receive instruction in such parts of knowledge, and be prepared in such a manner for his future employment, as the Committee of Correspondence shall judge expedient.

XXVII. If, during such preparation, any Two Members of the General Committee should see cause to disapprove of his principles or conduct, they may submit the subject to a special meeting of the Committee; and, if deemed proper, the Committee may appoint another ballot to determine whether he shall be continued as a Candidate; of which special notice shall be given to each Member.

XXVIII. Each Candidate shall consider himself as engaged to go to any part of the world, and at any time, which the Committee shall choose; respect however being had to his personal circumstances, or to any previous stipulation made by him with the Society. As soon as he quits England, he shall keep a regular Journal of his studies and proceedings; a copy of which he shall send, as often as opportunity shall serve, to the Secretaries.

XXIX. Each Candidate, after due preparation, shall, if not admitted to Holy Orders, be appointed by the Committee to act as a Catechist. If admitted to Holy Orders, he shall be appointed a Missionary.

XXX. The Missionaries who go out under the direction of this Society shall be allowed to visit home, permission having been previously obtained from the General Committee: and after having laboured in the cause of the Society to the satisfaction of the Committee, at the Stations committed to their care, until age or infirmity prevent further exertion, suitable provision shall be made to render their remaining days comfortable. The General Committee shall have the power to assist also, in particular cases, the dependent relatives of those Missionaries, who, by devoting themselves to the service of the Society, are prevented from contributing to their support.

XXXI. A friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

XXXII. It is recommended to every Member of the Society to pray to Almighty God for a blessing upon his designs, under the full conviction, that, unless he "prevent us in all our doings with his most gracious favour, and further us with his continual help," we cannot reasonably hope to meet with persons of a proper spirit and qualifications to be Missionaries, or expect their endeavours to be crowned with success.

The Stations in West Africa are placed in their geographical order southward from Freetown: those in North India, as they lie north-west of Calcutta; and those in South India, as they lie in proceeding down the east coast and returning by the west—The entire Returns from Poonamallee, Cochin, and Tellicherry, with that of Scholars at Gorruckpore and the Red River, are taken from the last List; recent Returns not having been received from those Stations—In the Antigua and Red-River Schools, there are many gratuitous Assistants.

STATIONS AND NAMES OF MISSIONARIES AND OTHER LABOURERS.

 In the following List, the Wives of the Missionaries are included, though their specific employment is not stated: as it is always expected by the Society, that they should lay themselves out to do good, in every practicable way, among the Native Females; not only by cultivating familiar intercourse with them, but by Education of the Children and Instruction of the Adults.

By MISSIONARY, in the preceding List, is to be understood one who has been admitted to Holy Orders—by TEACHER, one who, not having been Ordained, engages, as a Catechist, in such religious care and general instruction of the people as may be consistent with his character as a Layman—by ASSISTANT, one who is chiefly occupied in School Instruction, as Superintendant, Master, Mistress, or Usher.

CHURCH MISSIONARY ASSOCIATIONS.

WHEN a disposition appears in any place to assist the designs of the Society by establishing an Association in its support, a Meeting of persons favourable to such a measure should be called. The friends who meet for this purpose should form themselves into a "Church Missionary Association, in aid of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East;" and should proceed to appoint a Committee and proper Officers.

In large Towns, comprehending several Parishes, it may be expedient to appoint a President, Vice-Presidents, a Treasurer, and a Secretary; with a pretty numerous Committee, composed of persons from the different parishes.

In Parochial Associations, a Treasurer, a Secretary, and a smaller Committee, under the Presidency of the Clergyman, may be best suited to conduct the business.

It may sometimes be found expedient to form Associations in Separate Congregations in the same Parish, rather than one Association in the parish at large; and in this case also, a Treasurer, Secretary, and Committee, under the Presidency of the Clergyman, will suffice to accomplish the object.

In a Voluntary Union of Friends, whether the members of the same family, the children of a school, or persons connected by affinity or friendship, such arrangements may be made as may prove most convenient to themselves.

In this manner, benevolent persons, willing to assist the designs of the Society, from the domestic circle to the largest town, may unite for a purpose most beneficial to their own minds, while it expresses a due regard to the glory of God in the salvation of the Heathen, and a proper sense of their own infinite obligations to Divine Mercy.

LAWS AND REGULATIONS SUITABLE FOR ASSOCIATIONS.

I. Annual Members of this Association shall be, all persons subscribing annually One Guinea or upward, or, if Clergymen, Half-a-Guinea; and also such Persons as shall collect in its behalf One Shilling or upward per week.

II. Life Members shall be Benefactors of Ten Guineas or upward, or, if Clergymen, such as shall contribute Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas, and Executors paying bequests of Fifty Pounds.

III. Annual Governors shall be Subscribers of Five Guineas per Annum.

IV. Life Governors shall be Benefactors of Fifty Pounds.

V. Members will be entitled to receive the Reports of this Association, and also the Annual Reports of the Parent Society, and to vote at all their General Meetings: but Collectors of One Shilling and upward per week will further receive a Copy of each Monthly Number of the Missionary Register.—Governors will be entitled to receive the Reports; and, if Members of the Established Church, to vote at all Committee and General Meetings of both the Association and the Parent Society.—Clergymen will have the same privilege as Governors.

VI. The business of the Association shall be under the management of a Patron, a President, Vice-Presidents, a Treasurer, Secretaries, Governors, and a Committee not exceeding ——— Lay Members of the Established Church, and of all Clergymen who are Members of this Association. The Committee to meet on the ——— in the months of January, April, July, and October, at ——— o'clock; Five Members being competent to act.

VII. The object of the Committee shall be, to call forth the zeal of well-disposed Persons, and particularly those of the Established Church, in support of the Church Missionary Society; and to recommend proper persons who may offer themselves as Missionaries to the Parent Society—to disperse as widely as possible Missionary Information—to promote the formation of Branch Associations—and to procure Collections and other Contributions.

VIII. The whole of the Funds so obtained, after deducting incidental expenses only, shall be remitted to the Church Missionary Society in aid of its designs.

IX. A General Meeting shall be held annually, on such day in the month of ——— as shall be found expedient (of which due notice shall be given), when a Report of the Proceedings of the Association shall be presented.

MARK XVI. 15.

AND HE SAID UNTO THEM, GO YE INTO ALL THE WORLD, AND PREACH THE GOSPEL TO EVERY CREATURE.

When our Lord delivered to His Apostles the Commission contained in these words, He laid the foundation of all Missionary Proceedings. In a Charge, which He had formerly given to the same persons on first sending them forth to preach in His Name, He had premonished them of the spirit, by which, as His Apostles, they must be actuated—a spirit of faith, and dependence on His power and providence; of the opposition they would encounter in His service; and of the divine support and consolation with which, in the discharge of it, they would be favoured. But the Mission, in reference to which this Charge was originally given, had been limited, like His own, to the cities of Judea—to the lost sheep of the House of Israel. But now, His own personal Ministry being ended, and the price of Redemption being fully paid, previously to His leaving the world, on renewing to the Apostles their Mission, He prescribed not the former limitations, but directed them to extend to the Gentiles also the operations of their Ministry. Actuated by the same spirit of faith, expecting similar opposition, and experiencing similar support, let them NOW Go forth into ALL the world, and preach the Gospel to EVERY creature.

In this Commission, then, thus renewed and enlarged, our Lord may be considered as announcing THE TREASURE which He deposited with His Church—HIS WILL respecting the diffusion of the same—and THE MODE by which the diffusion should take place. The TREASURE was THE GOSPEL—the Glad Tidings of a full and free Salvation, through the Love of the Father, the Mediation of the Son, and the Grace of the Holy Spirit. The Treasure thus deposited with His Church was designed for UNIVERSAL diffusion. It was HIS WILL that it should be communicated to ALL THE WORLD, and TO EVERY CREATURE, as being at once necessary for all, and sufficient for all; while it was through the instrumentality of Man that this communication was to be effected. The PREACHING of the Gospel—the proclamation of these glorious tidings to sinners by their fellow sinners, was the MODE appointed for diffusing throughout the earth the unsearchable riches of Christ.

Such was the Commission—a Commission which, while it was imperative on those to whom it was originally delivered, has been substantially binding on the Christian Church in every succeeding age. For, since the Treasure entrusted to its keeping has ever been the same—necessary for all and sufficient for all; since it has ever been the will of Christ—for He changeth not—that this Treasure should be communicated to every creature; and since it is by the agency of Man that this communication is to be made; it follows, from these premises, that, so long as there shall be one corner of the habitable world in which this Gospel may not have been preached, so long as there shall be one individual of the human race by whom these Glad Tidings may not have been heard, so long it must be incumbent on the Christian Church, in a grateful feeling of its own unmerited privileges, in a tender sympathy for the spiritual wants and miseries of those who know not Christ, in compliance with the known will and purpose of its Great Redeemer, and in obedience to His express command, to persist in a faithful and an unwearied application of the means, which He has Himself appointed, for the recovery of a lost world of sinners, and for the manifestation of His own glory.

These, then, are the grounds on which we hesitate not to found—shall I say, THE DEFENCE?—no, my Brethren—the DUTY of Missionary Proceedings. To act in THE SPIRIT of the injunction in the Text—to comply with it PRACTICALLY, so far as means and opportunities may permit—is a duty, to the discharge of which every country, professing to be influenced by Christian Principles, every Church which claims to be built on the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, every inhabitant of such a country, every Member of such a Church, are bound by the most sacred and constraining obligations.

But, while these obligations thus bind universally at all times, there may be seasons, and circumstances, in which the facilities for promoting the dissemination of Christianity in Heathen Lands may be so unusually great, in which the inducements for persevering in this work and labour of love may be so singularly encouraging, that not to improve the opportunity thus vouchsafed would evidently be a gross dereliction of positive and immediate duty. There may be seasons and circumstances, in which, with reference to some particular Country or Church, the dispensations of Providence may have opened so wide a door for the introduction and exercise of Missionary Exertions, that the Country or the Church in question may seem, as it were, to be designated, in a more than ordinary manner, to the high and important office of preaching the Gospel to mankind.

Such seasons MAY occur; such circumstances MAY arise: and, if I do not greatly err, my Brethren, the present season is one of this description. The circumstances, in which our own Country and Church are now placed, are circumstances of the kind which I have here supposed; circumstances which reasonably warrant the conclusion, that to ENGLAND is appointed, at this eventful period, the distinguished office of furthering, as an honoured instrument in the hand of Providence, the Evangelization of the Heathen World. In assuming to her this high distinction, I am far indeed from intending to intimate that she exclusively possesses it. To the Protestant Church in general, to the Protestant Maritime Nations in particular, and in an especial manner to Protestant America, most of the circumstances to which I allude, in a greater or a less degree, apply; and consequently enforce on them, by a proportionate obligation, the duty of which I am speaking. But still, with respect to England, there is a COMBINATION of these circumstances

PECULIAR to herself, which imposes on her a PECULIAR responsibility; and which, without exempting other Nations from their respective obligations to co-operate in this great work, indicate that to HER, at least in the present crisis, the momentous Commission in the Text is distinctly and specifically delegated—Go THOU into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature.

In proceeding to state the grounds which appear to me to justify this application of the Text, I trust that I shall not unprofitably discharge the office, which, in a dependence on the Divine Blessing and Assistance, I have ventured at this time to take upon myself.

Among those circumstances, in the present situation of this country, which may induce a persuasion that it is at this time selected to the high and honourable office of diffusing the Treasure of the Gospel among Heathen Nations in all the world, and to every creature, the one to which I shall begin with directing your attention, is,

I. THE LARGE PORTION OF THIS TREASURE WHICH ENGLAND ITSELF, AT THE PRESENT SEASON, SO EMINENTLY POSSESSES.

For almost three centuries, this country has been singularly marked by its religious advantages. Rescued out of the darkness and errors of Popery, it has been favoured, above other countries, with a distinguished measure of Evangelical Light and Truth. The light, indeed, has not always shone with equal splendour throughout the whole of this period; neither has the Truth been displayed and professed in every part of it with the same clearness. Human corruption, with its accustomed tendency to deterioration, has not failed to oppose the progress of Religion, as it was introduced into this country at the Reformation; and has too often, during the period in question, succeeded in impeding its course and paralyzing its energies: while, on the other hand, seasons of more immediate refreshing, and of partial revival, have occasionally occurred. From time to time, it has pleased the Lord to awaken His slumbering people; to rouse them to a more feeling sense of their responsibilities and privileges; and, by a more copious effusion of His Spirit, to bestow on them a larger portion of His Heavenly Treasure. And is not the present season eminently one of this description? Is it possible to look back on the last thirty years, and to compare the state of Religion in this country before that period commenced, with its subsequent progress and present advancement, without being convinced that God has graciously revived His work in the midst of our days, and has imparted to us at this season a peculiar and distinguished proof of His love and favour? Never has the light of Christianity in this country shone more clearly and steadily; never have its peculiar doctrines been more distinctly preached, or better understood, than at the present era. The Press and the Pulpit have united their efforts in diffusing throughout the land the great truths of the Gospel; while the improved system and extended scale of Education, among all ranks of the community, have contributed, in a degree hitherto unknown, to the rapid accumulation of this Sacred Treasure.

What then is the inference, which these statements obviously suggest? If it be a maxim as consonant to Reason as it is to Revelation, that those who have freely received should freely give—if we have been taught by our Divine Redeemer, that men do not light a candle and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick, and it giveth light to all that are in the house—if, in respect to temporal concerns, they who are rich in this world are charged to be ready to distribute, willing to communicate—does it not follow, by parity of reasoning, that they who have freely received the Heavenly Treasure should as freely give it—that they who enjoy the Spiritual Light, and possess the Spiritual Riches, are constrained to dispense them with a liberality and a readiness, proportioned not only to the measure in which they themselves participate them, but also to the inestimable value and excellence of the gifts themselves? If God, in His Grace and Providence, has filled this country with Evangelical Light, and has made it rich with the Treasure of His Gospel, does He not virtually say to it: GO, AND DIFFUSE THIS LIGHT TO THOSE WHO ARE YET IN DARKNESS: GO, AND COMMUNICATE THIS TREASURE TO THOSE WHO NEED IT AT YOUR HANDS. I HAVE COMMITTED THIS PRECIOUS TALENT TO YOUR TRUST: HIDE IT NOT IN A NAPKIN: BURY IT NOT IN THE EARTH. FEAR NOT, BY ENRICHING OTHERS, TO IMPOVERISH YOURSELF. THERE IS THAT SCATTERETH, AND YET INCREASETH. TO HIM THAT HATH, SHALL BE GIVEN. HE THAT WATERETH, SHALL BE WATERED ALSO HIMSELF.

But further; another circumstance, which marks the designation of England, at the present crisis, to this important office, is,

II. THE DISTINCT AND IMPRESSIVE MANNER IN WHICH THE STATE OF THE HEATHEN WORLD, AND ITS GREAT NEED OF THE TREASURE OF THE GOSPEL, ARE NOW PLACED, IN THIS COUNTRY, BEFORE THE PUBLIC VIEW.

It would be an unnecessary intrusion on your time, to enter on a description of the state of the Heathen World: it will be sufficient to remind you, that it is a state of darkness, misery, and wickedness. Without God in the world, without Christ, without hope—any Scriptural hope of eternal life—what MUST be the state of man, but a state of degradation, guilt, and wretchedness? Still less occasion is there for reminding you, that the Gospel, that precious deposit committed to our keeping, is the only remedy for all these evils; the only instrument which can elevate these our fallen fellow-creatures to the rank and level of moral and intellectual beings; can fit them for real happiness in this life, or for glory in that which is to come.

These are facts and truths, which have been always such. The benighted and awful state of the Heathen World, and the urgent need which it has of the blessings of Christianity, have been in all ages the same. The cry, which its necessities have been incessantly pouring forth, has been always ONE—Come over and help us! Make us partakers of the benefit. But it was not till lately that this voice has reached us: at least, it was not till the present era that it has sounded through the country in these distinct and impressive notes, in which it is now heard: it was not till the present era, that the vail, formerly cast over the abominations of Heathenism, has been removed; and that mystery of iniquity, which previously lay concealed in darkness, has been dragged into light, and exposed to the public eye, in all its native deformity. Ignorance on this subject now no longer continues to overspread the country. Information, derived from the most authentic sources, and containing the most minute and circumstantial details, has been so profusely and industriously circulated through this country, chiefly by the exertions of Missionary Institutions, as to leave no possible doubt of the horrid and unnatural practices, the atrocities and impurities, which universally prevail wherever Idol-worship exists. Nay, our own intimate connection with the Heathen World, resulting from our extended Empire in the East, has brought these things under our own immediate inspection; has made us, as it were, eye-witnesses of the scenes which Idolatry exhibits; and has actually forced upon our notice the demoralizing and degrading effects of its baneful superstition.

Here, then, is surely a special call to interpose and apply the remedy for these complicated evils. If it has always been a duty strongly incumbent on every Christian Nation to communicate the riches of their Divine Religion to those countries which might be destitute of them, surely the duty becomes doubly incumbent on this Nation, at a time when the deep spiritual poverty of the Heathen World is thus fully and familiarly disclosed to it. What is the language, in which the Almighty, by having brought us into contact with the enormities of Hindoo Superstition, may be supposed substantially to address us? Does He not seem thus, in His Providence, to say to England: ARISE AND HELP! PITY AND RELIEVE THESE POOR IDOLATERS: ENRICH THEM WITH THE TREASURE OF THE GOSPEL: SEE IN THEIR STATE WHAT IS THE STATE OF ALL IDOLATERS; AND HASTEN TO IMPART TO ALL, SO FAR AS YOU ARE ABLE, THE ONLY REMEDY WHICH CAN MEET THEIR CASE. CONVEY TO THEM, WITHOUT DELAY, THOSE GLAD TIDINGS OF SALVATION, FOR WHICH YOU NOW SO DISTINCTLY SEE THEIR DEEP AND URGENT NEED.

Another circumstance, corroborating the view which has been given of the designation of England at the present crisis, consists,

III. IN THE PECULIAR FACILITIES, WHICH IT NOW PROVIDENTIALLY POSSESSES, FOR FULFILLING THE COMMISSION IN THE TEXT.

Among these, the first to be noticed, is the ready ACCESS to Heathen Lands; and the frequent and familiar INTERCOURSE with them, which the widely-extended commerce of this country so effectually promotes, and is daily increasing. Never was the Maritime and Commercial Spirit of England more enterprising and successful than at the present era. The ocean is covered with its ships; and regions, till now unknown, still continue to be explored and visited by them. There is not a sea which they do not navigate; not a coast or an island, at which they do not touch. Those obstacles, therefore, which distance, which intervening oceans, which want of intercourse and communication, may have formerly opposed to the diffusion of Christianity, so far as regards this country, no longer exist. There is scarcely a Tribe in the habitable world to which a way is not now opened to the Missionary Efforts of Great Britain. And has God, in His Providence, opened such a way in vain? or, in opening it, has He no design that it should be occupied and used? Has He thus given us access to barbarous and idolatrous nations, that by our intercourse with them, and the interchange of mutual commodities, we may merely enrich ourselves, and contribute to our own national comfort, wealth, or influence? Does He not intend that we should benefit and enrich them also—enrich them, not only with the blessings of Civilization and Science, by the introduction of Arts and Manufactures, and the superior accommodations of life; but with the richer blessings of the Gospel—of that Treasure, which we so abundantly possess, and which they so evidently want? Surely we can but little understand, or do but ill interpret, the meaning of the Almighty, in these dispensations of His Providence, if we do not hear Him, as it were, distinctly saying to this country, at the present juncture: A GREAT DOOR, AND EFFECTUAL, IS OPENED UNTO THEE: FULFIL THE MINISTRY WHICH IS COMMITTED TO THY HANDS.

But to this facility for diffusing the Treasure of the Gospel, resulting from the ready access and improved intercourse which this country so eminently possesses in respect to Heathen Nations, another still more important is to be added; namely, that Facility for promoting the object in question, which the GREAT POLITICAL ASCENDENCY OF ENGLAND, arising out of its numerous and extensive Colonies, confers on it at the present period.

The system of Colonization is at present, and has been for many years, a feature almost PECULIAR to our country; which, by giving to it a power and facility of action that in no comparative degree attaches to other Protestant Nations, imposes on it a PECULIAR weight of responsibility, and clearly distinguishes it from them. In the portion of the Treasure possessed by us, in our knowledge of the state of the Heathen World, and in the facility afforded to our efforts for their conversion by our commercial relations, our Protestant Brethren in the New World are fast rising into a holy competition with us. But THEY are not a COLONIZING people; and, consequently, they have not that varied, and vast, and close connection with the Heathen World, which England has; and which, when combined with the circumstances already mentioned, places it in a situation pre-eminently favourable for diffusing the Treasure of the Gospel. It is through the operation of our colonizing system that Providence has brought under our dominion a vast extent of territory in the East; and thus has subjected to our power or influence in India and its Dependencies, directly or indirectly, more than One Hundred Millions of Souls, who know not God. Subdued, at first, by our arms, they are now receiving from us the blessings of peace and civilization: they are participating the benefits of British Laws and Institutions, of British Government and Protection. Accustomed to look up to us as their superiors—originally in the character of conquerors, but now under the no less imposing title of rulers and benefactors—they are disposed to submit to our authority, and to listen to our instructions with that deference which a consciousness of inferiority necessarily produces. With what evident advantage, then, under such circumstances, with what promising hope of success, may we apply ourselves to the great work of evangelizing these our fellow-subjects in the East? How reasonably may it be expected, that their prejudices will in time give way, and their superstitions be abandoned, when the pure and holy truths of Christianity shall have been faithfully proclaimed to them by persons whose relative situation invests them with so commanding and persuasive an influence? It cannot surely be doubted, by any who believe the Promises and Prophecies of Scripture, but that the Preaching of the Gospel, attended with a facility so favourable to its reception and success, must, sooner or later, be made effectual for erecting the Religion of the Cross on the ruins of Mahomedan and Pagan Superstition. One thing at least is clear—the facility, thus vouchsafed, strongly enforces the duty of making the attempt: the very circumstance of so large a measure of power and influence being conferred on a nation, which, from its situation and pretensions, could naturally have no claim to such distinction, is of itself a presumptive indication that it has been conferred on the nation in question for some specific and important object, which it is the will and design of Providence that it should accomplish. Cast your eye, my Brethren, over the Map of the World: consider the position of this little island, the space which it occupies, the proportion and relation which it bears among the large continental portions of the earth: consider, next, the extraordinary political ascendency which, notwithstanding its comparative insignificance, it at this time exercises, through the amazing extent of its Colonial Possessions, in these different and distant portions—not only in the Eastern, but also in the Western, Hemisphere; nay, even in Africa itself—where, in addition to its Colonies on the Southern and Western Coasts, the Cession lately made to it of one of the Native Districts, seeking for itself the security and benefits of British Protection, opens to this country a new source of influence in this hitherto-impenetrable continent; and lays the foundation of a future ascendency, which, however small in its commencement, is yet capable of being widely extended, and of leading to most important and beneficial results. Next turn your eye to the page of History. Mark the progress of past events. Trace the various steps, by which England has been gradually conducted to the eminence on which it now is placed; and has been enabled to grasp the sceptre which it now so powerfully wields, over territories, in comparison with which itself is but as a speck on the surface of the sea—territories separated from its shores by oceans interposed, and containing a population surpassing the sands in multitude, of numerous tribes and peoples, of various tongues and languages, of diverse manners and habits; but all bearing a resemblance to each other in one most awful feature—an ignorance of the True and Living God. To this survey, add one further consideration; consider, that it is this True and Living God, who having by His Grace enriched this country with the knowledge of Himself, has by His Providence raised it to its present exaltation—and then say, for what purpose has he raised it thus; for what purpose chiefly, as we may reasonably conclude, has He bestowed on England, —together, be it remembered, with the rich deposit of His Gospel—this commanding ascendency among the nations of the world; but that, by the facilities afforded by the one, it may the more effectually promote the diffusion of the other; and through those dark and idolatrous regions, over which its influence extends, may disseminate the Light of Truth, and spread abroad the knowledge of Him, who was in Christ reconciling the world unto Himself, and whom to know is life eternal.

Coincident with the facilities already mentioned for aiding the Evangelization of the Heathen World, are several other prominent features in the present crisis; which, though not possessing so direct and positive a tendency to further this great object, yet have all, in some measure, a strong collateral bearing on the same point. Among those to which I allude, are, the abundant wealth and increasing resources of the country—the state of its political relations with other countries—the almost universal peace which it now enjoys*—its general internal tranquillity—the diffusion of Education—the progress of the human mind—the improvements in Science—and, especially, the great and growing influence of the Press; all of which, in fact, are so many instruments, which, if duly applied and consecrated to the service of God, are capable of being made, in various ways and in different degrees, very powerful allies in advancing and facilitating the success of Missionary Proceedings; and which, therefore, since at such a crisis and in conjunction with such other means they are placed at the disposal of England, she is doubtless expected to consecrate and apply to the object in question.

* Within a few days after this Sermon was preached, advices were received of the termination of the Burmese War; an event which, while it tends, under Providence, to confirm our ascendency in the East, opens to this country a still wider door for Missionary Exertions, and imposes on it additional obligations to extend them.

Upon the whole, my Brethren, if ever the dispensations of the Almighty may be regarded as the plain expositors of His will, then, surely, His dealings with this country speak a language which cannot be misunderstood: then, surely, they proclaim to her aloud, at this time, her duty, and His command:—BEHOLD THE HIGH COMMISSION WHICH THOU ART CALLED TO EXECUTE!—GO INTO ALL THE WORLD; FOR THOU HAST FREE ACCESS TO EVERY PART OF IT, AND LARGE PORTIONS OF IT ARE SUBJECT TO THY OWN IMMEDIATE INFLUENCE AND CONTROUL. GO, THEREFORE; AND IN THE EMPLOYMENT OF THOSE PECULIAR FACILITIES VOUCHSAFED TO THEE FOR COMMUNICATING THE GLORIOUS TREASURE WHICH THOU THYSELF SO ABUNDANTLY POSSESSEST, WHICH THE WORLD AROUND THEE SO DECIDEDLY NEEDS—AND BY COMMUNICATING WHICH, FAR FROM IMPOVERISHING, THOU WILT GREATLY ENRICH THYSELF—PREACH THE GOSPEL TO EVERY CREATURE; PROCLAIM TO EVERY LAND THE GLAD TIDINGS OF SALVATION: NOR THINK THAT THOU WILT HAVE FULLY DISCHARGED THE OFFICE THUS COMMITTED TO THEE, TILL, ACCORDING TO THE EXTENT OF THY MEANS AND OPPORTUNITIES, REPENTANCE AND REMISSION OF SINS SHALL HAVE BEEN PREACHED, IN THE NAME OF JESUS CHRIST, AMONG ALL NATIONS.

Such are the grounds, which appear to me to justify the application that I have made of the Text.

Such are the circumstances, in the present situation of this country, which indicate, that to England, at this eventful crisis, is delegated, if not exclusively, yet pre-eminently, the high and honourable Commission of advancing, in an especial manner, the Kingdom of Christ and the happiness of the world.

From the premises thus established, two subjects of inquiry result; to which I shall endeavour to reply.

1st. Is ENGLAND FULFILLING, AS SHE OUGHT, THE HIGH COMMISSION THUS DELEGATED TO HER? Have her exertions in the Missionary Cause kept pace with the increased facilities which she has enjoyed? ARE her efforts at this time, in diffusing in Heathen Lands the rich Treasure committed to her keeping, commensurate with her responsibilities and her means?

My Brethren, on taking a retrospective view of the Religious History of this country from the Reformation to the close of the Eighteenth Century, we cannot but be struck with the almost total indifference to the Great Cause of Missions which marked the period in question. With some partial and inconsiderable exceptions, no attempts whatever were made to communicate to Heathen Lands the blessings of Christianity. England, notwithstanding her own superior religious advantages, and the eminent station which she occupied among the Reformed and Protestant Churches, appears to have been utterly unmindful of the spiritual wants of the Pagan World, and of her own obligations to supply them. Pursuing with ardour and success her conquests and discoveries, she used them only for the purpose of her own aggrandizement; nor ever seemed to reflect on the probability, that one great purpose for which she was thus providentially exalted among the kingdoms of the world, was, that she might be enabled more effectually to diffuse the light of the Gospel over the dark regions of the earth, and to make the extension of her commerce and her arms subservient to the enlargement of the Church and Kingdom of the Redeemer:—so far was this country from even attempting to fulfil, throughout this protracted period, the duty to which, as a Christian Nation, she was called!

But at length a better state of things commenced: the dawn of a brighter day began to break. Those great political convulsions which, toward the close of the last century, shook to their very basis the thrones and kingdoms of Christendom, were made instrumental, through the accompanying influences of the Spirit, in producing in this country, not only a revival of religious knowledge and practice, but, together with it, a feeling hitherto almost unknown in behalf of the Heathen World—a disposition to investigate their spiritual condition, a sympathetic commiseration of their wants, and a growing desire to relieve them. The effect of this ameliorated state of things on this great subject was soon displayed in the practical results that followed. Powerful appeals to the hearts and consciences of Christians were promptly made, and as promptly answered; Associations were formed for Missionary purposes; the different Denominations of Christians enrolled themselves into their respective Societies; while the Institution, the collective body which I have this day undertaken to address, sprung up in the bosom of the Established Church —a Church, which had been always Missionary in her spirit, and had daily taught her Members to pray, how little soever they might hitherto have felt the obligation practically to promote the object of their prayers, that the way of the Lord might be known upon earth, and His saving health unto all nations. Accelerated by these simultaneous efforts, the Cause of Missions made considerable progress. Information on the state of the Heathen was collected and circulated; an increasing interest in their favour was excited; new Associations were rapidly formed; pecuniary contributions were greatly augmented; a spirit of prayer, for a blessing on these united efforts, was stirred up. And what has been the result? Missionaries have been provided, and trained, and sent to many widely-distant parts of the earth. There, in their several stations, they are now spreading the knowledge of Christ, and diffusing the odour of His Name. In some places, very distinguished success has accompanied their Ministry: the wilderness has already begun to blossom as the rose; rivers of waters have been opened in dry places; many souls, converted unto God, have cast away their idols: and while some, redeemed from their vain conversation, are now serving the Lord with their spirit in the Gospel, others, having fallen asleep in Jesus, have joined that innumerable multitude, which are before the throne and before the Lamb, and are giving glory to Him who hath washed them from their sins in His own blood. Such, at this time, is the amended and advancing state of the Missionary Cause. Compared with the apathy on this great subject, which, previously to the present century, pervaded the public mind in this country, the present feeling is as life from the dead. And God forbid, my Brethren, that we should not take encouragement, and rejoice in the things which we have thus witnessed in our days; that we should not recognise in these events the operation of the Spirit, and the accomplishment of Prophecy; or withhold our gratitude and praise from Him, who hath thus inspired, directed, and blessed the efforts of His Servants in this work and labour of love!

But great and extensive as these efforts may have been, when contrasted with the supineness and inactivity of former ages; yet, still, are they of such a character, of such a magnitude, of such dimensions, as will justify us in returning an affirmative reply to the inquiry which has been proposed for consideration? Is England fulfilling, AS SHE OUGHT, the high Commission assigned to her? Looking at all that she has done, and at all that she is doing, in the Missionary Cause, can we with truth affirm that she is preaching the Gospel in all the world, and to every creature, in a manner commensurate with her responsibilities and her means? My Brethren, we can make no such affirmation. The Almighty indeed has taught us, that, in the building of His Temple, He despiseth not the day of small things: neither should we despise it. And therefore it is, that, in contemplating the efforts and the progress which England has hitherto made in advancing the Spiritual Temple, I have called on you to rejoice at what she has already done—to thank God, and take courage. But still I am constrained to say, that, notwithstanding all these efforts and all this progress, it is as yet but the day of SMALL things with her—a day of small things, not only in reference to the unnumbered millions of idol-worshippers who are still perishing for lack of knowledge, not only in reference to the immensity of the blessing which the Gospel would confer upon them; but a day of small things, in respect to the energies which England is CAPABLE of putting forth in the prosecution of this noble Cause; and which she must put forth, if she would fulfil the high and honourable office committed to her. What, if in the course of between twenty and thirty years she may have established as many Missions — if she may have sent forth into the Heathen World from Two to Three Hundred Missionaries — if she may have expended, in the promotion of this object, Contributions to the amount of some Hundred Thousand Pounds—yet what are all these efforts, in comparison with those which she is competent to make—in comparison with the number of Missions which she MIGHT have established—of the number of Missionaries which she OUGHT to have sent forth—of her wealth, and her resources? It must be confessed, that hitherto it is but the day of small things with her. England is indeed doing something toward evangelizing the Heathen World: she is doing more in this work than she has done at any preceding period: but still, at present, she is far from fulfilling the high Commission delegated to her.

Let us then inquire,

2dly, WHEN WILL SHE BE FULFILLING IT?

I speak not with reference to TIME, but to the MEASURE and MAGNITUDE of her services devoted to this great object. What must be the AMOUNT of these—the amount of her efforts and exertions in the Cause of Missions, which, under present circumstances, she is called to make? It must be such as her responsibilities obviously impose on her. Let her services, in promoting Christianity, be commensurate with her duty and her means; and THEN she will be fulfilling, AS SHE OUGHT, the high Commission assigned to her. Let those sympathies, for instance, in behalf of the Heathen World, which have hitherto only partially spread themselves, become UNIVERSALLY diffused. Let ONE feeling on this subject pervade the WHOLE kingdom. Let ONE desire of communicating to all lands the Treasure of the Gospel find a place in the heart and in the prayers of every member of the community. Let the Preaching of the Gospel in all the world, and to every creature, be henceforth a Public—a National Concern; no longer depending for support on the exertions and bounty of, comparatively, a small number of associated Individuals, but conducted by the combined and simultaneous energies of one vast Institution, actuated by one mind, extending its ramifications throughout the whole country, and comprehending within its ample range the united powers and talents of the entire population.

When the Established Church of this United Kingdom, gifted and privileged as she pre-eminently is, shall be foremost in espousing the Cause of Missions—shall manifest her due proportion of zeal and vigour in this noblest work of Christian Benevolence—shall stimulate her sacred sons to go forth as the Heralds and Messengers of Peace into the benighted regions of the earth—and, divesting herself of merely selfish considerations and feelings, and rising superior to those petty jealousies and unworthy prejudices which have too often damped her ardour and crippled her exertions, shall be ready cordially to co-operate, in a manner and to an extent becoming her name, her station, and her abilities, in every effort for accelerating and extending the Church of the Redeemer; — when the Government of the Country, practically recognising, among its most solemn duties, that which it owes to the Great Founder of our Holy Religion, by whom Kings reign and the Powers that be are ordained, shall habitually exercise its influence in subserviency to the Kingdom of Christ; shall extend to His faithful Labourers, throughout the whole of its numerous and distant dependencies, its assistance, protection, and encouragement; shall instruct all its Local Authorities, in every part of the world, to aid the preaching of the Gospel; and, by its own powerful arm, in the suppression of all opposing obstacles against which that arm can with justice and safety be lifted up, shall assist in pulling down the strongholds of Satan;—when the Great Councils of the Nation shall exercise their important functions, as Christian Legislators, with a special view to the interests and extension of Christianity; and shall feel it no inconsiderable part of their duty, by all necessary enactments, to facilitate the progress and success of the Missionary, to defend his person, to diminish his difficulties, to smooth his path, and to hold him in honour for his work's sake;—when Commerce shall duly appreciate the distinguished office which it holds, as handmaid to the Missionary Cause; shall learn to regard the enlarged opportunities vouchsafed to itself as so many means for the more rapidly advancing this Cause; shall esteem the Treasure of the Gospel to be the richest freight among all its exportations; and shall consider no portion of its merchandise and gains more satisfactorily expended than that which shall be consecrated to this sacred service;—when Science, also, shall humbly minister its aid to the same great object; shall account the wisdom of the world to be foolishness, compared with the wisdom of the Gospel; and, laying down its own honours at the foot of the Cross, shall rejoice in making its researches and discoveries subservient to the diffusion of that knowledge, the excellency of which so far surpasses all human science—the knowledge of Jesus Christ;—when SUCH shall be the state of things in this country; when SUCH an union of all hearts and hands, of all ranks and professions, of the Church and the State, of power and influence, of wealth and learning, shall combine and direct its associated energies in hastening forward the triumphs of the Messiah, in filling the earth with the knowledge of His glory, and in sending forth the feet of them who preach the Gospel of Peace, and bring glad tidings of good things;—when, in THIS WAY, and to THIS EXTENT, England shall apply herself to this great work—THEN—THEN INDEED, but not till then, will she adequately fulfil the high Commission delegated to her, of standing forth, at this eventful crisis, as a selected and honoured instrument for evangelizing the Heathen World.

Would, my Brethren, that we could witness such a state of things as this! Would that we could expedite "a consummation so devoutly to be wished!" To this object let our prayers and our efforts be directed. In this Cause let our hearts and tongues be worthily engaged. O that the feeble voice, which now addresses you in sounds scarce audible, I fear, within even the compass of these sacred walls, could make itself to be heard in every corner of the land! Gladly would it instil into every ear, earnestly would it enforce on every conscience, the great duty of diffusing throughout the world the unsearchable riches of Christ.

But there is one description of persons, to whom, before every other, I would on this occasion desire access. As a Minister of the Gospel in the National Church, I would address myself particularly to my Fellow-Ministers in that Church; and would call on them, the Clergy of the Establishment, attentively to consider that portion of the High Commission in the Text, which in an especial manner devolves on them. I would say to them—Ye Ministers of Christ, and Stewards of the Mysteries of God, the Cause of Missions is to you a cause of peculiar interest; for it is the immediate Cause of the Heavenly Master whom ye serve, and in the extension and prosperity of whose Kingdom, you, above all other persons, are deeply and intimately connected. Called by His Providence to exercise your Ministry within the pale of a particular Church, to the welfare and edification of which you have bound yourselves personally to attend, you are, at the same time, Ministers also in His Universal Church, to the advancement of which you are equally bound, according to your means, to contribute. The exclusive application of your Ministerial Services to one specific department in the Household of Faith does not absolve you from the duty of extending the exercise of your care, your sympathies, and your benevolence, to the whole Family of God. The honour of your Divine Master, and the success of His Gospel, are the objects which, as His Servants, you profess to have deeply at heart: and, if you have these things really at heart, you cannot so totally concentrate your feelings in the single spot in which you are assigned to officiate, as to be indifferent to the progress of Christianity in other places, and to suppose that you are under no obligations to promote it beyond the sphere of your own immediate services. What should we think of the loyalty and attachment of an Ambassador, to the Monarch whom he represented, who, though he might be attentive to his own particular mission, should yet express no lively interest in the concerns of the kingdom to which he belonged — should manifest no anxiety with respect to its glory and prosperity—and, provided that the quarter in which his own engagements lay was not materially affected, should hear of the dismemberment of its provinces and the usurpation of its enemies, without betraying any symptoms of sorrow and regret, or taking any measures in his power to prevent and remedy these evils?

My Reverend Brethren, ye are Ambassadors for Christ. As such, you have a special office assigned to you. You are required to exercise in the Church of England, according to the Rules which it prescribes, and to which you yourselves have assented, the Ministry of Reconciliation.

But let me put it solemnly to your consciences, whether in this responsible character, bearing the Commission of Christ, and professing loyalty and attachment to his person and government, you can hear of the invasion of His territories and of the triumphs of His adversaries, without feeling in your bosoms a spirit of just indignation, and an ardent desire to avenge His Cause? Remember, then, that the Heathen are His inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth are His possession. They are His, by covenant, by purchase, and by conquest. Can you, then, with composure, see Him stript of the fairest fruits of His Victory? Can you see him despoiled of His legitimate rights, without feeling a desire, or making an effort to recover them?

It is your boast, that you have received Ordination, by the imposition of hands, from those who, by lineal succession from the Apostles of Christ, have an undisputed right to appoint you to your sacred office in His Church. It is in virtue of this Apostolic Ordination that you consider yourselves authorised to proclaim remission of sins; to baptize, in the Name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost; and to rely on the promise of Christ, that, for all the necessary purposes of your Ministry, He will be with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Thus far you appropriate to yourselves the Commission given to the Apostles. But was it not equally a part of this Commission, that they should teach ALL nations, and preach the Gospel in ALL the world, and to EVERY creature? While, then, you depend upon the promise, and feel yourselves bound by one part of the Commission, have you any power to dispense with the other part of it? Have you any Scriptural ground for supposing, that, bearing the Apostolical Commission, you are not bound, so far as circumstances may admit, equally by every part of it? It was the command of Christ to His Apostles, that they should preach His Gospel, and should preach it TO EVERY CREATURE. As Preachers of His Gospel, you now stand in the place of His Apostles. On what plea, then, can you claim exemption from the command? Circumstances, indeed, may prevent you from going into all the world; your personal labours in the Church may be necessarily limited to one particular part of it: but if the command of Christ be of any weight, the spirit of this injunction must doubtless be binding on you; and the sacred office, which you profess to hold from Him, constrains you, by the strongest and clearest obligations, to aid, BY EVERY PRACTICABLE MEANS IN YOUR POWER, the Preaching of His Gospel in all the world.

What then is YOUR Calling at the present crisis? In the special Commission delegated at this time to this Nation, to promote the Evangelization of the Heathen World, on whom does the great responsibility of this Commission in a peculiar manner devolve, but on you, the Ministers of the National Church? Bound at all times by your Apostolical Office to preach the Gospel to every creature, you are now most evidently called to take the lead in this great work. Much must depend on the part you take. YOU possess the means, which no other persons obviously possess, of rousing the public mind to a due consideration of its duties and its powers. It is chiefly by your example, your influence, and your instructions, that the Nation can be brought to see, to feel, and to execute the high Commission assigned to it. If you fail in this emergency; if you draw back; if you stand aloof; if you desert your post; if England, forsaken in the hour of trial by her LEGITIMATE AND APPOINTED GUARDIANS AND WATCHMEN, discharge not the duty imposed on her—how will you answer it, either to God, your Church, or your Country?—

Oh, then, quit you like men! Embrace and improve, with alacrity and thankfulness, the honourable post to which you are called. Fear not, lest, by throwing the whole weight of your character and influence into the Missionary Cause, you should injure the interests of your own particular Communion. Far otherwise will be the result. The more deeply you can impress the population of this country with a sympathetic feeling for the salvation of others, the more deeply will they learn to feel for their own salvation: and in proportion as the Church of England applies her energies for the spiritual benefit of the Heathen World, may she reasonably expect the blessing of the Almighty to rest on her own peculiar Establishment.

Such is the language in which, if I had access to the Ministers of our National Church, I would at this season address them.

To you, my Christian Brethren, who are here present, and who, as Members of that Church, are associated for the express purpose of furthering the Great Cause of which we have been speaking, I would, in conclusion, say a few words. While you are thus rendering, on behalf of our National Church, some portion, however inadequate, of that tribute of service in this Cause which the Lord requires of it, you are also, in the same proportion, fulfilling the High Commission delegated at this crisis to our country. Let these considerations encourage and animate your proceedings. Hitherto the blessing of God has most evidently attended your operations. Continue these operations, in the same spirit of piety, of prayer, and of humble dependence on Him, in which they have been so far conducted; and doubt not but that His blessing will still continue to follow them. Be not cast down at partial failures and occasional disappointments: they are intended as trials of your faith. In all your proceedings, keep steadily in view the will and glory of Christ. Bear especially in mind His direction to pray to the Lord of the Harvest, that HE will send forth Labourers into His Harvest. It is Christ alone who can provide the Missionaries: and when, in answer to your prayers, He has provided them, be not you backward in furnishing them, out of your abundance, with all necessary supplies for their important Mission. In this part of the work the Lord is especially pleased to accept and employ your services. He leaves it to you to train and educate His Servants at home. He leaves it to you to convey them to the distant fields of their labours abroad. He leaves it to you to feed and clothe them there, while labouring in His Cause. Here, then, let your love and obedience manifest themselves. Follow the Missionaries, whom you have been permitted to send forth, with your prayers, your sympathies, and your assistance. Withdraw not from them your bounty and your countenance, at the very time when they need them most. Having suffered so many privations for Christ's sake, let them not be exposed to needless trials and uncalled-for anxieties, through your neglect, or your parsimony, or any mistaken views of your duty. Be liberal in your Contributions to this first of Christian Works. In this way, at least, individually fulfil the Commission given in the Text. So far as your bounty can assist in promoting the successful progress of the Missionary, so far go with him in this errand and message of mercy—go with him into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature.

OF THE

COMMITTEE.

DELIVERED, IN SUBSTANCE, TO THE

ANNUAL MEETING,

HELD MAY 2, 1826.

AT FREEMASONS' HALL, GREAT QUEEN STREET.

REPORT,

THE Committee of the Church Missionary Society desire to commence their Report of the Proceedings of the Twenty-sixth Year with acknowledging the continued goodness of God. For more than a quarter of a century, the Society has made a gradual progress; and, in the opportunities which have, from time to time, opened for its exertions—in the number of persons who have gone, and are going forth, under its direction, into the Missionary Field—in the increasing funds which have been entrusted to its management—and in the steady advance which it is making in the affections of Christians, they recognise the hand of Him, "from whom all holy desires, all good counsels, and all just works do proceed;" and thankfully adore His condescension in employing them as the instruments of accomplishing His merciful purposes.

The arrangements respecting the Department of Secretary have at length been completed. The Rev. Thomas Bartlett's connection with the Society was undertaken for a limited period: the Committee, however, hoped that he might be prevailed on to continue his services; but parochial and domestic engagements prevented the fufilment of their wishes. The Rev. Thomas Woodrooffe has succeeded Mr. Bartlett; and, an arrangement having been made with some of the friends of the Society for their assistance in visiting the Associations, it is hoped that the services of Two Secretaries will be found sufficient.

FUNDS.

The Committee regard it as a subject of peculiar thankfulness to God, that, notwithstanding the distress which so generally prevailed throughout the Country, at the close of the last and at the beginning of the present year, they have still to announce an increase in the Funds.

EXERTIONS OF FRIENDS.

It affords the Committee real pleasure publicly to express their acknowledgments to various friends of the Society, who have most kindly rendered very important aid to its objects, in visiting the numerous Associations throughout the Country. Several of those friends, at considerable expense of time and labour, assisted the Secretaries in extensive journeys. Not only to these valuable friends, but likewise to the Officers of the respective Auxiliaries and Associations, and to various other Clergymen and Laymen, who have contributed to promote the interests of the Institution, the Committee, in the name of the Society, beg to offer their cordial thanks.

NEW ASSOCIATIONS.

During the year, New Associations have been formed—at Basingstoke, for North Hampshire; at Brixham, and at Plymouth, in Devonshire; at Chelmsford, for that town and West Essex; at Deddington, for North Oxfordshire; at Evesham and Bengeworth, in Worcestershire; at Glasgow, in Scotland; at Oxford; at Seaton, in Rutlandshire; at Waltham Abbey, in Essex; and at Westbury in Wiltshire.

A Branch Association has been organized at Montacute, in Somersetshire; and another at Yarmouth, in aid of the Norfolk.

Ladies' Associations have been formed—at Barnstaple, at Hertford, and at Hitchin.

The Association at Naas, in Ireland, has been re-organized, and will in future take the name of the County—Kildare.

LEGACIES.

Among the Legacies during the past year, the Committee rejoice to report one of 500*l.* from so distinguished a Prelate as the late Bishop of Durham. Though, in his life-time, his Lordship abstained from joining the Society, the fact of its having occupied his attention at a season when the most solemn subjects present themselves to the mind, and when the importance of such Institutions with reference to Eternity is most strongly felt, is a satisfactory evidence of his approval of the object and proceedings of the Society.

INCOME AND EXPENDITURE.

The gross receipts of the Twenty-sixth Year have amounted, without deducting Expenses and including the Contributions to the Institution at Islington, to more than FORTY-SIX THOUSAND POUNDS; giving an increase on the receipts of the year of upwards of 1000*l.* The Net Income, deducting expenses and the amount received on account of the Institution Building Fund, available for the General Purposes of the Society, has exceeded FORTY-TWO THOUSAND FIVE HUNDRED POUNDS; being an increase, on what is more appropriately the Income of the Society, of more than 2000*l.* The Expenditure of the Year has amounted to Forty-one Thousand Pounds.

MISSIONARIES.

During the year, it has pleased God again to call the Society to a severe trial of faith and patience, by the decease of Labourers. Since the last Anniversary, the Committee have received the mournful intelligence of the deaths of no less than Ten of its European Labourers; besides the retirement of several from the respective scenes of their labours, chiefly through sickness. The departures of those valued friends to their eternal rest, which the Committee have now the painful duty to report, occurred as follows:—Mrs. Metzger, of the West-Africa Mission, on the 14th of February—the Rev. Charles Knight, of the same Mission, on the 20th of March—Mrs. Joseph Knight, of the Ceylon Mission, on the 26th of April—Mrs. Coney, of the West-Africa Mission, on the 1st of May—the Rev. Henry Brooks, of the same Mission, three days afterwards—Mrs. Gerber, of the same Mission, on the 22d of the same month—the Rev. Gustavus Reinhold Nyländer, the Senior Missionary in the same Mission, on the following day—Mr. Christopher Taylor, of the same Mission, on the 31st of July, while on his passage to England—the Rev. Jacob Maisch, of the North-India Mission, on the 29th of August, at Calcutta—and Mrs. Joseph Bailey, of the Ceylon Mission, on the 23d of September, at Islington.

The arrival of the Rev. John Andrew Jetter and Mrs. Jetter from Calcutta was stated at p. 77 of the last Report. His health continuing in a precarious state in London, he proceeded, on the invitation of the Rev. Theophilus Blumhardt of the Bâsle Seminary, to that place, in October, for the benefit of his native air. By a Letter lately received from Mr. Jetter, it appears that his health is in an improving state. Mrs. Jetter is actively engaged in promoting Missionary Objects in Germany.

In the Note at p. 143 of the Report of last year, was likewise stated the arrival of the Rev. Joseph and Mrs. Bailey, of the Ceylon Mission. Lodgings were procured for them at Islington, where she was attended by Dr. John Mason Good, who very kindly renders his valuable assistance gratuitously to all the Society's Missionaries and Students, when in need of medical advice. She was released from her sufferings, after patiently waiting the will of God, on the 23d of September, as before mentioned. Mr. Bailey is on the point of returning to Ceylon*. The loss of his Wife, and his own ill health, so much affected Mr. Coney, that he determined on returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Pope, having suffered much from illness, sailed from Sierra Leone on the 16th of July, bringing with them the two Daughters of the late Mr. Nyländer. Mr. Taylor dying, as above stated, his Widow and her Companions landed at Plymouth on the 26th of August. Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Pope are much recovered. Mr. Nyländer's Children, have, by the kindness of the Rev. W. Carus Wilson, been admitted into the School for Clergymen's Daughters near Kirkby-Lonsdale.

Mr. William Hall, of New Zealand, was obliged, from severe indisposition to retire to New South-Wales, with his Wife and Family: there is but little prospect of his resuming his labours.

After the decease of Mr. Maisch, above reported, his Widow suffering considerably in her health, embarked at Calcutta for this Country, where she arrived on the 11th of April.

Mr. T. W. Smyth and Mrs. Smyth, who were connected with the North-India Mission, have withdrawn from the service of the Society: and Mr. James Coney, of the African Mission, having returned to England, from an apprehension of fatal consequences if he remained in Sierra Leone, the Committee have judged it inexpedient that he should return thither. The connection of Mr. and Mrs. Harbidge, of the North-West-America Mission, with the Society, has also been dissolved; and they have returned to this Country.

The health of the Rev. James Norman and of

* Mr. Bailey embarked for Ceylon on the 5th of May, on board the "Alexander," Capt. Richardson, and sailed from Gravesend the following day.

Mrs. Lisk is not sufficiently restored to allow of their resuming their labours at present.

The Rev. William Cockran, the Rev. John William Doran, and the Rev. William Williams, whose destinations were mentioned in the last Report, have proceeded to their respective scenes of labour. Mr. Doran sailed from Deal for Madras, on board the "Mulgrave Castle," Capt. Ralph, on the 31st of May; but that vessel being wrecked on the 3d of September, while entering Table Bay at the Cape of Good Hope, he was under the necessity of taking a passage in the "Cæsar," bound to Calcutta, from whence he proceeded to Madras. Mr. and Mrs. Cockran, with their infant Son, embarked at Gravesend, on the 4th of June, on board the Hudson's-Bay Company's Ship "Prince of Wales," Capt. Davidson; reached York Fort, Hudson's Bay, August the 15th; and arrived in safety at Red River, October the 4th.

Mr. Williams, with Mrs. Williams, and Mr. James Hamlin (a Flax Dresser) and his Wife, sailed from the Downs, for New South-Wales, in the "Sir George Osborne," Capt. Thompson, on the 15th of August.*

A considerable body of Labourers being about to depart to their respective Stations, the Committee considered it advisable to summon a General Meeting of the Members of the Society, for the purpose of dismissing them publicly to their labours. The Rev. Charles Jerram having preached a Sermon on the occasion, at Christ Church, Newgate Street, on the previous evening, the Meeting accordingly took place at Freemasons' Hall, on Friday the 11th of November, the Right Hon. Lord Gambier, the President, in the Chair; when the Instructions of the Committee were delivered to Seven English Clergymen, Five Lutheran Clergymen, Three Laymen, and Nine Females, making, with two Children, a total of Twenty-six persons.† All these Individuals, with the exception of the Rev. John Latham (appointed to North India) and Mrs. Pope, have proceeded to their destinations.

Mr. Henry Clarke Taylor and Mrs. Taylor, and

* See the Instructions &c. previous to their departure, in Appendix I.

† See Appendix II.

Mr. Thomas Jones and Mrs. Jones and their two Children, embarked at Blackwall, Nov. 29th, on board the "John Shand," Capt. Rees, and arrived at Jamaica on the 15th of January. Of the five Lutheran Clergymen and the German Printer, who were appointed to the Mediterranean Mission, the Rev. Samuel Gobat, the Rev. John Rudolph Theophilus Leider, and the Rev. Theodore Müller, left London on the 28th of November, to go by way of France and Switzerland. After some detention, partly in consequence of Mr. Müller's marriage with Miss Elizabeth Kupfer of Berne, and partly from Mr. Gobat's illness, they proceeded, with Mrs. Müller, to Marseilles, where they expected to embark on the 28th of February for Malta. The remainder of the party—the Rev. William Krusé and Mrs. Krusé, the Rev. Christian Kugler, and Mr. Augustus Koelner (the Printer)—embarked at Woolwich, on board the "Bramley," Capt. Briggs, Dec. 12th, and reached Malta Jan. 11th, after a remarkably quick passage. The Rev. William Keeling Betts and the Rev. Alfred Scholding, with their Wives, sailed from Gravesend on the 12th of January, in the "Edward," Capt. Germaine, for Sierra Leone:* intelligence of their arrival at that Colony has not yet been received. On the 30th of January, the Rev. James Selkirk, Mrs. Selkirk, and their Child, and the Rev. George Conybeare Trimnell and Mrs. Trimnell, embarked at Gravesend for Ceylon, on board the "Juliana," Capt. Innes: and on the 11th of March, the Rev. W. Mitchell and the Rev. John Steward, with Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Steward, embarked at Gravesend for Bombay, on board the "Columbine," Capt. Tuit.

The Lord Bishop of London has been pleased to admit several of the Society's Labourers to Holy Orders. On the 29th of May, the Rev. W. Cockran and the Rev. J. W. Doran were ordained Priests; and, on the same day, Deacon's Orders were conferred on Messrs. W. K. Betts, J. Latham, W. Mitchell,

* The Committee regret to state, that, since the Anniversary, information has been received of the death of Mrs. Betts, at Regent, within a few weeks after her arrival in the Colony.

J. Norman, Benjamin Pratt, A. Scholding, J. Selkirk, J. Steward, and G. C. Trimnell. These last, with the exception of Messrs. Norman and Pratt, were admitted by His Lordship to Priests' Orders, on the 19th of December; and Messrs. George Steers Faught, Leonard Strong, and William Yate, were, at the same time, ordained Deacons.

The Rev. Benjamin Pratt, just named, has been prevented from proceeding to his destination, in consequence of the serious illness of Mrs. Pratt.

MISSIONARY CANDIDATES.

In the course of the year, Sixty-eight Individuals have proposed themselves to the Committee for Missionary employment. Twenty-five of this number have been declined, Three have withdrawn their applications, and Twenty-one remain under consideration: the remaining Nineteen have been received, besides Four of those on whose admission the Committee had not decided at the period of the last Anniversary. The whole number of persons, therefore, whose offers of service have been accepted, is Twenty-three: some of these are already gone forth to their work among the Heathen; but the majority are either under probationary studies, or in preparation for actual service, in the Society's

INSTITUTION AT ISLINGTON.

The nomination of the Rev. John Norman Pearson as Principal of the Institution was stated in the last Report. The Rev. John Ayre has been appointed Classical Tutor.

In the course of the year, Thirty-seven Individuals have resided in the Institution; and there have been Five non-resident Students, who attended with the others for instruction; making the total number that have, more or less, participated in the advantages of the Society's Seminary, Forty-two. The Institution opened in January 1825 with Twelve Students: at the time of the last Anniversary there were Twenty: and at present there are, with Two Non-residents, Nineteen: Eleven of these, including Three English Clergymen, are in actual preparation for their work, and Eight are pursuing probationary studies. The whole number of persons who have quitted the Institution in the year is Twenty-three, of whom Sixteen are gone to their respective Stations in the Heathen World: the services of Four have been declined, and Two withdrew: the remaining one—Mr. B. Pratt—remains in suspense, as stated above. Of those who have departed for foreign service, Seven were English Clergymen in full Orders, Five were Lutheran Ministers, and Four were Laymen.

An Examination of the Oriental Classes of the Students took place, under the direction of the Rev. Professor Lee, on Wednesday the 26th of October, before the Committee of Visitors. There were two Classes in Hebrew, two in Arabic, one in Ethiopic, and one in Sanscrit. The result of the Examination was highly satisfactory.

The Committee of the LANGUAGE INSTITUTION have kindly allowed the Society's Students gratuitously to attend the Lectures delivered at their House.

The Committee have increasingly felt the value and importance of the Institution at Islington; and are about to enlarge the Buildings, so as to provide for the reception of Fifty Students, as was originally contemplated. As the plan has now been tried, and found to be efficient, they trust that the Friends of the Society will regard this circumstance as an additional motive for contributing to this object.

INDIA-FEMALE EDUCATION FUND.

This branch of the Society's operations in the East continues to claim the liberal support of the friends of the Society. About 400*l.* have been contributed, in aid of this object, during the present year, including various sums which have been raised by sales of Ladies' useful and ornamental work, in different parts of the Country. For all these marks of the interest felt in the welfare of the Native Females of India, the Committee desire to express their thanks. Nor are they less sensible of the kindness of those friends, who have, from time to time, forwarded packages of fancy and useful articles for the Native Girls' Schools in India; to the value of which highly acceptable Donations, Mrs. Wilson, of Calcutta, bears frequent testimony.* Many pleasing opportunities of rewarding industry and attention in the scholars are hereby furnished; and such articles, as are unsuitable for that purpose, serve as means of raising funds to some extent, by sale in India.

To the BRITISH LADIES' CHURCH MISSIONARY MATERNAL SOCIETY the Committee are likewise under many obligations. Numerous Benefactions in Clothing have been received at the Society's House, which have been sent, as opportunities offered, to Sierra Leone and Antigua. Those Ladies, whose liberality and philanthropy have been thus exerted, will rejoice to know that their benevolence has materially contributed to the comfort, both of the Enslaved Negro in the West Indies, and of the Liberated African in Sierra Leone; and has called into lively exercise feelings of gratitude, that would do honour to the most civilized of our race.†

MISSIONS.

WEST-AFRICA MISSION.

IN the last year, an accession has been made to our Territory in Western Africa, which, whatever be its political and commercial bearings, is most important, as it circumscribes the ravages of the iniquitous Slave Trade, and as it presents additional scope for Missionary Exertions.

Some Tribes of the Cosso Nation have, for several years, waged a cruel and destructive war on the inhabitants of the Countries which adjoin the Colony of Sierra Leone; and the wretched victims who have fallen into their hands have been either murdered or sold into Slavery. The Sherbro Bulloms, roused by a sense of impending danger, sought protection; and, in order to secure it, ceded, by a Treaty executed in October last, the whole of their Territory to the British Crown; the Governor guaranteeing to them the undisturbed possession of their private property.

On this transaction, the Sierra-Leone Gazette of the 15th of October observes—

How pleasing and delightful is it for the friends of humanity to know, that, by the decisive measures which His Excellency Major-General Turner has happily taken, the abominable traffic in human victims, of which we have so long complained, has, at one blow, been completely destroyed! The Slave-Trade of the coast between this Colony and the Gallinas is for ever annihilated. We may fairly compute that from 15,000 to 20,000 wretched beings were annually exported from the Territory lately acquired: it was to support this horrible trade, that the surrounding Nations were constantly engaged in sanguinary wars, which have nearly depopulated the once rich and fertile countries of the Sherbro. Under the protection and care of this Government, these Countries will speedily be restored; while the wretched inhabitants will be raised to a state of happiness, of which, at present, they have little idea: no longer dreading the horrors of Slavery or the destruction of the spoiler, they may walk abroad, in full security of reaping the fruits of their labour. This will excite their industry; and, joined with the encouragement afforded by British Law and Power, will quickly raise them from the degradation and misery under which they are now suffering. We ardently hope, that the blessed lights of Religion and Civilization may now shortly dawn in a land, which has hitherto been wrapt in the darkest ignorance and superstition.

A post has thus been wrested from the dominion of the Prince of Darkness; a station has been gained, on which the Standard of the Cross may be planted, and the miserable victims of Satanical delusion and cruelty invited to come to it. Let Christians rise to the call, and thankfully occupy the field which is before them: and we doubt not but the Spirit of God will own and bless the efforts which He excites them to make, and will, by their instrumentality, make known to these benighted people the consolations and hopes of His Gospel.

This cession has been followed by another. The proprietors of the Bacca-Loco Territories, finding their trade and possessions insecure, have placed themselves under the protection of British Authority, on the same conditions as the Sherbro Bulloms.

The Committee regret to state, that Major-General Sir Charles Turner has fallen a victim to his exertions in the Cause of Humanity. It appears from his Despatches of the 2d of March, that the great Slave Dealers who had retired from the Sherbro and Shebar on signing the Convention prohibiting the exportation of Slaves, had, in conjunction with those of the Gallinas, come to the resolution of re-establishing the Slave Trade by force, even in the districts where it had been voluntarily given up by the Native Chiefs. Sir Charles Turner's exertions, in subduing the insurgents, were followed by fever, which proved fatal.

On this event the Council remark——that they cannot adequately express their opinion of the severe loss which the Colony has sustained on this mournful occasion. His Excellency's endeavours to destroy the Slave Trade in the vicinity of this Colony, to give peace and security to the surrounding Countries, and to extend the power and resources of the Colony, have been unremitting; and have been pursued with that energy and steadiness of character, which so peculiarly belonged to His Excellency, and which led him to fulfil the trust reposed in him, without any regard to his personal health and safety.

COLONY OF SIERRA LEONE.

The past year has been one of considerable trial. The arrival, at the Colony, of Seven Labourers was noticed in the last Report; and the Committee have the painful duty of stating, that an equal number has been removed by death, while the Society has been deprived, for a time, of the services of Three others, who have returned home.

It is obvious, from the losses which this Mission has sustained, that the want of Labourers, which was noticed in the Report of last year, has increased, instead of diminished. Deeply impressed with the necessities of the Mission, the Committee would urge on the Friends of the Society the imperative duty of earnest and increased prayer on its behalf; assured, that, if this subject be unceasingly brought before the Throne of Grace, the prayer of faith will prevail; and that the Lord of the Harvest will send forth Labourers into those fields which present such a prospect of spiritual abundance.

The Committee regret that no offers of service, for a limited period, have been made within the last year; but they would still entertain the hope, that some of those, who are interested in the spiritual welfare of our fellow-subjects in Western Africa, will be induced to come forward for the relief of their urgent wants.

The number of valuable lives, which have been lost in this Mission, induced the Committee to seek for such information, as might enable them to ascertain the causes which led to these effects, and to adopt precautionary measures for the future. A Medical Committee, composed of Dr. Chambers, Dr. Good, Dr. Weir, John Pearson, Esq. and G. G. Babington, Esq. have investigated the subject with much attention; and, it is to be hoped, that, by the blessing of God accompanying a wise adherence to the suggestions which they have offered, the Society's Labourers in Western Africa will be, in a great measure, preserved from the diseases which have hitherto so lamentably prevailed amongst them.

The Medical Committee, having recommended the adoption of a Precautionary System, conclude their Report with these observations—

Such is the plan of Regulations, which, within the last four years, has been introduced into a part of His Majesty's Colonies in the West Indies, and especially into the islands of Barbadoes, Tobago, and Antigua. The Official Reports from these quarters, to the Director-General of the Army Medical Board, are full of proofs to this effect: and they are permitted to transcribe the following, as a single example, from the Report of Mr. Tegart for 1823, an enlightened Inspector of Hospitals at Barbadoes:—"The loss in that year"—alluding to 1822, in which the plan commenced—"was so comparatively small with former ones, that I hardly hoped to send so favourable a one again. This return, however, exceeds greatly any hopes I could have anticipated; being not one half the average amount of the preceding six years, and not a sixth part of the yearly loss sustained in the fourteen years antecedent to these!"

There is hence great reason to hope, that the adoption of a similar plan of Sanitary Regulations on the Western Coast of Africa may be attended with somewhat similar benefit; and that the Church Missionary Society may have the heartfelt gratification of beholding its great and unwearied work of faith and labour of love permitted to continue, and even go on to perfection, without being associated with the distressing train of calamities with which it has so long had to contend.

Freetown.

The Rev. John Raban continues to discharge the Ministerial Duties of this Station; but the protracted illness of Mrs. Pope compelled her, though with reluctance, to return home, as has been already stated, for the benefit of her health. The losses at various Stations, which have been noticed, rendered it necessary that Mr. Weeks should remove from Freetown to Regent; and, in consequence of this arrangement, the care of the Schools has entirely devolved on Mr. and Mrs. Fox.

In his Report for the Quarter ending at Lady-Day, Mr. Raban states, that Divine Service had been regularly performed on Sundays, at the Court Room in the Morning; and at a place called the Camp, or Gibraltar Town, in the Evening. The attendance, in both cases, had been small; owing, as it respects the Court Room, partly to the inconvenience of the place, and partly to the removal of a Detachment of the 2d West-India Regiment; and, as it respects the Camp, to the want of a suitable building, the former one having been destroyed by fire. There is also a Service at the latter place on Wednesday Evenings.

At Midsummer, Mr. Raban reports—

I am happy to add, that the attendance of the European Inhabitants at Freetown has increased during the quarter; though there has lately been some diminution, owing, probably, to the commencement of the rainy season. Circumstances have almost entirely prevented my attendance at the Camp, on the week-day, this Quarter. Only a small number, however, are present on this occasion, owing to some of the people having changed their residence, and their being consequently employed in completing their habitations. The attendance on the Sunday Evening is tolerably good; and a great desire to obtain instruction appears to prevail among the people. Their conduct, also, I have reason to believe, is in general, agreeable to their profession.

His Report at the Michaelmas Quarter is not so favourable. The attendance on the Sunday Morning, which he had before noticed as improving, had considerably declined; which was, in some degree, to be accounted for by the heavy rains which had fallen. The number of Communicants had also declined. The average of these was only seven: but this, out of a Congregation seldom exceeding 70 (including the prisoners), is perhaps as many as could be expected.

In the Quarter ending at Christmas last, Mr. Raban reports, that there has been a considerable addition to the Congregation, by the attendance of the soldiers of the Royal-African Corps; who, to the number of 150, are thus regularly brought under the means of Grace. The Congregation now amounts to more than 200, and the room is nearly filled.

Of the Congregation at Gibraltar Town, Mr. Raban writes—

I am happy that I can still speak favourably. Their attendance is somewhat variable, but, in general, very good; and, what is more, there appears much seriousness in their devotions, as well as a desire to profit by what they hear. Some few, I regret to say, have not altogether walked according to their profession; but, with one exception, satisfactory tokens of repentance have appeared in them; and they are, at present, in communion with the Church. The average number of Communicants, during this Quarter, has been 10.

Amidst his discouragements, Mr. Raban adds—

I must not pass over in total silence those few circumstances of an encouraging nature, which have tended to administer comfort under these trials. A young African has been received as a Communicant at the Lord's Table, of whose spiritual state there is reason to judge favourably; and three Adults, also of the Negro Population, have been baptized, with the pleasing hope that they were desirous of giving up themselves to God in that holy Ordinance. The Service, at Gibraltar Town, on Sunday Evening, has been regularly kept, as before; and the number of those who attend, is, on the whole, increasing. I have also (he concludes) met the small Congregation assembling there on Wednesday Evening, as often as circumstances would allow; and have been much encouraged by the devotional behaviour of the people, in both these Services, and by their evident desire for instruction.

The Returns of the Girls' School are imperfect; but the average attendance appears to have been from 50 to 80. In the Christmas Quarter, there were 122 on the Books, with an average attendance of 72. The Returns of the Boys' School are, at Lady-Day, 311; at Midsummer, 332; at Michaelmas, 263: but the attendance has not equalled half of these numbers, having been, respectively, in the Quarters just mentioned, 123, 124, 109. At Christmas, 23 new Scholars had been admitted, which, deducting 16 who had left the Schools, made a total of 270; of which 131 had on an average attended. Of the Adult School no perfect Return has been received; but the number of those who usually attend, appears not to have exceeded from 10 to 15. This may, perhaps, be chiefly attributed to the alteration in the hours of work, from 4 to 6 o'clock. At Christmas, only 7 had attended.

An Examination (principally of the first two Classes in the Boys' and Girls' Schools) was held in the beginning of November; the result of which was, on the whole, creditable to the Scholars, as well as to those who have the care of them. The Acting Chief Justice had visited the Schools; and was so pleased with what he saw of their state, that he expressed an intention of making several presents to the Children.

Mr. Raban, in the Report of the Mission which he has drawn up at the request of his Associates, gives the following view of the spiritual concerns of Freetown:—

It is known to some who are likely to see this Report, that, owing to the neglected state in which the people had unavoidably been left for some time previous to the year 1825, and to other unfavourable circumstances, the exercise of the Ministry among the European part of them has been attended with peculiar difficulties. That these difficulties have been felt, it were in vain to deny: it is considered, however, a cause of gratitude, that, though found to be painful, they have never been suffered to become overwhelming; and that the prospect is somewhat more encouraging now, than at the commencement of the year.

The attendance on Sunday Mornings, in the early part of this period, may be stated at 120 on an average. This number will naturally be thought very small, in comparison with the population, which, four years ago, amounted to about 5600: yet the number present during the rainy season was still smaller. The Congregation has, however, been increased since that time, by the regular attendance of the Military; and, for the last two months, it has exceeded 200.

It must be matter of lamentation to all who know the value of Public Worship, that a suitable place has not been prepared for this purpose, capable of accommodating a number somewhat more answerable to the increasing population of the Parish. Till this be done, it seems in vain to expect that the Europeans will attend in any considerable number.

So far as opportunity has been afforded for the exercise of the Ministry among the Coloured Population, a more pleasing state of things has presented itself. Circumstances have, as yet, confined the numbers who attend, within narrow bounds. The Congregation has, in fact, seldom exceeded 50: but their deportment, while engaged in Public Worship, has, on the whole, been serious and devout; and the attention of the greater part to the Word delivered has apparently indicated an eager appetite for the Bread of Life, and a real concern to profit by the Means of Grace. Some inconsistencies have occurred in the conduct of a few of the Communicants; but, generally speaking, their steadiness and consistency of behaviour are such as to give satisfactory evidence that they have felt the power of the Gospel.

Several cases of Adult Baptism have occurred during the year, in which the gratifying hope was entertained, that the individuals admitted to that holy ordinance received it in obedience to the command of Christ, and with a desire to devote themselves to His service. Some of them were connected with other bodies of Christians.

Kissey.

The indifferent state of Mr. Nyländer's health was mentioned in the last Report: it seems to have gradually declined, till, on the 23d of May, he fell asleep in Jesus. The Committee cannot notice the loss which the Society has sustained, without bearing testimony to the fidelity of one, who, for nearly twenty years, was actively and usefully employed, under their superintendence, in the service of his Saviour.

After Mr. Nyländer's death, the Ministerial concerns of this Station were, as a temporary measure, placed under the charge of the Rev. G. W. E. Metzger: and the Rev. Alfred Scholding, whose departure to Sierra Leone, in January last, has been already noticed, was to be appointed to succeed Mr. Nyländer.

In consequence of the removal of Mr. and Mrs. Coney from Kissey to Regent, the transfer of Mr. Lisk's services to Gloucester having been rendered necessary by the death of the Rev. Charles Knight, William Tamba was appointed to succeed them at Kissey; but, having felt the superintendency at Gloucester, in addition to his other duties, too much for him, he declined to accede to this arrangement, though assured that he should not be burdened with the office which he wished to avoid. This refusal rendered it necessary to suspend, for a time, his connection with the Mission; and David Noah was placed over the Schools at Kissey.

Mr. Metzger goes regularly once on the Sunday to preach the Word, and administer the Sacraments. About 200 persons attend Divine Service; and the general number of Communicants is 19, besides the Schoolmaster and his Wife.

The Returns of the School are as follows:—

	Lady Day.	Midsummer.	Michaelmas.	Christmas.
Boys . .	105	68	75	78
Girls . .	80	53	62	54

It is pleasing to observe the state of David Noah's mind, after the loss of his Wife, as it appears in his account of this Station at Michaelmas:—

It has pleased God to lay His afflicting hand upon me, by removing my Partner by death: it has been, indeed, a great trial to me, and also very painful to the flesh. But though He cause grief, yet will He have compassion according to the multitude of His mercies: for He doth not afflict willingly, nor grieve the children of men. He has wonderfully supported me under my present trials and difficulties: I have found Him, indeed, to be a very present help in trouble. A few weeks after my heavy trial, I was appointed by the Committee to the Settlement of Kissey, as a Native Teacher; and consequently I was obliged to move from Regent. This was another trial for me to encounter: however, I still lie passive in the hands of my Heavenly Father, and know no will but His.

By the Report it appears, that the average number of persons attending Divine Service, is, on Sundays 380, and 190 on Week-days: the number of Communicants is 30.

Some judgment may be formed of the habits of the people, from the quantity of surplus produce which has been raised at this Settlement, and sold to His Majesty's Government, within the year.

Wellington.

The Committee, as has already been stated, have to regret the loss of one of their Labourers at this Station—Mrs. Metzger. She died in child-bed on the 14th of February.

William Neville, a Native Teacher, has the charge of the Male Schools: while that of the Girls is under the care of Mrs. Macfoy, who is paid by Government; and from whom, and her Husband, the Superintendant, Mr. Metzger, derives much assistance.

While Mr. Metzger has been subjected to a severe domestic trial, God has graciously given him much and increasing encouragement in his Ministerial Labours. The various Services on the Sunday, and during the week, are uniformly well attended; and there is evidently an increasing desire among the inhabitants for religious instruction. The Report states that 350 attend on Sundays, and 250 on Week-days. The number both of Communicants and Scholars, it appears, progressively increases. At Lady-Day, there were 40 Communicants; at Midsummer, 44; at Michaelmas, 79; and at Christmas, 103.

The Returns of the Schools are—

	Lady-Day.	Midsummer.	Michaelmas.	Christmas.
Boys . .	47	55	58
Girls . .	58	68	80	78
Adults . .	46	29

The total number of Males under instruction at Christmas last was 96.

The inhabitants of this Settlement manifest some pleasing symptoms of a desire after spiritual things. The parents are anxious to have their children instructed; there appears a general hunger after the Word of God; and the Communicants are regular in coming to the Lord's Table. The latter give evidence of their piety, in their private Prayer-Meetings on Sundays and Week-days, their attention to the sick, and their readiness in contributing to the Society.

Mr. Metzger speaks favourably of the industrious habits of the people; a circumstance which might naturally be expected, in connection with their desire for instruction. In proportion as the mind is rightly informed on the value of spiritual things, and genuine Religion influences the heart, it will produce, in the conduct of the individual, the most beneficial results to society. The surplus produce which has been brought to market, during the year, is—

Waterloo.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilhelm continue to labour at this Station. Mr. John Pierce, whose appointment was noticed in the last Report, has been removed to Charlotte, to take charge of the Schools there. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilhelm and Mr. Pierce have suffered from sickness.

Of the state of his health at Michaelmas, Mr. Wilhelm writes—

> There has never been with me a season of greater bodily weakness and decay of nature than that of the Quarter now ended; nevertheless, as my day, so was my strength. I was enabled to attend to the cultivation of the souls of the people, though not so to their Farms.

The Ministry of the Word has been very little attended to, and Mr. Wilhelm complains of the indifference to the means of Grace which prevails. The Communicants at Lady-Day were from 16 to 20.

One of the Native Assistants has been removed from his situation, for neglecting his duty, and introducing superstitious practices among his Scholars: and Henry Steady, a discharged soldier, has been appointed to succeed him; whose attention to the Boys under his care, since his appointment, has been noticed by Mr. Wilhelm.

Mr. Wilhelm reports, that there has been a considerable decline in the Boys' School, which he very much attributes to the negligence of the Native Teachers, in the interval between the removal of Mr. Lisk to Regent and the arrival of Mr. Pierce. There has been a progressive improvement in the Girls' School, under Mrs. Wilhelm's superintendence. No Returns of the Schools have been received for the Lady-Day Quarter; but at Midsummer, the number of Boys was 66, and of Girls 82; and at Michaelmas, of the former 72, and of the latter 85. At Christmas, the number of Boys in the School was 88, and in the Girls' 81. Twenty-six of the elder Boys have been apprenticed; six of the Girls were married; three had died; and four had been received into the School. The Boys being now employed on the Farms half the day, the School is opened for them in the evening; but very few of the Mechanics attend. The children have not been so regular since their parents have not received food and clothing for them from Government.

The surplus produce, during the year, was 8300 bushels of Cassada, which, at 9*d.*, amounts to 311*l.* 5*s.*

Kent.

Mr. Beckley continues to have charge of Kent. The Boys' School has increased in numbers; but that of the Girls has diminished.

The Returns are as follows:—

	Lady-Day.	Midsummer.	Michaelmas.	Christmas.
Boys . .	134	133	128	150
Girls . .	50	48	54	51

Their progress is, on the whole, encouraging. The Schools had been visited by some Naval Officers, previous to the Midsummer Report; the senior of whom expressed himself pleased with the Bible Class, which is composed solely of small Girls, re-captured since November 1822.

Mr. Beckley reports in June, that the Church has been as well attended, at Morning and Evening Service, as he could expect at that season of the year, when the people are principally employed in making their Farms; and the Members of the Church continue to walk worthy of their profession.

At Michaelmas he writes—

The Church is attended, in the Morning, by a great number of the inhabitants; but not so well in the Evening. The number on Sundays is 375; and on week-days 240. The number of Communicants is two less than that stated in the last Report; that number having been suspended for improper conduct.

At Christmas, the Church Meeting on Saturday Evening had been attended, as before, by the Communicants.

Mr. Beckley reports favourably of the attention evinced by the people to the Ministry of the Word, and of the disposition of the Children to receive instruction. He also bears testimony to the consistent conduct of those who profess to be Christians.

The spirit of industry is increasing among the people; as appears from their having been actively employed in making roads, and clearing ground for the purpose of cultivation. On this subject Mr. Beckley writes at Christmas—

The Settlement at large, I am happy to say, is improving; agriculture prospering; and the people remarkably contented and quiet.

The produce raised during the year, and disposed of, after supplying the wants of the population, is as follows:—

Bananas.

It was stated in the last Report, that Mr. and Mrs. Gerber were about to remove from Bathurst to this Station, which would enable him occasionally to visit the Plantains, York, and Kent. They came to the Bananas in the month of April; and, shortly afterwards, on the 23d of May, God was pleased to remove Mrs. Gerber, after a short illness, from a scene of labour to one of rest. She was favoured with a comfortable hope in her last moments, and took leave of her Husband with these consolatory words: "Whether we live, we live unto the Lord; or whether we die, we die unto the Lord: whether we live therefore, or whether we die, we are the Lord's. The Lord cares for you." Mr. Gerber himself had suffered from sickness.

In the Michaelmas Report, he complains that the people had not attended Divine Service so regularly as during the preceding Quarter. The average is 100 on Sundays, and 76 on week-days. The attendance of the Sherbros, who form but a small part of the population, could not, from their ignorance of the English Language, be expected.

The number of Boys in the School is 50. They are such as have run away from the various Schools in the Colony, and were afterwards sent to this Station. They are employed, during the day, in the cultivation of rice for their own use; and in the evening attend school. These circumstances, together with the character of the scholars, will account for their backwardness, of which Mr. Gerber complains.

At Christmas, the number of Boys in the school continued the same; but they had made no improvement, having, in consequence of their being employed at work, attended only two hours in the day—from 6 to 7 in the morning, and from 7 to 8 in the evening.

York.

Since Mr. Gerber has taken up his residence at the Bananas, he has visited this Station about once a-week during the Quarter ending at Christmas.

He has been greatly encouraged in his labours, by the desire which the people evince for the means of Grace. Many Adults have applied for Baptism; of whom, three women have been admitted, and three others received on trial.

There were, at Michaelmas, 63 Boys in the School, which is conducted by a Native Teacher paid by Government. Only 6 of them could read in the New Testament; the rest having been sent to the Station, from a Slave Vessel, only a few months before. At Christmas, there were in the Boys' School 73, and in the Girls' 14; but both Schools were suffering for want of efficient Teachers.

Mr. Gerber reports well of the state of cultivation, and expresses his earnest desire of beholding a spiritual harvest. May his desire be granted, and his labours abundantly prospered!

Charlotte.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, mentioned in the last Report as having the care of this Station, were compelled, by ill health, to return home. Mr. Taylor, as has been already stated, died on his passage, about a fortnight after his embarkation; and in him the Society has lost a faithful and valuable Labourer. Since his death, Mr. Davey has been appointed to visit this Station; and the Boys' School placed under the management of Mr. Pierce. Charles Moore, whom Mr. Taylor regarded as a lad of considerable promise, assists Mr. Pierce in the care of the Schools.

At Lady-Day, Divine Service had been regularly performed; but the Congregations had fluctuated; the Service being sometimes well, and at others but thinly, attended. In reference to this, Mr. Taylor says—

I trust the work in His hands to whom it belongs. I can but sow the seed, which I endeavour to do to the utmost of my poor ability, hoping the time is not far distant when the Almighty will shew the lighting down of His arm, and then the desert shall rejoice and blossom as the rose.

The number of Communicants was no more than 5.

The multiplied calls of duty prevented Mr. Taylor from paying that degree of attention to the Schools, which he wished. The Returns for Lady-Day and Midsummer were—Boys 117, Girls 93, Adults 44. At Michaelmas, Mr. Davey reported the numbers in the Day School to be 87, and in the Evening School 32. The Church was making but little progress.

At Christmas, Mr. Davey stated that 50 Boys had been received from a Slave Vessel during the Quarter; but more than ten had died, and several had run away from the Settlement. At that date, the numbers in the Boys' Day School were 78, Evening School, 28—Total 106.

The quantity of produce sold to Government was—

Cocoa, 8234 bush. at 1*s.* . .	411	14	0
Cassada, 5756 bush. at 9*d.* . .	215	17	0

Leopold.

Mr. and Mrs. Davey were still diligently employed at this Station; which, having been united to Bathurst, has opened to them a larger field of usefulness.

The Church Services have been regularly kept, and were well attended, till the example of the Bathurst People, after its union with Leopold, had a bad effect on the inhabitants. At Michaelmas, however, the Congregations had improved; and the Church, with the exception of two or three wet Sundays, was generally full. It appears, from the last accounts, that the regard which the people manifest for the means of Grace is encouraging; and, while the parents are ready to send their children to be instructed, the children are desirous of availing themselves of the advantages afforded them. The number of Communicants is small; but they adorn their profession, by humility, meekness, and sobriety.

The following are the Returns of the Schools:—

	Lady-Day.	Midsummer.	Michaelmas.	Christmas.
Boys	145	118	130	105
Girls	103	112	143	142
Adults	15

In addition to these numbers, there were, at that date, 23 Boys and 21 Girls in the Hospital.

Much sickness had prevailed among the Scholars; 17 of whom had died, and 30 were, in the beginning of June, in the Hospital. In consequence of the prevalence of disease, little progress had been made. Mr. Davey had suffered much from indisposition.

On the subject of the recent heavy privations, Mr. Davey thus expresses his feelings—

We have witnessed the fall of one faithful Labourer after another; and amongst the many, we have had to number the oldest Missionary in the service of the Society, whose labours in Western Africa cannot easily be forgotten. In them, he being dead, yet speaketh. Added to the many losses by death, we have to lament the temporary removal to Europe of three useful Labourers, on account of ill health; and the departure of another, who had only just put his hand to the plough. Those, who remain, have their hands filled with work, and their hearts with sorrow; yet would we bow with submission, and say, It is the Lord; let Him do what seemeth Him good.

Bathurst.

Mr. Gerber's removal from this Station, and its union with Leopold, under the superintendence of Mr. Davey, have been already noticed.

At the time of Mr. Gerber's leaving, there were in the Schools, 43 Boys, and 23 Girls. William Neville, a Native Youth, had assisted in the management of the Boys' School.

The Communicants had diminished from 19 to 16. The Congregations had latterly somewhat improved, and the people were becoming more quiet and industrious.

Regent.

They, who have been accustomed to read the gratifying accounts of Regent, and to rejoice at the large measure of the Divine Blessing which accompanied the late Mr. Johnson's labours, will regard this Station with deep and melancholy interest.

Since the Spring of 1823, Regent has, with very little intermission, been destitute of the stated labours of a resident Minister;—a fact, independently of other causes, amply sufficient to account for the diminution in the attendance on the means of Grace, which has taken place since Mr. Johnson's death.

In the last Report, the Committee expressed their hope, that Mr. Brooks, who had recently been appointed to this Station, would be the honoured instrument of re-uniting the scattered members of Mr. Johnson's Congregation, and of cherishing that spirit of religion which had been so powerfully exhibited under the Ministry of his predecessor. But it pleased Him, whose thoughts are not as our thoughts, and who giveth not account of any of His matters, to order otherwise, and to try the faith and patient submission of His people, by calling to Himself our devoted Labourer, three months after he had entered on his Ministerial Duties. The loss is ours; the gain his: his warfare was soon accomplished, and his crown conferred, without a lengthened experience of the burden and heat of the day.

In consequence of this afflictive dispensation, new arrangements were necessary for the supply of the Station. Mr. Lisk, who had the charge of it at the time of the last Report, had been subsequently removed to Gloucester, to supply the loss sustained by Mr. Knight's decease: Mr. Weeks was, therefore, appointed to superintend the spiritual concerns of the Settlement. The Rev. William K. Betts, whose departure for Sierra Leone has been already mentioned, has been appointed to this Station. May he long be spared to labour among its inhabitants!

At Lady-Day, the late Mr. Brooks reported, that of a population of 1100, 250 usually attended Divine Service; and this appears, by the latest accounts, to continue to be the average number. Those who attend on week-days do not exceed 76. Mr. Brooks remarked, that, while the greater part of the inhabitants were exceedingly ignorant, and sadly negligent of the means of Grace, a better behaved Congregation, than that of Regent, was rarely to be met with; and it is pleasing to learn, from subsequent accounts, that the people, in general, come to hear with a degree of solemnity, and pay great attention to the responses and singing. The Communicants, about 160 in number, seem desirous to walk worthy of their profession; and some of them have given affecting statements of their inward grief, under a sense of remaining depravity.

There is a readiness on the part of the parents to send their children to be instructed, and a corresponding disposition in the children to receive instruction. In the Boys' School, there were, at Lady-Day, 98 resident, and about 40 more belonging to the Town, who daily attended. In the Girls' School, there were only 8 who were about to be transferred to that at Leopold. The very small number in the Girls' School is partly to be accounted for, by the circumstance of 19 having been sent to the Bananas, and 3 having married. 14 Adults attended the Evening School.

Since Mr. Weeks' removal to this Station, he has been afflicted with illness during the greater part of the time, and, consequently, little progress has been made in the Schools under his care. The number of Boys under instruction was, at Michaelmas, 127; and of attendants at Church, 230. At Christmas, the number of Boys had, from sickness and other circumstances, declined to 52; which, with 51 living with their parents, give a total of 103.

The Christian Institution.

On Mr. Brooks's arrival at Regent, the Institution was quite deserted; and the Youths, who had resided in it, scattered in different places. He collected them together, and found them exceedingly backward; and immediately commenced the following judicious plan of education.

After Morning Prayer, they work in their gardens till half-past-seven. At eight, they breakfast. From nine till ten, they prepare their lessons for the Morning School. At ten, I enter the School: we sing a Hymn, and I pray for the blessing of God: they then read in the New Testament for half-an-hour; and then spell the words; when I explain to them the meaning of every word which they do not understand, which is no trifling task: they then write for three-quarters-of-an-hour; and at twelve, we close. At two o'clock we meet again; and begin with prayer, and then read for half-an-hour in the Old Testament: they then repeat to me a lesson of Grammar which I had set them; and afterward read an Essay out of Blair's Class Book, which they begin to do tolerably well: this, with the spelling and explanation of the difficult words, occupies the time till four o'clock, when we sing a hymn, and close with prayer. One day they cipher in the afternoon; on another, they repeat their Grammar. At five, they sup; at six, go to Church; at seven, assist for one hour as Teachers in the Evening School.

At Lady-Day, there were only four resident in the Institution School. Mr. Weeks, in his Report at Midsummer, speaks favourably of their readiness to receive instruction. The tone of piety, which pervades their Letters, evidences the benefits which they have already derived from instruction; and leads the Committee to anticipate the happiest results from such an Establishment, when conducted under more favourable circumstances.

Gloucester.

The Committee enter on an account of this Station also with painful feelings. The death of the Rev. Charles Knight, within a few weeks after he had entered on its Duties, was mentioned in a Note to the last Report; and thus this place, to which the Gospel of Jesus Christ had come with power, was, like Regent, deprived, by the mysterious appointment of God, of the services of one who bid fair, by the grace of God, to walk in the steps of the lamented Mr. Düring. Mr. Knight's zeal, so far as it is allowable to speak of second causes, seems to have stimulated him to over-exertion, and thus to have led to that disease which carried him off within so short a period after the commencement of his Labours. Four Services on the Sunday, in a far less relaxing climate than that of Western Africa, require great strength of constitution; but few Europeans, it is apprehended, whatever be their strength, can be equal to such exertion, under the debilitating and exhausting influence of a tropical sun. The Committee would not, in the least degree, discourage those, who are engaged in such an honourable service, from their labour of love:

but they feel it their imperative duty to remind them, that zeal should be regulated by sound wisdom; and that the servant of Christ, while he is conscious that his life is held at the absolute disposal of his Master, is bound to use all prudent and becoming means for its perservation.

The death of Mr. Knight rendered it necessary to make a new arrangement for this Station; and Mr. Lisk was accordingly appointed to take charge of the Schools, with the assistance of M. T. Harding and Mrs. Renner. In consequence, however, of the continued ill state of Mrs. Lisk's health, who returned home, Mr. Lisk, at Christmas, applied to the Quarterly Meeting, to sanction his return; and it was determined, that, as soon as the Labourers, who were expected, should arrive at Sierra Leone, and his place could be supplied, an arrangement should be made to meet Mr. Lisk's wishes.*

William Tamba reports, at Lady-Day, that the Schools had been kept regularly; and speaks well of the progress which both the Boys and Girls were making. The number of Communicants was then 110. In the Boys' School there were 56 Scholars, and in the Girls' 140. The numbers at Midsummer were—Boys 68, Girls 109; at Michaelmas, 60 Boys and 100 Girls; and at Christmas, 59 Boys and 95 Girls. The Committee regret to state, that, in consequence of the dilapidated state of their School, the Boys were compelled to sleep and assemble for instruction in the Church. The Lord's Supper had been regularly administered every month, with one exception; when circumstances prevented Mr. Gerber's attendance. The number of Communicants residing in the Parish is 138. The Sunday and Week-day Services are well attended; the numbers on the Sunday averaging 400, and on the Week-days 170. The people conduct themselves, on Sundays, in an orderly and quiet manner; and go to Church cleanly and neatly dressed; a few only excepted, who still follow their country fashion. The lives of many of the Communicants afford hopeful evidence that they are true Christians: conversation at the Saturday-Evening Meeting is often edifying: many fervent petitions are offered up at Prayer-Meetings, for their Countrymen, for the Society, and for more Labourers.

Leicester.

William Davis, the Native Teacher, continues to attend to this Station. His Reports are of the same pleasing kind. The people are attentive to the Means of Grace; though, on account of many of them being employed at Freetown, the Week-day Service is not much frequented. The numbers in the Schools at Christmas were—Boys 12, Girls 5. There are 9 Communicants.

Wilberforce.

No Report has been received from this Settlement, it not having been in the power of any one to visit it during the past year.

SHERBRO COUNTRY.

Stephen Caulker gives a favourable account of the progress of the Boys' School at the Plantain Islands, of which he has the management; and that account has been confirmed by Mr. Beckley and Mr. Gerber, who have examined the Scholars. The War with the Cossos has interrupted the proceedings of the Adult School; but, as that is now happily concluded, there is reason to hope that, by the blessing of God, the work of Evangelization will proceed.

The Committee have received a satisfactory Report, containing minute details of the present situation of most of the Settlements of the Colony.*

While the Committee, in their Review of this Mission, have had to notice many discouragements which have attended it during the last year, they would carefully guard against every appearance of despondency. Though in some sense troubled on every side, they are not distressed; though perplexed, they are not in despair. When they reflect on what God has already done in Western Africa—that He has sent forth so many zealous and devoted Labourers into this part of the Harvest—that He has, by their instrumentality, brought so many ignorant Africans to the knowledge of Himself—that many, who were once led captive by the devil at his will, are adorning the Doctrine of God their Saviour by a steady and consistent conduct—that hundreds are diligently attending the Means of Grace, and that so many Children are receiving the blessings of Christian Education, they cannot entertain a doubt as to the issue: they would with patience wait for God's appointed time, and persevere in their work, with full assurance that he that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him.

* This Report is printed at length in the Appendix, No. II.

MEDITERRANEAN MISSION.

THE arrival, in this Country, of Five Lutheran Clergymen from the Bâsle Seminary, accompanied by Mr. Koelner, a German Printer, was noticed in the last Report; and their departure for the Mediterranean, and arrival at Malta, have been announced under the Head of "Missionaries and Students." Of these, Messrs. Gobat and Kugler are designed to undertake a Journey into Abyssinia, for the purposes of Investigation and Research; and, as soon as they have obtained a competent knowledge of the Language of that Country, under the instruction of Natives resident at Jerusalem, will enter on their intended journey. Mr. Krusé and Mr. Lieder will occupy such Stations in the Levant, as may be deemed most eligible with reference to a connection with Abyssinia; while Mr. Müller may probably remain with Mr. Jowett at Malta. It was originally intended that he should be attached to the Mission into Abyssinia; but Mr. Jowett's labours have pressed so heavily on him, that the Committee have been anxious to relieve him. Mr. Koelner's services will be most acceptable in the Printing Department. The health of Mr. Andrews, which, it was stated in the last Report, was so much impaired as to render his continuance in the Mission doubtful, is sufficiently restored to admit of his giving some assistance in the Printing Office, though he is not strong enough to relieve Mr. Jowett from its management.

The Committee desire to express their thankfulness to God, for raising up a person, so well qualified as Mr. Jowett, to superintend the Press, and for enabling him to continue his labours in this important department.*

The following is an account of what is thus doing, in Mr. Jowett's own words:—

In Arabic, we have printed 2000 Copies of a small Primer, containing Alphabet, Short Words, and Short Sentences; and 2000 of the Ten Commandments, and Sermon on the Mount. Of these, we have sent a good number to the American Missionaries at the foot of Mount Lebanon, who appear to have been blessed with some success in the Schools which they are setting up.

In Greek, we have printed 1500 Brief History of the Progress of the Gospel, and the Persecution which it met with, in the first Three Centuries: making nearly 100 pages.

In Italian, 500 have been printed of a similar Work, extended to the Sixth Century, nearly 120 pages—also, the Conversion of St. Augustine, extracted from his Confessions; admirably suited to the case of many well-educated but wavering persons in our neighbourhood; and his "City of God," as abridged by Milner, 100 copies. We are now printing the Life of the Missionary Swartz, 1000 copies; extracted from the Missionary Register. I am greatly interested by it, as we proceed in printing—so many things in the history of that good man suit Missions in the Mediterranean, in as lively a manner as they do Indian Missions.

* It was stated in the last Report, that Mr. Jowett's "Christian Researches in Syria and the Holy Land" were in the press, and a Prospectus of the Work was given: a second edition has since been published, from which some interesting Extracts will be found in the Missionary Register for 1825, pp. 454—479.

During Mr. Jowett's visit to Jerusalem, he became acquainted with a Greek Priest, named Ysa Petros, mentioned (p. 220) in his last Volume of Researches, and whom he has engaged to assist him in the Arabic department of the Press. Mr. Jowett speaks thus favourably of his qualifications for this employment—

During a residence of many years at Damietta, he translated, for an opulent Arab Merchant at Damietta, the whole of Rollin's Ancient History into Arabic; which, it is to be hoped, may one day see the light. Of this work he has a small part in his possession, which he shewed us: it is the first rough translation, containing the History of Egypt and Carthage: the whole work occupied him six years. He understands, besides his native language, Greek, Italian, and French; and he has studied Syriac, Ethiopic, and Armenian, from his natural love of languages. I have seen no one in Syria, who unites so much simplicity and goodness of disposition, with such a compass of literary acquirements.

Through the kindness of Mr. Fisk, the American Missionary, Mr. Jowett engaged Ysa Petros, for the sum of 100 dollars, to translate some Tracts into Arabic, and to make a Version of the New Testament directly from the Original into Vernacular Arabic. Mr. Fisk thus speaks of the execution of his commission—

For this sum, Ysa Petros has translated "The Dairyman's Daughter"—"William Kelly"—"The Negro Servant"—"Serious Thoughts on Eternity"—and "The Progress of Sin;" and has finished the New Testament to the end of the Epistle to the Hebrews. These translations I am about to forward to Mr. Jowett: we shall hope soon to receive a supply of Arabic Tracts for distribution: this will be a great addition to our means of doing good. During the summer, the translator is to finish the Testament, and add Leslie's "Short Method with the Deists" to the catalogue of Tracts. By these labours I hope he is doing good to himself, as well as furnishing us with the means of doing good to others.

It was Mr. Jowett's intention to employ himself last summer in composing in Arabic; but the duties of the press, and an attack of fever which greatly weakened him, prevented the fulfilment of his purpose.

Mr. Hartley, having spent some time in the Ionian Islands, landed at Corfu, as was stated in the last Report. He has transmitted very full and interesting Journals*, which shew, in a very striking manner, how low Christianity has sunk in countries which were once blessed by Apostolic Labours.

On the subject of the adoration paid to Saints, which he witnessed during his stay at Corfu, Mr. Hartley says—

It is truly afflicting to witness the extent to which the worship of St. Spiridion is carried in this island. If a Corfiote be in danger or distress, it is to him that he flies for relief—to him he pays his vows—to him he looks for protection! A Priest informed me, that when an inhabitant of Corfu is preparing to visit Constantinople, he obtains a small shred from the garments of the Saint, and wears it religiously about his person, as an undoubted safeguard against the plague. The body of the Saint is a source of much emolument to the family in whose possession it is.

While Mr. Jowett has been actively employed in preparing Tracts, Mr. Hartley has been much occupied in circulating them among the inhabitants of the different places which he visited. So great is the avidity with which the Tracts were sought after, that, on one occasion, the persons who came for them were so numerous as almost to occasion a disturbance in the street. Several who applied were Roman Catholics. Two days afterwards Mr. Hartley writes—

Still a great call for Tracts. The house is almost besieged. The whole number of Tracts, which I have distributed during my visit to this island (Corfu), amounts to about 1500; Greek, upward of 800; Italian, 500; English and French, about 200. The number of Bibles and Testaments, sold and distributed, is about 60.

The same desire for Tracts was manifested by the inhabitants of Santa Maura. He writes—

On my journey, I was everywhere received with great kindness, and everywhere I distributed Tracts. I also distributed and sold copies of the New Testament, except in three villages, for which I had none left. I did not obtain much money for the Scriptures; but this may be attributed to poverty, rather than to indifference to the Word of God. That they were willing to give what was possible, appeared in a singular manner in the village of St. Elias: perceiving the great poverty of the inhabitants, I did not here fix a price on the Scriptures; but giving them a short account of the Bible Society and its operations, I concluded by leaving it to their own option to give whatever they could afford. The Priest, to whom my address had been chiefly directed, after musing for some time, expressed his sorrow that he was not possessed of money; "but," said he, "I will give two hens." Of course I presented him with the Book gratis. So much, however, was he in earnest, that, when we were riding away, he called me to his house, and brought me one of his fowls, pressing me to take it with me.

* These Journals have been given in the Missionary Register pp. 179-181, 317-320, and 580-588, of the Volume for 1825.

Of the prospects of the success of Missionary Exertions, Mr. Hartley thus expresses his sentiments—

The more observation I make of the Greek Church, the more I am convinced that faithful and persevering labour for the good of its Members is likely to be crowned with abundant success. I sincerely thank God that I am called to this field of labour; and I am truly happy in my duties.

During the time which Mr. Hartley passed in the Ionian Islands, he had an opportunity of visiting the University which has been established by the exertions and liberality of the Earl of Guildford; and the account* which he gives of it will be read with interest by all who have observed how God has been generally pleased to render the advancement of learning subservient to the cause of Religion. Mr. Hartley attended the Lectures on Mathematics and Theology.

When I first attended Pharmakides, the Theological Professor, I was delighted to hear a decided acknowledgment that the Holy Scriptures are the standard of all Theological Knowledge; and, in conformity with these remarks, the Professor supported his doctrines by continual reference to Scriptural Authority. It is, no doubt, of the greatest importance to impress this principle on the Greek Clergy; for they are disposed to attach by far too much importance to the Decrees of Councils and to some uninspired Writings.

Let only this principle be acted on, and the Students of this Infant University taught to venerate and to appeal to the Inspired Word of God as the authoritative standard of principles and practice; and the most beneficial consequences may be anticipated from it. A succession of enlightened and holy men, taught and directed by the Spirit of God, may be expected to arise—to expose the various corruptions both in doctrine and practice of the Greek Church, the deference which is paid to human authority, the use of pictures, and the adoration of saints—and, by faithful preaching and consistent lives, to extend the knowledge of pure and undefiled religion into the neighbouring dominions of the Eastern and Western Antichrist.

* See Missionary Register for 1825, pp. 584, 585.

Mr. Hartley was prevented from making his intended visit to Continental Greece, by the disturbed state of that country: he proceeded, in December, to Asia Minor.

The Committee cannot close their Review of this Mission without expressing a hope that, among the Students of our own Universities, some may be willing to follow the example and to share the labours of Mr. Jowett and Mr. Hartley. To what nobler cause can Classical Associations be consecrated than that of Divine Truth? And how can he, who, as a Scholar, admires the genius and taste, but, as a Christian, mourns over the superstition and spiritual ignorance, of the Ancient Greeks, be more honourably or more usefully employed, than in opening to their descendants the Treasures of Heavenly Knowledge, and in proclaiming to them Christ Crucified, as the Wisdom of God?

May the Giver of every good and perfect gift excite an increasing attention to this subject among the Members of our Universities! And may they ever consider it a great privilege, as it unquestionably is, to employ splendid talents and high attainments, the researches of sound Learning and the discoveries of Science, in advancing the Redeemer's Cause, and in extending through the world the knowledge of His Name!

CALCUTTA AND NORTH-INDIA MISSION.

The Bishop of Calcutta, accompanied, during part of the Journey, by Archdeacon Corrie, has been actively employed in visiting his Diocese. He left Calcutta about the middle of the year 1824, and proceeded through the Upper Provinces as far as Agra; taking, in his way, most of the Stations occupied by the Society. From Agra he took a south-western course, and reached Bombay in April of last year, having been then about ten months absent from home. During the journey, he had preached above fifty times, had held Confirmations, and consecrated new Churches. He left Bombay about the middle of last August, accompanied by Mrs. Heber, for Ceylon; and, after having passed a month in that island, returned to Calcutta.

Archdeacon Corrie has transmitted, through the Auxiliary Church Missionary Society at Calcutta, many valuable suggestions made by the Bishop, relative to the Society's operations in North-India—suggestions, which, the Committee doubt not, will greatly assist their friends at Calcutta in the adoption and regulation of their future measures.

The Chaplain stationed at Cawnpore having for some time been prevented by sickness from performing his duties, Archdeacon Corrie did not accompany the Bishop further; but remained at that place for the purpose of supplying the spiritual wants of the Europeans, and his Lordship proceeded to Agra alone.

Since the Bishop's return to Calcutta, the aged Abdool Messeeh and Mr. Bowley came down to the Presidency for the purpose of receiving Episcopal Ordination*. Mr. Reichardt had also offered himself as a Candidate for Orders; and having stated the reasons which led him to entertain the desire, the Bishop ordained them all on the 30th of last November. Mr. Adlington has also been admitted to Deacon's Orders.

The Committee, while they feel increasingly thankful to God for the appointment to that vast Diocese of a Bishop, from whose zeal and judgment they have already received useful counsel and assistance, cannot but anticipate from his late Visitation beneficial effects both on Missionaries and Converts.*

CALCUTTA AND ITS VICINITY.

The Committee have not had it in their power to fill up the vacancy in the Printing Department, occasioned by the death of Mr. Brown: and they would take occasion, from this circumstance, to remind their friends that they may greatly assist the Society by inquiring for persons well qualified to fill the various departments connected with Missionary Labour, and especially that of the Press.

Mr. Reichardt, having conducted this part of the work, in addition to his other employments, for three months, and fearful of its interfering with his Ministerial Duties, applied to the Committee at Calcutta for assistance. They engaged a Printer, an active and intelligent man; but Mr. Reichardt subsequently writes—

> As the reading of Proofs in various languages still takes up a great part of my time, and obliges me to work frequently till late at night, the care and responsibility of the whole being entirely on me, I beg that the Committee at home will be pleased to send out a faithful and clever man; who not only possesses a clear knowledge of the art of printing, but who has also a sound taste for typographical beauty. I am extremely anxious to return again to my own proper labours, and long to be fully at leisure to proclaim to perishing multitudes the glad tidings of Salvation.

THE MINISTRY OF THE WORD in Bengalee had been interrupted, in consequence of Mr. Jetter's indisposition.

* While the Report was in the Press, intelligence arrived of the death of this amiable and excellent Prelate.

On the importance of taking advantage of opportunities, Mr. Reichardt, at Lady-Day, observes—

Urgent labours have not admitted of my preaching regularly. I have confined myself to occasional Addresses, as opportunity offered; but have daily explained the Gospel to the Scholars, which is sowing the good seed in cultivated ground. I have often experienced the truth of what Henry Martyn says of Missionary Labours in India, that "to improve opportunities is true wisdom; and though there be not many such opportunities, yet when those are improved which do offer themselves, much good may be expected." Several persons have called on me, partly to inquire after the truth as it is in Jesus, or to beg a copy of the New Testament or parts of it; and, on such occasions, I always endeavour to impress the truth of the Christian Religion and the importance of believing in Jesus on their minds, which has often led to very interesting discussions. I have, at present, two steady inquirers, who come to me regularly on Sunday Afternoons; when we read the Scriptures, converse on them, and pray together: and I am happy to say, that, under the grace of God, I see in them some growth in religious knowledge, and an increasing disgust at Heathenism. I hope soon to enter on a regular plan of addressing Adults, as I judge my knowledge of the Bengalee to be such as to make me generally understood. I would have done this some time ago, were I not convinced that addressing the people in a very imperfect manner, is likely to do more harm than good, on account of the many misconceptions arising from the wrong application of terms, and the foreign idioms often made use of.

On the 16th of last November, Mr. Corrie writes—

The affairs of the Society are as prosperous as we can well expect. The Lord's Supper was administered for the first time in Bengalee, according to the Rites of our Church, at Mirzapore, on Sunday last. There were 13 Native Communicants; and a Congregation of from 80 to 200 assembles regularly three or four evenings in the week, at the little Chapel at Potuldunga. The hopes of our Missionaries are greatly raised.

In a subsequent Letter, the Archdeacon says—

The little Chapel at Potuldunga is well attended nightly. One Youth was lately baptized; and many are coming forward to offer themselves for Baptism.

The return of Mr. Jetter for his health left the care of the SCHOOLS entirely to Mr. Reichardt; but his labour had been much diminished, during the early part of last year, by the assistance of Mr. Maisch, who, while he was resident at Calcutta, took charge of the seven Schools belonging to the Association; while the remaining six were superintended by Mr. Reichardt. The number of Scholars under Mr. Reichardt's care was 480, with an average attendance of 400. The number in the other Schools has not been stated.

An Examination took place towards the close of the Quarter ending at Lady-Day; and Mr. Reichardt's account shews the attainments of the Scholars—

The Boys of the English School were first examined; and the Bengalee Schools were next arranged in three different classes.

Above 150 Boys from the different Schools had been selected for the occasion. The Third Class could spell and give the meaning in Jetter's Spelling-Book, write common words, and read easy lessons. The Second Class could read "Scripture Extracts," and could give the sense of the passage and the meaning of the words: they also repeated the answers to the several questions in explanation of the lessons; and, though there were many of considerable length, they were repeated without a mistake. Part of the First Class read Ellerton's Dialogues with great fluency, and could explain the spiritual design of the writer and the force of the passage in a most satisfactory manner: they had learnt the first and second parts of Pearce's Geography; and could answer the questions on the form of the earth, its divisions, &c. with great ease: they wrote from dictation, and several of the boys performed the task without making one mistake: another part of this class read the Gospel of St. Matthew; and having committed to memory a copious explanation of the passages, were enabled to give most satisfactory answers to the questions proposed: they acquitted themselves with the greatest credit. Since the Examination, 57 Boys have been rewarded, according to their respective proficiency, with useful books and small sums of money.

On the difficulties connected with the management of Schools, Mr. Reichardt makes the following remarks—

Of all Missionary Work, the Superintendence of Native Schools is decidedly the most troublesome, laborious, and vexatious. The children being under no sort of controul, it is extremely difficult to collect them, more especially as the parents do not oblige them to be diligent in attending school.

It is optional with the children themselves, whether they will come or not; and young boys are very seldom inclined to study. Again, the perpetual recurrence of festivals, poojahs, marriages, dinner-invitations, funeral rites, &c. are all hindrances in the way of their attending the Schools regularly: the consequence is, that in most cases they forget nearly all that they have learnt, so that it is very often necessary to go over the same lessons again and again, which have been taught months before. In this idolatrous land, where a boy beholds nothing but superstitious ceremonies, splendid shows in honour of some idol, and a people prostrate before dead matter, and even before its priests and teachers, every object, every being, every movement around him serve but to increase his ignorance and confirm him in his errors. His parents, his relations and friends, are all enveloped in the same common darkness; and conversation itself serves among the Natives to increase mental darkness and corrupt good manners.

In these difficulties, Mr. Reichardt adds—

We do not feel discouraged; though, as yet, little fruit appear: it is our duty to go forward, and to sow the seed of the Word among the Heathen by every means in our power; and though this be often done with tears, yet we shall finally reap with joy if we faint not. More exertions, more fervent prayers, are required; and we may rest assured that the Lord will give the increase in due season.

It was stated in the last Report, that the interest which had been felt in the Education of Native Females in India had led to the formation of a Ladies' Society for this purpose, under the patronage of Lady Amherst. A Ladies' Association has since been formed in connection with the Society.

The satisfactory Examination of the Schools, about nine months after they had been placed under the care of the Society, was also noticed.

By the latest accounts, it appears that there were 30 Schools under the Society, containing about 500 daily attendants; and 6 under the Association, containing 100 Girls. Mrs. Reichardt had charge of 10 of the Schools. Lady Amherst had continued to manifest great interest in the object, in frequently attending the Meetings, and in the contribution of 600 rupees within the last two years. A Central School was much desired.

Mr. Brown's death, and the management of the PRESS by Mr. Reichardt, have been already mentioned. The following books have been printed, and are kept on sale.

The Committee will close their account of this Station with the remarks of one of their Labourers—

There is much which requires our most exalted praise and thanks toward our glorious Redeemer, who has hitherto blessed us more than we deserve. Thousands of Children are under Christian Instruction, without the least objection on their part; and tens of thousands hear the everlasting Gospel proclaimed by the Messengers of Peace. Here and there a hardened Sinner is brought to the foot of the Cross; and not unfrequently are the praises of Redeeming Love heard from the swarthy Indian who has found pardon for his transgressions and peace for his guilty conscience. Our work in India is for future generations, and requires a steady perseverance in well-doing. We have not yet been permitted to see such splendid triumphs of the Cross in this country as have appeared in Western Africa and the Islands of the South Sea; but we may rest assured that the Redeemer shall see of the travail of his soul and shall be satisfied. A knowledge of the Christian Religion is gradually spreading among Hindoos and Mussulmans, which cannot fail of producing a gradual change among them. More help, more faithful Missionaries, more earnest prayers for the out-pouring of the Holy Spirit and the coming of Christ's Kingdom, and God will certainly crown all our labours with abundant success.

Burdwan.

The Committee have to regret the loss of a Labourer at this Station, the Rev. Jacob Maisch, whose death took place on the 29th of August. On this event the Calcutta Committee remark—

> The loss of this highly-esteemed Missionary, which at any time would be severely felt, is particularly so now, from the paucity of Labourers, and the increasing wants of the Mission.

Mrs. Maisch's health had for a considerable time been very indifferent; and the continuance of disease rendered her return to this country necessary. She left Calcutta in December, and arrived here the middle of April.

Since the last Report, Mr. Deerr has been married to a young woman who had been for some time employed, under Mrs. Perowne, in superintending the Bengalee Girls' Schools; and who, there is reason to hope, will be a valuable Assistant to him. Mr. Perowne had for five months been suffering from lameness, which prevented him from walking more than a few steps at a time, and much hindered him in his work.

Divine Service is continued in English, and the Lord's Supper regularly administered; and the Missionaries preach the Word in Bengalee as opportunity offers.

With reference to EDUCATION, the Committee are happy to state, that the encouraging prospects, both with regard to the Male and Female Schools, still continue; and there is good reason to hope that He, who has inclined the minds of the Scholars to seek for instruction, and enabled them to make such proficiency as was noticed in the last Report, will qualify them, by His Grace, for becoming Preachers of His Gospel among their countrymen.

Mr. Perowne had met with some discouragement in the departure from the English School of two of the most promising Boys, who had agreed to continue in it till thoroughly educated. In allusion to this, Mr. Perowne says—

> I would not repine: I would be more thankful for what I see of the Divine Mercy and Goodness displayed in this sphere of labour; and learn to live more entirely by faith. Of ourselves we can do nothing: this we are ready to acknowledge;

but it is difficult to learn practically. Therefore God is pleased, in mercy, to send us disappointments and discouragements, that we may feel our impotency, and give Him the glory of all the good that is done.

Of the Examination of the Female Schools at Burdwan in February, Mr. Perowne has transmitted the following account—

Nine was the hour fixed for their assembling; and, soon after, the business commenced. Out of 323 Girls, in Eleven Schools, 292 came together. Of these, all who had read Watts's Catechism, and the Conversation between a Mother and her Daughter, together with those reading the Gospel of St. Matthew, were selected for examination. On arranging them in the English School, it was found that there were properly Four Classes, containing 83 Children. Thirty-four girls had read seven chapters of St. Matthew's Gospel, and all had read one or both the other books quite through. As soon as some of the Ladies and Gentlemen arrived, the lowest class was commenced with: this consisted of about 20 Children, who had got through only one book, viz. Watts's Catechism. They read and spelt very well, but not many of them could answer the questions or explain the meaning of the more difficult words. The next class was formed of those who had read another book besides the Catechism: these amounted to about 30; and, with only one or two exceptions, they read the whole book with the greatest ease and regularity, spelt almost all the words proposed to them, and all the upper part of the class answered readily most of the questions put. One little girl in this class, about four years old, attracted particular attention. It is about three months since a book was first given to her, and in that time she has gone through the Catechism, and Conversation, besides two chapters of St. Matthew's Gospel, all of which she is able to read and explain, and most of which she knows by heart: she repeated the Lord's Prayer with great precision and in a very pleasing manner: she also spells very correctly.

The First Class was now examined in the Testament. No questions had been prepared; but those present were requested to propose such questions as they might wish. At the desire of a Lady, the children read and explained the Fifth Chapter of St. Matthew, and acquitted themselves extremely well, both in reading and spelling. Their explanation of what they read, and their answers to the questions proposed, were such as to astonish even those who were best acquainted with what they could do. Many of the questions were very difficult; but they scarcely failed in replying to any one. They gave an examination quite equal to that of boys who have made a similar progress, and far superior to boys who have been the same time at school.

The examination of those who had read the Conversation, closed the whole, at near four o'clock. This class consisted of about 40. To mention how they went through with their task, would only be to repeat what has just been said of the first class. Many of the girls were the same; and all acquitted themselves in the same creditable manner.

The whole was satisfactory and cheering: those who took a part in the Examination expressed themselves highly gratified; and the general impression seemed to be, that the children had exceeded the expectations formed of them. The order, regularity, and respectful behaviour, for which the Burdwan Boys' Schools are noted, were equally exemplified in those of the Girls: there was no confusion, no improper conduct; but all conducted themselves in a modest and becoming manner. All read and answered the questions without fear or hesitation; but nothing forward or presuming was seen in any of them.

After giving the children time to refresh themselves, rewards were distributed. And thus ended the business of the day—a day, such as was never before witnessed in this place—a day, on the recollection of which we ought to thank God and take courage. Most of the dear children had walked from three to five miles; which, together with the long standing in the Examination, must have greatly fatigued them: still, happiness beamed in their countenances; and, from the satisfaction evinced by all the Natives present, there can be little doubt but that the Schools will be benefited by the Examination.

Buxar.

Kurrum Messeeh continues to labour at this Station; and Archdeacon Corrie writes—

The Bishop saw Kurrum Messeeh's Congregation, consisting of about 30 Women, young and old. He heard them read in the Hindoostanee Testament, and questioned them in their Catechism. His Lordship expressed to me his entire satisfaction with the proficiency which they manifested.

His Lordship is desirous of supplying Buxar with an European Missionary; and there are many facilities for such an arrangement. A Bungalow could be hired, at a small expense, till suitable Mission Premises were provided. Ground has been appropriated for a Chapel; and it is thought, that, were an European Missionary resident there, funds would be raised in the neighbourhood for the erection of such buildings as might be required.

Benares.

The accounts from this Station are of a gratifying nature; and the Society is indebted to Archdeacon Corrie for the interesting particulars which he has communicated respecting it. Mr. Adlington's health has suffered from the climate; and that of Fuez Messeeh, the Native Teacher, is in a declining state. By the latest accounts received from Archdeacon Corrie, the Committee are sorry to be informed that Mr. Morris had been seriously ill. They trust, however, that, as he was then thought to be out of danger, it will please God to spare the life, and prolong the usefulness, of His servant.

Mr. Morris continues to preach in Hindoostanee; and has conciliated the esteem and regard, not only of his Congregation, but of his Heathen Neighbours. Mr. Morris, accompanied by Mr. Adlington, is in the habit of attending the Melas or Fairs within reach of Benares, for the purpose of distributing the Gospels and Tracts among the people who are there assembled: and opportunity is thus afforded them of entering into conversation with the Natives, and of making known the Gospel to them. On one of these occasions, Mr. Morris writes—

We went out several times among the crowd, with the intention, as opportunity should offer, of addressing the people and distributing Gospels and Tracts. The greater part of the multitude, however, were too intent on business, or too careless and prejudiced, to enter much into conversation or to receive our books. Though we have much more favourable opportunities both for preaching and distributing books nearer home, yet it is of importance to visit these distant towns and villages, in order to let the people see our good-will toward them. One reason why many of the inhabitants of Benares receive and read our books without objection, seems to be, the knowledge which they have of us as striving to do them good. It is observable, that wherever a Mission has been established for any length of time, the prejudices of the Natives in a considerable degree die away, many of them become indifferent to the rites and customs of their forefathers, and others no longer fear the frowns and threats of the Brahmins.

When returning home, after another visit of the same kind, they saw a number of persons, sitting under the shade of spreading trees, attentively reading the Books which they had received at the Fair.

The Bishop of Calcutta passed Sunday, the 5th of September 1824, at this Station. At an early hour, his Lordship attended the Mission Chapel, when Mr. Morris read and preached in Hindoostanee, in which tongue the Bishop pronounced the blessing. On the same day, the Company's Church was consecrated, a Confirmation was held, and the Lord's Supper was administered: in the evening, the Bishop preached in English. On this occasion, 14 Native Christians were confirmed, and were admitted to the Lord's Table: the Bishop officiating, as respected them, in Hindoostanee.

Archdeacon Corrie gives the following account of his Lordship's visit to the Society's School, in the city, on the following Wednesday:—

The Classes examined, exhibited good proficiency in Christian Knowledge, in translating the History of England into Hindoostanee, and in English Grammar: they have proceeded beyond the Rule of Three; and a few shewed considerable knowledge of Geography.

The day after, Mr. Corrie saw the first classes of four Schools established in the suburbs of Benares by Mr. Morris. They had been too recently formed to shew much progress, though some of the Boys read pretty well. They all read the Hindee Gospels; which they were brought to do with some difficulty, owing to the lower castes being forbidden by the Brahmins to read the Sanscrit Character.

We also examined a School of Eleven Christian Girls, superintended by Mrs. Morris, who read only their native tongue. Even the Christians were brought to send their girls to school with some difficulty; but they now begin to be pleased with the improved conduct of their children. Mrs. Fraser overlooks another School for Girls, who are destitute children of European Fathers: in this, I believe, are 17 scholars, and they are taught English.

Towards the end of July in last year, the same kind of Epidemic, which raged in Calcutta the year before, prevailed at Benares, which caused a great diminution in the attendance at the Schools.

The Committee are happy to learn from the Archdeacon, that the Europeans are becoming interested in the proceedings of the Society at Benares; and that the City School is often visited by some of the Residents. The Archdeacon adds—

The Missionaries are treated, on all occasions, with cordiality. The Chaplain, Mr. Fraser, is their cordial friend and fellow-helper in the Lord. The Buildings of the Society are all in the best possible order.

Mr. Morris's faith seems to rise superior to discouragement. He says—

Nothing less than the power of God can make the ignorant Heathen around us feel. We are sometimes much cast down, but never in despair. The work is God's, and must prevail. Oh for faith and patience, and a persevering devotedness to the great work of winning souls to Christ! Oh for a gracious out-pouring of the Holy Spirit on this people! And may it please God soon to send out a number—a large number—of holy and zealous Missionaries!

On another occasion, when the horrid feats of some of the Hindoo deities had been exhibited near the Bungalows of the Mission, he thus expresses himself—

The noise and confusion were very great, and little opportunity of distributing books, or of speaking to the people, could be obtained. I went home much disgusted with what I had seen. Here the goddess Kalee's (black) horrid figure was paraded about for some hours; and her presence seemed to have great influence on the minds of the frantic multitude—a multitude, indeed, most awfully depraved! Vice is, as it were, sanctified in their general opinion; and the accustomed ceremonies being performed, no guilt, according to their own ideas, attaches to their immoralities. They are, indeed, dead in trespasses and sins. In respect to Divine Truth, in too many instances, there appears about them a kind of death-like apathy, which is exceedingly discouraging to the Missionary, and which renders it painfully difficult to do them good. We are not, however, without hope: we have seen too much, to give way to despair: the powers of darkness are not to be supposed invincible: Salvation through Christ is proclaimed in India, and the effects must be glorious.

Chunar.

The British Inhabitants at Allahabad having petitioned the Bishop to be allowed the services of a Missionary, until the appointment of a Government Chaplain, Mr. Greenwood has been removed from Chunar, and stationed at Allahabad. Mr. Bowley continues the services in Hindoostanee at Chunar, as usual.

The Bishop of Calcutta, accompanied by the Archdeacon, passed Sunday the 12th of September at this Station, of which the Archdeacon gives the following account—

At Chunar, I may say, we beheld more than had previously been told us. On Saturday Morning, the 11th of September, 57 of Mr. Bowley's Congregation were admitted to Confirmation, together with nearly the same number of Europeans.

Next day, a still greater number of Native Christians communicated, together with a large number of Europeans. Several Gentlemen came from Benares, and some Officers from Sultanpore.

The whole had the appearance of a Jubilee; and the fine Church, which the Bishop calls handsome and appropriate, was entirely filled. This Service was in the morning: the heat was not oppressive, though the Service continued from seven till ten o'clock. The Bishop preached, in English, on the Parable of the Good Samaritan; and here, as at Secrole, ministered to the Native Christians in Hindoostanee. I had here the pleasure to assist in administering the Lord's Supper; and with no ordinary feelings—partaking, I trust, of gratitude to the God of all Grace—I beheld the blessed fruits of the Gospel, in the improved religious state of so many, both European and Native Christians, in the place where I entered on my Ministry in this country.

In the afternoon, Worship was held in Hindoostanee; when Mr. Morris read prayers, and Mr. Bowley preached. One aisle was filled with Native Christians, the other by Natives; among whom, towards the upper end, were 20 or 30 respectable Hindoo Inhabitants of Chunar, several of whom seem on the very threshold of the Kingdom of God. The middle of the Church was occupied by Europeans.

The Church at this Station was erected in 1819 by the Church Missionary Society, aided by a Donation from the Marquess of Hastings and the contributions of benevolent individuals. The care of it, after its completion, was undertaken by a Committee of Gentlemen, who have expended upward of 600 rupees, collected at the Station and in the neighbourhood, in repairs, without which it would have suffered greatly during the rains. The Visit of the Bishop to Chunar afforded these Gentlemen an opportunity of presenting to him, through Lieut.-Col. Robertson, the Commandant of the Garrison, an Address; in which, having noticed the benefits arising from the Society's proceedings at Chunar, and the inability of the Residents at the Station to contribute a sufficient sum for the repairs, in a climate so injurious to buildings, they expressed the hope that Government would allow a small monthly sum, by way of rent (as is done at Dinapore), to aid in preserving a structure used to so great an extent for the benefit of their old and worn-out soldiers and their families, and which has been provided, and hitherto maintained, free of any cost whatever to the Government.

To this communication the Bishop was pleased to return the following answer:—

I have to acknowledge the receipt of your very obliging Letter, as well as the very interesting and important Memorial contained in it. In answer to both, I beg leave to say, that, among the many circumstances which rendered my visit to Chunar a most agreeable one, a principal circumstance was the pleasure which I derived from witnessing the dimensions, the solidity, and good taste of the Church; as well as the highly creditable manner in which Divine Service was performed, and the numerous, orderly, and devout attendance of the Europeans of your Garrison, as well as their Native Wives and Widows. I feel, therefore, no less forcibly than the Gentlemen of the Church Committee themselves, an anxiety, that so striking a proof of the piety and liberality of individuals at the Station should not be suffered to fall to decay, through a want of the fostering hand of Government; and that the gallant men, who have spent their health and strength in their Country's Cause, should not be deprived, in their age and infirmities, of the comforts which the ordinances of Religion are only able to supply. I beg you, therefore, to believe, that the objects of your application, so far as I apprehend them to be compatible with some general measures to the same good end, which I have reason to anticipate from the care of Government, shall not want my best recommendation, or my earnest wishes for their success with a Government, which, I willingly bear them witness, to the extent of the means entrusted to them, have always shewn themselves anxious for the encouragement and support of such feelings and such conduct as I witnessed in the Veterans of Chunar.

May I request you to convey to the Gentlemen of the Church Committee my thanks, in the name of the Church of England and Religion in general, for the liberality which they have shewn, and the judgment with which that liberal expenditure has been conducted; and to accept, at the same time, my best thanks for all the kindness with which you have personally favoured me.

Meerut.

The Rev. Henry Fisher, the Chaplain at this Station, gives the following account of the Bishop's Visit to Meerut:—

When the Lord Bishop held his Confirmation, the whole of the Native Christians, whether resident in Meerut or within convenient reach of us, came forward with peculiar meekness and simplicity of deportment, and (as I venture to believe too) with consistent warmth of feeling, and a just understanding of the nature and benefit of this ancient and holy Rite, and received the imposition of hands. Two hundred and fifty-five Christians (European and Native Christians included) were publicly confirmed in the Church, a considerable portion of whom were Converts to the Faith as it is in Jesus; many from Hindoo Idolatries and Mahomedan Infidelity; others from the apathy and ignorance of a nominal profession worse than Heathenism; all, I have much reason to hope, seriously in earnest to give themselves to God. Our dear and respected Bishop has left an impression behind him, which, I think, will not soon or easily pass away. Proofs, indeed, are continually before me, that the savour of his truly Apostolic Visit dwells generally in affectionate remembrance. He interested himself about every minute circumstance, accompanied me to my Native Congregation, visited my Native School, and saw and conversed with many of the Christians who were introduced to him, with the affability and kindness which we had been prepared to expect. We all cherish the hope that the blessing of God Almighty was abundantly with him, and that the peace of God, which he bequeathed us through Jesus Christ, remains upon our souls.

Mr. Fisher, in addition to his other labours, adds a Hindoostanee Service on Wednesday Mornings, which is generally well attended.

Delhi.

When Archdeacon Corrie visited this Station in June, he saw the Society's Catechist, Anund Messeeh. Anund mentioned with thankfulness the general good-will manifested towards him by his former friends and acquaintances in this his native city, and spoke of many of them as favourably disposed towards the Gospel.

Henreepore.

The Committee have not received any accounts from this Station.

Agra.

The Bishop visited this Station; but no particulars of his visit had reached Calcutta at the date of the last despatches. The Auxiliary Committee write—

His inspection of the Native Church and School was equally satisfactory to his own mind with the other visits that have been recorded. He was particularly pleased with the Society's faithful Missionary, Abdool Messeeh, who is reported to be proceeding with his usual simplicity and acceptableness.

The following extract from Abdool's Journals shews the improved state of feeling manifested by the inhabitants of Agra towards this aged "Servant of Christ:"—

Formerly, the people of this city were much offended with me, and said very evil things concerning me: I always shewed them kindness, and often attended them with medicines when they were sick; and, by the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, many of them received healing of dangerous diseases: often, also, I endeavoured to heal their spiritual sicknesses, and many of these people received and read religious books; and it is become evident to all, that Christians love all mankind, and desire no evil to any one. Now, in the place of enmity, these people begin to shew kindness; and, moreover, invite me to their houses, and send me portions from their friendly entertainments: for instance, to-day, Meer Seyud Ali, who is Headman to the Collector, sent me a friendly note, saying—"The daughter of me, your Servant, is to-day to be married: you will greatly oblige me by making one of our Company."

I sent for answer—"Since the day that by the grace of God I was honoured with baptism, I have renounced all assemblies for dancing and music; and I should be ashamed, with this white beard and these broken teeth, to shew myself at a Wedding-feast." He sent, in reply—"I have read in the blessed Gospel, that the Lord Jesus Himself honoured a Wedding at Cana of Galilee with His presence, and there miraculously turned water into wine: if you will not come, we shall all conclude that you disobey the traditions of the Divine Jesus. If you excuse yourself on account of the dancing, &c., I will prepare a separate apartment for you; and will invite some aged person, like yourself, to keep you company." I was rejoiced on hearing this, since it appears that these people read the Gospels. In the evening, after Worship, I went to his house: they had prepared a separate apartment, where several aged persons, learned in Religion, and wealthy, were collected, all of whom received me with respect; and we continued to converse on religious subjects, in a very friendly manner, till midnight: from their conversation I entertained some hope respecting them.

The Blessing of God appears to have attended Abdool's labours; and Archdeacon Corrie, after mentioning the happy death of a Convert, writes—

About a fortnight ago, a woman came to me, saying that her husband, five years ago, was baptized at Agra by Abdool Messeeh: he afterward returned to Kurnal, his native place; and continued his usual employment: lately falling sick, he begged her to come with him to Meerut, where they would find Christians; but that he died on the way. He had told her of his change of Religion, and that Jesus is the only Saviour; and, when dying, urged her to seek Christian Instruction.

Allahabad.

In consequence of the petition addressed to the Bishop by the British Residents at this place, which has been noticed under the head of Chunar, this has been added to the Stations occupied by the Society.

Boglipore.

This place, which is about 240 miles North-West of Calcutta, in the Bahar District, appeared to the Bishop of Calcutta to be desirable as a Missionary Station, with reference to the Hill People. Archdeacon Corrie has furnished the Society with full information as to the circumstances of the country and its inhabitants, and observes—

Whatever Missionary occupies that Station, it would be with a view to the Hill People, of whose language he might acquire some knowledge from the Hill Rangers; and he might procure an introduction to the Hill Chiefs, who come to Boglipore, at stated periods, for their pension. The only time a Missionary could visit the Hills is in the cold season; but, as Rajemahel is the principal market to which the Hill People resort, a Missionary should eventually perhaps take up his abode at that place; but Boglipore is the place for first acquiring the language, and becoming known to the Chiefs.

Moozufferpore.

The Committee are happy to state, that, through the kindness of a friend, they have the prospect of adding this to the list of the Society's Missionary Stations. A large Bungalow, containing 6 rooms, with five Biggahs of ground (about 4½ English acres), has been purchased, and will become the property of the Society. The same friend has undertaken to raise 150 rupees monthly towards defraying the expenses of the Mission; and the Committee hope soon to have an efficient Labourer established there. There is also the prospect of forming a Station at Culna.

MADRAS AND SOUTH-INDIA MISSION.

The final return from India of the Rev. Marmaduke Thompson, after continuing there a short time on his second residence, has been a serious loss to the Mission. The able and active Treasurer of the Committee, J. M. Strachan, Esq., was also to leave India at the end of the year, with another friend of the Society; but he had been able to make such arrangements, through the kindness of the Acting Senior Chaplain and some Gentlemen of the Civil Service, that he states—

> To myself it is most gratifying, on quitting the Country, to leave your affairs under such favourable auspices.

The Committee regret that the state of his own health, and that of his family, has led Mr. Fenn to contemplate returning to Europe for a time.

The Annual Report from Madras has not been received: from the documents which have arrived, the Committee will give an account of each of the Stations from which they have been forwarded.

MADRAS, AND ITS VICINITY.

The Rev. James Ridsdale and the Rev. William Sawyer continue their labours at this Station; Mr. Ridsdale having charge of the English Department, and Mr. Sawyer of the Native.

Mr. Ridsdale's English Congregation had so much increased, that the Church became insufficient for its accommodation; and it was in contemplation to enlarge it.

There are some encouraging circumstances connected with the SEMINARY, which is under Mr. Sawyer's care. The difficulties which had been experienced, with reference to Caste, have been overcome, and the Students are going on well. Some have died, exhibiting evidences of piety, which have favourably impressed the minds of the surviving Students.

The Europeans resident at the various Stations near Madras contribute, in most instances, to the support of the Schools. Female Schools have also been established, which contain about 200 Scholars, and are likely to be supported by subscriptions obtained on the spot.

Poonamallee.

No account has been received from this Station.

TRANQUEBAR.

The removal of the Rev. G. T. Bärenbruck, accompanied by John Dewasagayam and the other Assistants of the Mission, from Combaconum to Mayaveram, was noticed in the last Report.

Mr. Bärenbruck, having been much employed in superintending the Buildings necessary for the Mission, has been unable to visit the SEMINARY and SCHOOLS, at Tranquebar and in the neighbourhood, as regularly as he had been accustomed to do; but hopes to resume his labours when the Buildings are completed. In the Seminary there are 13 Students. The following Table of the Schools in connection with this Station will shew the different classes of scholars:—

Protestant Christians	118
Brahmins	61
Soodras	1388
Mahomedans	51
Pariahs	5

TINNEVELLY.

The Labourers at this Station are the same as stated in the last Report. Mrs. Schnarrè superintends the Female Schools, while Mr. and Mrs. Rhenius and Mr. and Mrs. Schmid are employed in the general work of the Mission. They all appear to have been in good health, at the date of the last despatches.

About the middle of last June, Mr. and Mrs. Rhenius accepted an invitation, from their kind friends Mr. and Mrs. Monro, to pass a few weeks at Courtallum. This temporary change of residence, while a lower temperature than that of Palamcottah was likely to be beneficial to them, enabled Mr. Rhenius to proceed, with less interruption, in the translation of the Scriptures. Near Courtallum are some waterfalls, much resorted to by the Natives for the purpose of bathing for the removal of their sins; and Mr. Rhenius availed himself of the opportunity, which this circumstance afforded him, of distributing Tracts, and conversing with the people who assemble at the Falls.

The last Report noticed the encouraging attendance of the Natives on Divine Service; and the Committee have now to state, with devout gratitude to the Giver of every good gift, that there is evidently an increasing desire after Divine Truth. From the Journals of Mr. Rhenius and Mr. Schmid it appears, that large Congregations, composed not only of the inhabitants of Palamcottah, but of persons from the neighbouring Villages, usually assemble, and manifest a very pleasing state of mind.

On one occasion, during the Passion Week of last year, Mr. Rhenius writes—

The people begin to flock together from the villages, to remember with us our Saviour's sufferings and death. A Pandal, or awning, has been erected in front of our Chapel, for their accommodation during Divine Service, as on Christmas last.

On the following day he adds—

The people continue to come in. In the evening, the Chapel itself, and the large Pandal, were filled. The first part of the History of the Passion of our Lord was read and meditated upon. May great grace be with us all!

Mr. Rhenius and Mr. Schmid have made excursions to the Villages in the neighbourhood of Palamcottah, and have met with repeated instances of the same desire for instruction. Mr. Schmid writes—

I went to Appooviley, on the urgent invitation of Rámasámy Padan, the Headman of the village; who wishes to become a Christian, and had come to Satankoolam in order to invite me. Besides him, there are three other families in this village who are of the same mind; in the whole, eleven souls. I could not discover the least worldly motive in their coming thus forward. I talked first, for two hours, under the shadow of a tree, with those villagers who had no pressing work; and when a shed was ready for me, several Mahomedans came, evidently with the purpose of being informed what Christianity properly was. I had a long conversation with them, in the presence of a crowd of villagers; and they stayed, even during prayer, and heard my address to those who wish to become Christians. The little shed was quite full of people of this village and of a neighbouring one called Atchampadoo, where there are also four families, containing 19 souls, with whose request to visit them I was unable to comply.

It pleased God to accompany His word with power; and in many instances the people have, of their own accord, cast away their idols, destroyed their temples, or converted them into places of Christian Worship; and made a solemn surrender of themselves to God.

In one place, including some neighbouring villages, Mr. Schmid informs us—

Fifty families have subscribed their names to become Christians. In Valeyammeipooram and Needooviley there are several families who have expressed a wish to the same effect.

In the latter, I addressed a crowd of people outside a temporary shed which had been prepared for me. Those who had subscribed sat down; and the idolaters stood behind them, listening.

On the same subject Mr. Rhenius writes—

In the evening, I preached to our Congregation in Arooloor. Previously to going to rest, I could not but reflect with wonder upon what God has wrought in this wilderness. A year ago, when I was here for the first time, there was no Christian Place of Worship, no Christian Village or Congregation, excepting that some had just come forward to forsake idolatry. Now these things are realized, and the praises of the Redeemer resound from between these Palmyra trees! A Chapel is there; and a street of worshippers of the True God is formed: they have stood the fiery trial of persecution; they appear to delight in the word of God; and begin to walk worthy of the Gospel.

Mr. Rhenius gives the following interesting account of the Baptism of some Converts—

They satisfied me as to their experience of the grace of Christ Jesus in turning them from darkness to His wonderful light; and I accordingly baptized 7 men, 4 women, and 9 of their children. The little Chapel was quite full, many having come from the surrounding villages; 15 of whom were from Kaloongooviley, who last week came to Seeneevasagen, one of our Seminarists, requesting Christian instruction.

In the evening, Mr. Rhenius went to their village; where nearly the whole of the inhabitants, men, women and children, assembled before their Temple, in which they have long worshipped Rama Samy. They were attentive to Mr. Rhenius's preaching; confessed their ignorance; and expressed a desire to be instructed in the knowledge of the Living God.

The following Extracts from Mr. Rhenius's Journals will be read with interest:—

Four Headmen, of the Shanar Tribe, came from Padookkapattoo, requesting me to go to their place; as they, with a number of other families, wished to be saved from sin, and learn the way of Christianity. I had an interesting conversation with them; from which it appeared that they had come to this resolution, in consequence of the communications which they had had with our people at Satankoolam. They said—"The Idols which we have hitherto worshipped cannot do us any good; therefore we have left them, and wish to know and serve the Living and True God." They seem to have no other object in view, but to be saved. I accordingly proceeded to their village toward the evening, and found it to be a large place, containing about 1000 houses. After sunset, people of various castes came together, probably from curiosity, whom I addressed. It was a large assembly; and one aged man was particularly pleased with what he heard; saying, that he had already heard of these things at Palamcottah, in our Schools, and as a by-stander at our Chapel there on Sundays. He expressed a great desire to be saved, to know true wisdom, and to be baptized immediately. Afterwards, the Candidates for Baptism assembled, whom I instructed in the way of Salvation, concluding with prayer. A large number of other people sat around, who also received Tracts. The rising Congregation here amounts to 30 souls, including wives and children. Are not the fields ripe for the harvest? Do they not flock as doves to their windows? Do they not come and say, Come, and let us learn the way of Jehovah?

On another occasion, Mr. Rhenius writes—

I proceeded to Kovindacady, a Shanar Village near the Mountains. Some of the people brought me to their former Temple of Peroomal, which they have converted into a place of Christian Worship. The stony Idol was cast out, and lying outside, to be worshipped no more. What a sight!—an Idol, which several generations have worshipped as God, now cast out as a thing for nought! "We have so long," said they, "worshipped this stone, from ignorance; but we see now that it was vanity and sin." I asked whether they were not afraid, when they tore it out of the ground? "No," said they; "why should we be afraid? If it were God, it would have reproved us when we cast it out; but it is only a stone taken from yonder mountains. No; we wish to learn the way of the Living God, and to serve Him."

Early in the morning, I rode over to Odakaree, a small hamlet: nearly all the inhabitants came together, and I had Morning Prayer with them in the street. The women were shy, but at last came near and heard. The people afterwards shewed me their former idolatrous place of worship: the Idol-heap they had already destroyed: the roof of the building they pulled down in my presence. From thence I went to Karooselpaty, a village consisting of 20 householders, 12 of whom have renounced idolatry: their former Ammen Temple is also in ruins. Afterwards I returned to Kovindacady. Breakfast being finished, the Headman requested me to witness the destruction of another Temple of his: so we went into the village. Outside of his Compound there was a small Ammen Temple, which was already in ruins; but there were still the baskets, with the rings, the corals, the cap, &c. which the devotees of Ammen used to wear at their idolatrous feasts. All these things they collected together, broke the rings with their feet, and then put the whole into a fire kindled for the purpose. We then went into the Headman's Compound, where he had a small Temple of Dharmar Rajah, built by his forefathers. Having declared that he was perfectly convinced of the folly and wickedness of idolatrous worship, he laid first his hands upon the roof and pulled off a piece, and then the rest destroyed it altogether. The people having thus destroyed, of their own accord, these abominations, we assembled together, to give thanks unto the Lord, and to devote ourselves unto Him.

Thus, by the Grace of God accompanying the preaching of His Gospel, are these captives set at liberty from the dominion of Satan, and are turning from idols to serve the Living and True God: and in them begins to be fulfilled the word of prophecy: They shall spring up as among the grass, as willows by the water-courses. One shall say, I am the Lord's; and another shall call himself by the name of Jacob; and another shall subscribe with his hand unto the Lord, and surname himself by the name of Israel.

The view which the Missionaries take of the state of the people, among whom God has blessed their labours, contains the following sound and Scriptural sentiments:—

How far they have advanced in true self-knowledge, in justifying faith in the Redeemer, and in the sanctifying grace of the Spirit, we cannot say: but, from what we ourselves have seen, we cannot but confess that in all the Congregations there are at least some who have begun to experience this work of God. We have many instances of their teachableness, of their acknowledging their faults, of their speaking the truth, of their endeavouring to suppress their evil passions, of their desire to pray, of their wishing well to their enemies, and of their keeping the Sabbath-day holy. There are, indeed, still many shades in them; but we cannot wonder at it, when we consider from what gross darkness they are emerging, and what a mass of wicked and superstitious habits they have to unlearn. Besides, among so many, there will be such as turn to Christianity only because others do, or in expectation of worldly advantages. Under these circumstances, it cannot well be otherwise, than that evil should appear in these Congregations, and that their old sins should occasionally break out, and require much of our patience and care. It was so in the Apostolic Churches: hence the various reproofs and admonitions contained in the Apostolic Epistles. They suit exactly, in many respects, the state of these new Churches. The new Congregations, like every other Congregation, are like a large hospital, in which persons labour under various sicknesses: it is the great and glorious work of Christianity to heal them. Happy are they that have come under its influence! May the Great Physician and Shepherd and Bishop of their souls give them His Holy Spirit, and be health and cure to them, according to His gracious promise!

That the Teachers, whom we have placed among them, are all, we have reason to believe, truly desirous of serving the Lord, and doing good to their fellow-countrymen, is a matter of no small congratulation, and of much gratitude to the providence of God. We desire that they may be particularly remembered in the prayers of all our Christian Friends. The people have many and various afflictions to endure from their heathen neighbours and superiors. May the Lord preserve them in all their trials, and strengthen them to stand fast to the end!

The following Table shews the number of SCHOOLS, and of the Children who attend. That at Keelpatam has been discontinued, in consequence of the neglect of the Natives to avail themselves of it; and the Master has been sent to some other Village, as Catechist.

Concerning this department of labour, the Missionaries report—

The Schools continue to give us satisfaction and encouragement. Most of the Children attend our Schools with pleasure, and like our religious books, which they request, in many instances, with much importunity. Several of the Boys, who have left the school for some employment, continue to petition us for new Tracts.

In the SEMINARY there are 34 Students; and the Divine Blessing appears to be continued to the Institution. During the year, five of the Students have been appointed Teachers in the new Congregations. They pass one week of every month at Palamcottah, that they may have an opportunity of pursuing their studies in Theology.

The Seminarists were employed during the beginning of the year in making excursions among their countrymen, for the purpose of reading and distributing Tracts. The idolatrous festivals of the people afforded them great opportunity for this purpose. The Missionaries write—

As, on such occasions, people come together from all parts of the district, Tracts were carried by them home to their villages, in all directions; and we have instances of their having been kept and used, by meeting with such persons, long after, who spoke about them, and wished for other Tracts. Many persons have been excited to come to us and ask for books, as they wished to be well acquainted with Christianity: not a few Brahmins were of the number. The Seminarists were now and then ridiculed, and sometimes in danger of being ill-treated; but, on the whole, the Tracts, and those who read and distributed them, were well received. Some persons even paid for Tracts; and, in several instances, people of one village asked our Young Men to go to others, where the inhabitants would be glad to hear them and to receive such books.

In the FEMALE SEMINARY, under Mrs. Schnarrè's care, there are 32 Girls.

The Epistles to the Colossians and to the Romans, in Tamul, revised by Mr. Rhenius, have been issued from the PRESS; and he has completed the translation of the Second Epistle to the Corinthians. Between nine and ten thousand Tracts have been distributed.*

* Very full details of this Mission appeared at pp. 483—495 and 522—543 of the Missionary Register for last year; and more recent particulars have been given, since the Anniversary, at pp. 481—505 of the Number for October of the present year.

An interesting review of the Proceedings at this Mission will be found in Appendix II.

TRAVANCORE.

The Rev. Messrs. Bailey, Fenn, and Baker, have proceeded with their usual zeal and perseverance. The Committee trust that the services of the Rev. J. W. Doran, whose departure for this Mission has been noticed, will relieve Mr. Fenn of the burden which he has so long been called to bear. The Rev. Samuel Ridsdale continues to reside with his Brethren, and, since the month of June, has paid a weekly visit to Cochin.

Cotym.

In the COLLEGE, under Mr. Fenn's superintendence, there are 42 Students, of whose general conduct and proficiency he speaks in favourable terms.

In the GRAMMAR-SCHOOL, under the superintendence of Mr. Fenn and Mr. Ridsdale, there are 42 Boys: the number had for some time been between 50 and 60; but sickness and other contingencies have reduced them. The First Class, consisting of 7, can construe Sanscrit and English into Malayalim with tolerable fluency; can write a fair hand; and appear to take great delight in their studies. They have gone through the National Society's School-books on the National System, and have committed to memory several Catechisms and large portions of Scripture. The Boys in the Second Class, 8 in number, are learning to construe Sanscrit and English into Malayalim, and are familiar with the Catechism and various portions of Scripture. The remainder of the Boys, with the exception of some recently entered, are tolerably acquainted with the Malayalim Catechism, daily read the Gospel in that language, and commit portions of it to memory.

All the Boys daily attend Family Worship in Malayalim, with the Teachers and Servants of the Institution. Mr. Ridsdale adds—

There are some who, I trust, begin to feel the necessity of vital religion; and I have ascertained that private prayer is pretty general amongst them.

Mr. Baker has the charge of the PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS, the numbers in which will be seen from the subjoined Table:—

The children attending the Schools are nearly all Syrians. The Roman Catholics, Mahomedans, and Heathens still keep at a distance. In the Schools at Cotym there are a few; and in some of the others, where the Schoolmasters are Heathens, they bring one or two of their own relations; but there are not more than 40 children of other castes in all the Schools. The number of Scholars given in the Returns is about the average number that attend.

Of the state of the Schools, Mr. Baker thus reports—

They are in general going on pretty well, but are not so well attended as could be desired. The reason is, there are but few places where there is any considerable village near the Church; and the people, for the most part, live at a distance from it: so that it has been found requisite, in two instances, to remove the School as much as two miles from the Church, in order to be near the people; and, by this means, the number of scholars has more than doubled. There is a great desire among the schoolboys to read our printed books: the Schoolmasters give them leave, sometimes, to take home St. Matthew's Gospel, to read in their families.

Mr. Bailey, who conducts the PRESS, has been much occupied, during the last year, in the preparation of the Malayalim Types; and he has now a sufficient number ready to enable him to commence printing. On this subject he writes—

It cannot, of course, be expected that these types will be quite so correct and beautiful as we wish to have them; as it is the first attempt to cut and cast types here, and particularly as the persons employed in cutting them had no previous experience in the art. In order to give the new types a trial, we purpose striking off a few copies of a small Tract. The first regular Work that will be printed with them will, I hope, be the New Testament.

That more means are required for the greater efficiency of the Press, will be seen from Mr. Bailey's remarks:—

Mr. Thompson kindly promised to endeavour to get an experienced Printer sent out from England; and I hope he will be able to succeed, as such a person would be a most valuable acquisition to this Mission. We require another Press or two, as we shall have abundance of work for them when we begin to print the Scriptures.

Mr. Bailey's time has been so much occupied with the preparation of the Malayalim Types, that he has been unable to pay the same attention as before to the translation of the Scriptures, as appears from his remarks with reference to this subject:—

The revision of the Malayalim Translation of the Scriptures has not occupied so much of my time during the past twelve months as before, though it has not been wholly neglected. I believe I stated, in my last Report, that I had gone through the whole of the New Testament. I have not revised any part of the Old Testament since; but have again looked over the Gospels of St. Mark and St. John, the Acts of the Apostles, the Epistle to the Romans, and the two Epistles to the Corinthians; and have forwarded to the Committee of the Madras Auxiliary Bible Society, the variations from the English Authorised Version which occur in the Gospel of St. Luke. This Gospel now waits the sanction of the Committee of the Madras Bible Society to be printed.

There appears to be but little improvement among the Syrian Clergy, whose minds seem to be still wholly absorbed in things which cannot profit them, instead of being occupied in promoting the spiritual welfare of their flocks. The Missionaries, having noticed the death of the late Metropolitan, Mar Dionysius, on the 16th of May, thus express their sentiments on the occasion:—

That event was most sincerely felt and lamented by us all, as we really believed he was wishful to promote the best interests of the Church of which God had made him Overseer.

The wish frequently expressed by the Members of this Ancient Church, to receive a visit from some one appointed by the Mother Church of Antioch, has been recently gratified. The Rev. Thomas Carr, of Bombay, writes on the 9th of September—

There is, at present, in Bombay, a person respecting whom we have felt much interest, a Syrian Bishop, Mar Athanasius, appointed by the Patriarch of Antioch to be Metropolitan of the Syrian Church on the Malabar Coast. He left Merdeen and Damascus more than a year ago, accompanied by three Priests: two of the Priests died in Egypt; the other is now with the Bishop. They arrived in Bombay before the Bishop of Calcutta's departure, and were received by his Lordship with much cordiality and kindness. They have attended our Church, and received the Sacrament from the hands of our Bishop. Mr. Fenn, to whom a Letter was written informing him of the arrival of the Syrian Bishop, writes in answer, dated August 29—"We have mentioned the circumstance to the newly-elected Metropolitan and two of the principal Clergy. They are much delighted, and assure us that it will create no disunion, but be productive of great good." We cannot but feel anxious lest the measures now carrying on for the benefit of the Syrian Church should be interrupted; but it is consoling to reflect, as Mr. Fenn obseves, that "the care rests with that Heavenly Shepherd, who gave His life a ransom for many." They will proceed to Cochin as soon as the season will permit.

Some of the Syrian Churches have been repaired during the year, and others are in a course of repair. From Mr. Bailey's Report, we learn—

That it is in contemplation to have three or four more new Churches erected, at places where the inhabitants reside at too great a distance from the present places of Worship to allow of their attending Divine Service regularly.

Mr. Bailey adds—

No very great difficulty in accomplishing so desirable an object is anticipated. The people are willing to render assistance, but not to that extent that may be required: one or two Churches will, I doubt not, be erected entirely at the expense of the people.

Allepie.

The accession of a Labourer at this Station, by the marriage of the Rev. Thomas Norton, was mentioned in the last year's Report; and Mrs. Norton* appears to be a zealous and valuable Assistant to her Husband. Mr. James Roberts, whom the last Report mentioned as having been appointed by the Corresponding Committee to assist in the College at Cotym, has removed to this Station, and is employed in conducting one of the Schools.

Divine Service is performed at this Station every Sunday Morning, at 8 o'clock, by the Catechist, in Tamul. At half-past ten, Mr. Norton officiates in English; and at five in the evening, in Malayalim. There are also some Services on the evenings in the week, and an English Prayer-Meeting on Saturday Evening. About 30 persons, two or three of them Europeans and the rest Country-born, attend the English Services; and from 50 to 60, the Malayalim and Tamul. The average number of Communicants is 14.

In the Sunday SCHOOL under Mrs. Norton's care, there are 40 Scholars; and about a dozen young persons of both sexes attend her daily for instruction. Besides these, she has nine or ten Native Girls whom she teaches; and is thus fully occupied from nine in the morning till three in the afternoon. The Roman-Catholic Clergy have endeavoured to prevent the children from coming to Mrs. Norton, and some few have, in consequence, left; but the number has been made up by others.

There are, besides, three other Schools, of which Mr. J. Roberts and two Native Teachers have charge. The average number of children attending these Schools is 124.

Mr. Norton is very urgent in entreating assistance at this Station, and in recommending more enlarged operations. He writes—

We want more Schools in every direction: we want to adopt means for diffusing the Word of Life on every side, which, in our present state, cannot be done.

Multitudes of children, of both sexes, are in miserable circumstances. If something could be done toward the maintenance of 50 Boys and 50 Girls, this would prove, in time, in various ways, the greatest blessing to Travancore. If we had a number of children, immediately and always under our own eyes, in a course of instruction and attending on the Means of Grace, we should avoid the evil influence of the native manners and conversation; and might hope, with the Divine Blessing, to see the most salutary consequences follow. I have had frequent applications, of late, to receive children on such a plan: there are some already on the former charity foundation; and there are, besides, five boys and three girls desirous of being received. Having been nearly nine years in this place, and witnessed the ebbings and flowings to which the present system is exposed—the Schools having been frequently emptied by the threatening anathemas blowing from Verapoli—I am convinced of the advantages of the plan proposed.

Mr. Norton estimates the expense of each child at one pagoda per month, or about 5*l.* per annum. The increasing calls on the Society from all quarters would probably render it impracticable to devote 500*l.* per annum to this object; but here is another opening for the benevolence of those persons who may be disposed to promote the present and everlasting good of the Heathen, by contributing 5*l.* per annum to the Separate School-Fund of the Society for six years, in order to be applied to the support and instruction of a Heathen Child.

Cochin.

No Report has been received from this Station.

TELLICHERRY.

The Committee have received no intelligence of the School which has been established at this place.

NELLORE.

The Rev. J. F. Beddy, whose appointment to this Station was mentioned in the last Report, has had several severe attacks of illness, which have greatly impeded him in his study of the Teloogoo Language. Mrs. Beddy has also suffered from sickness for several months.

Mr. Beddy has commenced two English Services on the Sunday, which are attended by a Congregation varying from twelve to twenty persons. He has also established a Native School.

BOMBAY AND WESTERN-INDIA MISSION.

The health of Mr. Kenney's family, which compelled them to return to this country five years ago, not affording any hope of their being enabled to join him at Bombay, he has felt it his duty to return home; and was on the point of embarking at the date of the last despatches*.

The appointment of Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Steward to this Mission has been already stated. Their arrival will be welcomed by the Corresponding Committee at Bombay, whose Secretary, the Rev. Thomas Carr, writes—

Our Committee learned, with much pleasure, that two Missionaries have been set apart for the Bombay Mission. We shall be truly glad to receive them; but we should have been more pleased to hear that four or even six were likely to be sent out. There are many promising Stations on this side of India, and the country is very much unoccupied.

On the same subject he afterwards adds—

Could you send them out, six or eight Missionaries might be stationed in the Province of Guzerat alone.

There are many openings for Missionary Exertions on the Western Coast of India, of which the Committee would gladly avail themselves, if they had the means; and they give Mr. Carr's statement, in the hope that the increased liberality of the Christian Public, and additional offers of Missionary Services, will enable them to supply the wants of Western India more effectually than they have hitherto had it in their power. Mr. Carr says—

The whole of the Northern Concan is without a Missionary; and it would be very desirable, if possible, to place two there. They might either labour together, and thus strengthen each other's hands, and make excursions to distant places; or might separate to different towns in the district, as may appear most desirable; for the whole country is unoccupied.

The north of Guzerat is, also, altogether open. Two Missionaries might, as in the Northern Concan, reside together, say at Ahmedabad; and, when they had acquired a sufficient knowledge of the language, be stationed at different towns. The north of Guzerat opens a large and promising field: the people shew more independence and frankness of disposition than in the south; and there are many large towns, which, with the surrounding villages, would afford an extensive and varied field for a Missionary. There might be one principal Station in the province; and the subordinate Stations would not be so far apart, but that the Missionaries might meet, at least quarterly, to encourage and advise with one another.

* Mr. Kenney landed at Liverpool, on the 15th of June, having left Bombay on the 9th of January.

Missionaries in the Concan and Guzerat would have the advantage of the Scriptures, Tracts, and School Books being already translated into the languages of those Provinces; and into that of the Concan, of the Liturgy also.

The three Schools under Mr. Kenney's care consist of 113 Scholars. Their proficiency was noticed in the last Report, but no particulars have been lately received.

No Female Schools have yet been established in Bombay; but the Committee trust that Mr. Carr's anticipations will ere long be realized. Mr. Carr writes—

In Bombay, very little has been done to promote the Education of Native Females. The subject has been talked of; but, as there was no one on the spot to undertake the duty of active superintendence, nothing could be done. We would therefore earnestly press this subject on the attention of the Parent Committee; and express our fervent wish, that one or more of the Ladies who may come out should be prepared to undertake the work of Female Education. She and her Husband, of course, would be stationed in Bombay, where he also would find an ample field of labour. Every thing that can be said, and has been so well said by many, of the degraded state of the Native Females of India, will apply to the Western Provinces. May the Lord of the Harvest stir up the heart of some pious and zealous Female, to come to the help of her own sex in this part of the earth!

The Translation of the Liturgy into the Mahratta Language, in which Mr. Kenney was stated in the last Report to have been engaged, is now completed: and when the Bishop of Calcutta visited Bombay, he proposed that it should be printed at the Press of Bishop's College.

His Lordship, we learn from Mr. Carr, appointed, in Bombay, a Syndicate of Gentlemen, who are Mahratta Scholars, to revise the Translation and prepare it for the Press. The work of revision is now going on; and by the time our other Missionaries shall be able to use it, we hope it will be out of the Press.

On the 29th of November, a Meeting was held in the Vestry of St. Thomas's Church, for the purpose of forming an Auxiliary Church Missionary Society for this Presidency. The Honourable Sir C. H. Chambers took the Chair, and the Meeting was attended by several Civilians and Clergymen. Sir C. H. Chambers having briefly explained the principles and objects of the Parent Society, an Auxiliary was formed, under the usual Regulations. Francis Warden, Esq. (Member of Council), Richard Thomas Goodwin, Esq. (Member of Council), James Joseph Sparrow, Esq. (Provisional Member of Council), and the Hon. Sir Charles Harcourt Chambers (one of the Puisne Justices of the Supreme Court), were appointed Vice-Presidents; Messrs. Remington, Crawford and Co., Treasurers; and the Rev. Thomas Carr, Secretary. The Committee to consist of all the Clergymen of the Established Church, who are Members of the Society and not Missionaries, and Lay-Churchmen not exceeding eight: the following six Lay-Members were elected—James Farish, Esq. (one of the Secretaries to Government), Captain Burrowes (20th Foot), Captain J. T. Molesworth (11th N. I.), Captain G. Jervis (Engineers), Captain Tate (Engineers), and Captain Maughan (Marine).

CEYLON MISSION.

The appointment to this Mission of the Rev. James Selkirk and the Rev. G. C. Trimnell, with their Wives, was noticed under the head of Missionaries and Students. Mr. Selkirk is to assist Mr. Lambrick at Cotta, and Mr. Trimnell to aid Mr. Browning in his labours at Kandy. The loss which the Mission has sustained by the deaths of Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Knight has been already mentioned. Mr. Bailey is on the point of leaving this country; and will return to his former Station, Cotta, with the view of assisting Mr. Lambrick, who is heavily burdened, in addition to his Ministerial Duties, with the general concerns of the Mission. Mr. Bailey's two children remain at home, and will be educated under the care of the Society.

The Missionaries at Ceylon have had the benefit of their Diocesan's presence; of whose kind and paternal interest, in all their concerns, they speak in the highest terms of affection. The Bishop, accompanied by Mrs. Heber and their Daughter, who had joined him at Bombay, embarked at that place on the 15th of August for Ceylon. His Lordship landed at Galle on the 25th; and on Sunday the 28th held a Confirmation, and preached in the Fort Church. On the 30th, the Bishop reached Colombo, where he held a Visitation on the 1st of September; the Acting Archdeacon, the Rev. J. M. S. Glenie, preaching on the occasion. On the 14th, the Bishop set out with the Governor for Kandy; returned on the 20th and left on the 22d for Galle; from which place, after consecrating the Mission Church at Baddagame, he would embark for Calcutta.

The Seventh Annual Meeting of the Missionaries was held at Cotta in the early part of last September.

All the Missionaries were assembled, and attended the Bishop's Visitation, except Mr. Mayor, who was detained at Baddagame by indisposition. On his Lordship's arival in Galle Roads, Mr. Mayor had accompanied Mr. Glenie down the river on board; and being detained, by the high state of the water, all night in the boat, he caught a severe cold, which confined him for some time to his couch. Mr. Browning returned to Kandy before the Bishop visited it, in order to prepare some of his Congregation for Confirmation, and Mr. Ward returned to Baddagame with the same view: the Confirmation was to be held at Baddagame on the 25th of September, when the Church was to be consecrated. The season was too far advanced for the Bishop to visit Jaffna, but His Lordship intimated his intention of visiting that quarter of the Island from Madras. The Missionaries express themselves in the warmest terms of respect and affection for the paternal and cordial interest which the Bishop took in all their concerns.

The Bishop's visit to Ceylon affording the Missionaries an opportunity of obtaining his Lordship's counsel on several points connected with their work, they presented an Address to him, in which they detailed the circumstances of each Station, with their various difficulties and encouragements. In reply to this Address, the Bishop entered at considerable length on the subjects which they had submitted to his notice; and manifested such a spirit of kindness towards them, as much heightened their esteem and increased their affection for their revered Diocesan.

COTTA.

The Committee are happy to have been enabled to do something towards supplying the wants of this Station; and trust that the arrival of Mr. Selkirk and Mr. Bailey will relieve Mr. Lambrick from the burden under which he has so long laboured. He thus describes his situation:—

I am here, absolutely and literally alone: my Nephew having, for some months past, been residing in Colombo for the purpose of studying the art of Medicine. Will the Committee consider how much my mind must be distracted by the variety of things that are continually urging themselves on my attention—Household Affairs—the Printing Establishment—the preservation of the materials for building—the negociation of Bills and supplying the Stations with money—the care of seven Schools—the translation of the Scriptures—all these in addition to the main work of a Missionary, the preaching of the Gospel to the people, and visiting them in their houses. Of such an overweight of distracting occupations, the necessary result is, that many things, which ought to be done, are left undone; and of those which are attempted to be done, many are done incompletely. In the wide circle, around which the Committee have to cast their eyes, I will not say that they may not see one Station having claims upon them equally pressing with this; but I can hardly conceive one having more. Four Missionaries might be fully employed here. There are continually new applications for Schools within a short distance, where there might be preaching every Lord's Day.

Mr. Lambrick had felt not only the burden connected with the business of the Mission, but the loneliness of his situation; but this had been relieved by a visit from the Rev. S. and Mrs. Ridsdale on their way from Madras to Cotym, whose presence, with that of the Rev. James Hough, cheered and refreshed him exceedingly. The Rev. D. Poor, an American Missionary, had also passed a few days with him.

In the exercise of his MINISTRY, Mr. Lambrick had found very beneficial effects from personal visits to the Natives; which he thus noticed at the Annual Meeting in September:—

It is now about five months ago that I began the practice of visiting the people of the village, from house to house, every week-day. This has been continued without interruptions, excepting those which have recently occurred from the arrival of the Bishop. The people seemed a good deal excited, at first, by this manifestation of interest for them; and a great increase in my Congregation on the Lord's Day was the immediate result: and, though there has been a gradual diminution of this increase, the numbers continued much above what they were before the impulse was given; and, upon the whole, I am encouraged to hope that God will, in His own time, bless the means that are used by His own appointment.

In the last Report, it was stated that there were seven SCHOOLS under Mr. Lambrick's care. An eighth has since been established at Panikkamulla. The names of the different places where Schools have been opened, and the number of Scholars in each, will be seen from the following Table:—

Schools.	Boys.	Girls.	Total.
Cotta	28	..	28
Pagoda	20	6	26
Nawala	14	1	15
Mirihani	20	..	20
Walicada	26	..	26
Gangoda	20	..	20
Bœwila	17	7	24
Panikkamulla	23	5	28
	168	19	187

A new plan had been adopted, in the course of last year, of requiring every child to repeat a certain number of lessons; in failure of which, the Master is subject to a small fine. This has led to the discovery that the former lists were swelled by the names of children, who, though they attended occasionally, made little or no progress: there is, therefore, a reduction of the numbers on the School rolls.

Mr. Lambrick reports favourably of the three Youths maintained by the Society: they have all promising talents; are quiet and orderly in their demeanour; and manifest some concern in their own salvation.

The Buildings designed for the CHRISTIAN INSTITUTION had not been commenced in May last. At that date, Mr. Lambrick wrote—

The materials are now in a great measure collected on the spot; but, as the rainy season may soon be expected here, we defer the commencement of the undertaking for a few months.

Mr. Lambrick gives the following account of the PRESS—

We have two Founts of Singhalese Types; but neither of them is complete. There have been issued, since our last Meeting, 500 copies of a Singhalese Tract; 100 copies of the Gospel of St. Matthew, the circulation of which has been confined to our own Schools; and 250 copies of the First Part, the Accidence, of a Singhalese Grammar. A Vocabulary is preparing for the Press.

KANDY.

Mr. Trimnell's appointment to this Station has been already noticed; and his arrival will doubtless be welcomed by Mr. Browning, who appears to meet with many discouragements. Mrs. Browning's health had been impaired by an attack of fever; but a temporary change of residence, about the time of the Annual Meeting last year, proved, under the Divine Blessing, beneficial to her.

Mr. Browning has continued to exercise his MINISTRY both in public and private, though with little apparent success, and with a small attendance on Public Worship. On this subject he reports to the Meeting in September:—

My Congregations chiefly consist of a small number of Native Protestants, and the Children of the Schools. Very few of the Heathen can be induced to hear, or, if they come for a short time, to be at all regular in their attendance. At the prison, I come into more immediate contact with the Kandians, some of whom occasionally listen with attention, and make inquiries about what they hear; others manifest the greatest possible indifference: yet I rejoice that I am permitted to make known the Truth to them; and I pray God to impress it on their hearts.

Mr. Browning has had another opportunity afforded him for preaching the Gospel to many, who, otherwise, would not hear it, by the grant of a piece of land by Government, for the purpose of a Burial-Ground for the Protestant Christians, who were before compelled to bury their dead at the Roman-Catholic Chapel. He writes—

Of this, they have begun to avail themselves with great readiness; and as it frequently brings a company round me, under circumstances so solemn and interesting, I indulge the hope that I shall be able to improve it for their good.

Five individuals, of whom Mr. Browning hoped well, had been recommended by him to the Bishop for Confirmation.

The number of SCHOOLS under Mr. Browning's care is one less than was stated in the last Report; that at Pulawella having been discontinued, on account of its inefficient state. The number of Scholars in the other Schools were as follow:—

Kandy, English and Singhalese	45
Malabar	35
Æmbilmugama, Singhalese	18
Wellatte . . . Ditto	16
Total . . .	114

Mr. Browning notices the advantages of introducing the same plan as has been adopted at Cotta, of requiring a certain number of lessons from each child in the Schools.

A School-House has been lately erected, and will soon be ready for use: it is a good spacious room, 50 feet by 20; which will form a convenient place, both for the School and also for Public Worship.

Mr. Browning closes his Report to the Annual Meeting in September in the language of faith:—

Upon the whole, notwithstanding the discouragements I meet with in Kandy, I see abundant cause to bless God and take courage; and I would exhort each of my Brethren to renewed zeal in the Lord's work, under the full persuasion that He will ultimately bless our Labours.

BADDAGAME.

Mr. Mayor and Mr. Ward, who had suffered from indisposition, were, with their families, in the enjoyment of good health at the time of the Annual Meeting.

No journeys had been undertaken during the past year, for the furtherance of the Gospel among the Natives; but their labours had been confined to Baddagame and its neighbouring villages. The Bishop having requested that one of them would prepare the young people at Galle for Confirmation, Mr. Mayor removed there with his family in July, and continued there upward of a month; during which time he preached in the Church, three times in the week, to large Congregations of Europeans. While he was absent, the Afternoon Service at Baddagame was suspended, Mr. Ward not being equal to the performance of three services.

Concerning the exercise of their MINISTRY, the Missionaries state—

Our Services at the Church have continued the same as they were at our last Meeting, with the exception of the hour of the Wednesday's Lecture being changed to One in the Afternoon. This alteration was made for the purpose of securing the attendance of the Schools. The Service on Sunday Morning is attended by the Boys and Girls, generally amounting to upward of 100; and by an irregular number of Adults, the average number of whom may be about 60 or 70. In this Service, our admirable Litany is used in the Native Tongue, the Boys and some of the Congregation joining in the responses. The Afternoon Service has a smaller attendance. In the Evening, Prayers are read in English; and are followed by an Exposition, which is interpreted into Singhalese.

Mr. Ward and Mr. Mayor express their full conviction of the importance of private conversation with the people; and will act, the Committee doubt not, upon this plan, as far as circumstances will allow. On this subject they write—

Our visits among the people, for the purpose of preaching the Gospel to them at their own houses, have not been so regular nor so frequent as they were before the Church was opened; partly owing to our having more Services to perform at home than we had, and partly owing to the want of bodily strength. That important branch of Missionary Labour has not, however, been lost sight of nor neglected.

The last Report noticed the visit of the Kandian Priests, and the hope, though faint, which Mr. Ward and Mr. Mayor entertained of Bartimeus. That hope has not been realized; and, after a course of deception and hypocrisy, he, as well as the Priests, have departed in the same state in which they came, or, perhaps, more bigoted to their superstitions, and more prejudiced against the humiliating Truths of the Gospel.

The Committee are assured that the Society will know how to estimate the sound judgment which characterized the proceedings of the Missionaries with respect to Bartimeus, and will feel thankful that they were preserved from incautiously admitting him to Baptism. On this subject they write—

Twice we were about to admit him to the Font; when something occurred to develope his true character, and to enjoin on us the necessity of further delay. Sometimes he shewed much diligence in reading the Scriptures, and was almost daily inquiring from us the signification of those parts which he could not comprehend: sometimes he appeared to be deeply concerned about his salvation, and seemed dejected and sorrowful for his sins; but at others, he was light and trifling, and plainly shewed that the root of the matter was not in him. When he was spoken to on this part of his conduct, he would say, that his heart was not always the same.

Of the experience which they have derived from the conduct of this wretched man, they thus express themselves—

There is one respect in which we have profited by his case, and that is, the necessity of strict caution in the admission of Adult Natives to Baptism. We have seen also in him how awfully depraved the Natives, generally speaking, are; and of what an amazing degree of deception and hypocrisy they are capable.

They thus describe the feelings and motives of a faithful Missionary :—

To dwell among a people where, with few exceptions, the very existence of God is denied, His Holy Name blasphemed, His Word utterly disregarded, and His laws trampled on, must be painful to the mind of a true Christian. But to be instrumental, in the hands of God, in rescuing even one of them from their atheism, idolatry, and sin, and in bringing him to rely on the all-sufficient merits of Jesus Christ, our admirable Saviour, is enough to reconcile us to that, which, of itself, would be intolerable.

The sober and persevering spirit of faith by which these fellow-labourers in the Gospel are actuated, will appear from the following observations :—

In viewing the progress of the Gospel among the people around us, we are reminded of the words of our Lord, The kingdom of God cometh not with observation. There is no general excitement—no general moving of the people, as in the days of John the Baptist; saying, What shall we do? and What shall we do? The general aspect of the Station is discouraging; the Congregations are, comparatively, small; many of the Schools are badly attended; and the attendance of all is fluctuating and irregular. A superficial observer would conclude, perhaps, that our labours are in vain, and the conversion of the Natives impracticable: yet it may be truly said of them, The kingdom of God is among you. The Lord does not leave us without some evidence of His presence and blessing. Notwithstanding many apparently adverse circumstances, there is sufficient to encourage the faithful servant of the Lord, and to assure him, that His arm is not shortened, that it cannot save; nor His ear heavy, that it cannot hear.

The number of SCHOOLS connected with this Station was stated, in the last Report, to be seven. Of these, that at Kembia has been given up, on account of its great distance from the Station, which rendered it impossible to visit it; and that at Lelwella has been suspended, owing to the sickness of the Master, who has since left the village. At the time of the Annual Meeting, there had, consequently, been only five Schools in operation. The average attendance at these had declined: the Baddagame Boys' School having about 30; the Marjuana, from 12 to 14; the Gannegame, 14; the Booralookada, 15. The average number of Girls attending the School at Baddagame was not stated. In the summer half-year none of the Schools are so well attended as during the winter months. The death of Daniel, a young man who greatly assisted in taking charge of the Girls' School, while domestic circumstances prevented Mrs. Mayor and Mrs. Ward from attending to it, was a great loss to this Station.

On the proficiency of the Scholars, the Missionaries remark—

We should be happy if we could state any thing encouraging, as it respects Education; on which the expectations of many persons are principally placed. Some good progress, we trust, has been made in this department of labour; but it is partial and limited. With the exception of the Boys who are supported by the society, there are, comparatively, few who remain at school a sufficient length of time to derive much profit; and many of these come so very irregularly, that they do not even acquire a knowledge of the Alphabet.

The reasons of this neglect appear to be the ignorance and poverty of the Natives.

The total number of Youths and Children maintained and educated by the Society, in the hope of their becoming Teachers of their countrymen, is 14. Two of these, Elias and Abraham, were spoken of in favourable terms in the last Report. They continue to maintain the same character for diligence in their studies, and excite hopes that they are under the influence of religious principle. Daniel, whose death has been noticed, was another; and that event may teach the Servants of God, who are labouring at this Station under many discouragements, that their labour is not in vain in the Lord.

The following is the account which Mr. Ward and Mr. Mayor have given of Daniel:—

Over him we can rejoice, not only without trembling, but with great joy; since we have every reason to believe that he has been welcomed into those mansions, which the Saviour, in whom he trusted, had prepared for him. He read the Scriptures with considerable diligence, and was always remarkably attentive to the preaching of the Word. When he first came to us, we thought him proud of his abilities and knowledge: indeed he confessed, before his death, that he was altogether ignorant of his own state before he came to us. But his last illness seems to have been peculiarly blessed to him. Whenever any one visited him who he thought was a man of prayer, he immediately requested that the door might be shut, and that his visitor would pray for him. He had a strong affection for his parents and kindred; and often said, that he desired to recover, only that he might teach them and his countrymen the knowledge of Salvation. After Mr. Mayor had relinquished all hope of his recovery, he was taken by his relatives, in a palanquin, to his father's house; where, after lingering a few hours, he died in peace. A short time previous to his departure, some of his relations proposed to try the effects of a devil's ceremony, as the last resource. This he forbade in the most positive manner, declaring, that, if they persisted, he would be removed from the house.

Besides the Youths supported by the Society, there are three Pupils; two of them the sons of respectable Dutchmen of Galle; and the other a son of Mr. Austin, the Commissary of that place; who have lately been taken under instruction, in the hope of their becoming useful in the Mission. The Missionaries write—

We forbear to say any thing at present respecting their religious state. They are pursuing their English and Singhalese studies with becoming diligence.

Two sons of the Moodeliar of the Guard of Galle had been under instruction for several months at the beginning of last year; but they left Baddagame in June, to attend the marriage of their brother, and have not since returned.

NELLORE.

The Committee have the painful office of reporting the loss of two Labourers at this Station, by the deaths of Mrs. Knight, and of the Printer whom Mr. Rhenius procured from Madras. Mrs. Knight had suffered for some time under inflammation of the lungs, which became alarming about a month before her death: the disease seemed to have yielded to the operation of powerful medicines, when she was attacked with violent diarrhœa, which carried her off in about thirty hours: she died on the 26th of April. She has left an infant daughter by her last marriage, and two children by her first. Mr. Knight writes, in deep affliction, on the 10th of May—

On finding that her end was near, she gave her dying advice, with great earnestness, to all connected with the Station. She was about thirty-two years of age; and had been actively employed in the work of Missions for about eight years. She conversed in the Native Language with facility; and delighted much in giving instructions to the youth and others of her sex. May the Lord cheer us with Divine Consolations; and abundantly make up our loss, by pouring out His Holy Spirit on us and on the Heathen around!

Mr. Adley had suffered in his health; but, at the last dates, was somewhat better. He was applying himself to Tamul; and had begun to preach in English, once a fortnight, to a very attentive Congregation, at the Fort Church in Jaffna, which had been suspended from the time of Mr. Bailey's leaving: he preached also, at an earlier hour on Sunday Mornings, at Nellore, to the scholars and others. Mr. Knight had still the charge of Mr. David's Congregation, at St. John's Church in Jaffna; and laboured among them with good prospect of usefulness: at Nellore, also, a few Adults were seeking the salvation of their souls. On the evenings of Sunday and other days, the Missionaries visit the School Bungalows: the number of hearers, in addition to the Scholars, varies from 5 or 6 to 20 or 25; nothing like stated or regular Congregations being yet formed in the villages. They are assisted in their work by three Christian Natives, who act as Interpreter, School Inspector, and Reader: these Natives, with four others, meet the Missionaries weekly.

At the beginning of last year, Nellore experienced another visitation of that awful scourge, the cholera morbus; by which the SCHOOLS were, as on former occasions, much diminished. Some of them were entirely broken up; and two of them the Missionaries had not been able to collect again. Two others, also, which had previously been given up, for want of suitable Masters, were still suspended at the date of the last Annual Meeting. One new School had been opened during the year; which made the total number only eight, in which there were about 280 Boys, and 25 or 30 Girls.

In the FAMILY SCHOOL there were 18 Boys by the latest account. Some of these are very promising, and have, at times, evinced some concern for their eternal welfare. The Missionaries write—

While so much around us is cheerless and discouraging, we cannot but look on these Youths with hope, and with humble prayer that the labour bestowed on them may not be in vain.

Mrs. Adley had collected ten of the most promising Girls from the different Schools, to give them further instruction.

The hope which the Missionaries cherished of the utility of the PRESS seemed to be frustrated by the death of the Printer. A young man, however, who had accompanied him from Tranquebar, and some persons in the district, having some knowledge of the printing, many attempts were made to work the Press; but the papers, when printed, were hardly legible: 1500 copies of a Tract on Idolatry were struck off in the best manner that was practicable, and were distributed at the annual festival that took place at the great Heathen Temple near Nellore in August of last year.

The Missionaries, however, thus express their hope of finding the Press more efficient in future:—

By the kind assistance of the Rev. J. Callaway, when on a visit to Jaffna lately, and by the aid of a young man sent us by Br. Lambrick, we have now the prospect of printing in a more legible manner; and, as we have several Tracts &c. ready to print, we hope to be able to keep at least one of our Presses in constant employ.

In reference to the BUILDINGS at this Station, the Missionaries report, that Mr. and Mrs. Adley having entered on the rooms which were erected for the Printing Establishment, the Verandah, originally intended for the Youths who attend the Family School, was appropriated to the Printing Department; and it has been necessary to erect a new Building for the Boys, with a strict regard to economy.

AUSTRALASIA MISSION.

THE Committee have the pleasure to state, that an Auxiliary Church Missionary Society was formed in New South-Wales, in the beginning of last year. His Excellency Sir Thomas Brisbane has been pleased to accept of the office of PATRON, and his Honour Chief-Justice Forbes that of VICE-PATRON; the Rev. Samuel Marsden is PRESIDENT; A. K. M'Kenzie, Esq. TREASURER; and the Rev. Richard Hill, SECRETARY. The Committee consist of all Clergymen who are Members of the Society, and not less than six Lay Members. The following eight Gentlemen were appointed to act on the first Committee:—

H. C. Antill, Esq. J. P.—Saxe Bannister, Esq. (Attorney-General)—William Carter, Esq.—W. Cox, Esq.—G. Cox, Esq.—Hector M'Arthur, Esq.—James Norton, Esq.—and John Stephen, Esq. (Solicitor-General.)

An extract from a Circular issued on this occasion will shew that the circumstances of the Colony open a field for the Society's exertions:—

The late alarming and fatal contests which have occurred between the Aborigines and Europeans, as well as the increased extent of more populous coast, now occupied by the Settlement of Port Macquarie and the more recent Settlement of Moreton Bay, render it expedient to exert every prudent measure, to open and maintain a good understanding between the Europeans and the Aborigines; in order to prevent, in future, the destruction of property and the loss of human life: which desirable objects, it is believed, may be accomplished by the establishment of the long-projected Auxiliary Church Missionary Society; by which Missionaries may be appointed to reside among them, for the promotion of their civilization and general improvement, as well as, in other respects, to co-operate with the Parent Society.

The following are extracts from the Minutes of the Committee appointed at the General Meeting:—

Resolved, That the Chaplains be requested to preach to their respective Congregations, a Sermon on the subject of Missions, at their earliest convenience; and also to form Associations in their respective neighbourhoods.

Resolved, That the Committee invite Plans and Suggestions for the Improvement of the Aborigines, to be read at their Quarterly Meetings.

The President stated to the Committee, that if a proper person should offer himself to become a Missionary to the Aborigines, he would undertake, on behalf of the Church Missionary Society, to afford support for him for twelve months, or until a reply be received from the Society.

In communications addressed to the Society, both the President and the Secretary urge the Committee to send some self-denying and devoted Missionaries. Mr. Marsden writes, on the 7th of February—

Many of the Aborigines were murdered last year, and many of the Europeans by the Natives. I had two of my servants killed by the Natives, from a spirit of retaliation. These murders would be prevented, if we should be able to place proper Missionaries among the Natives in the interior—honest, plain, simple men, of principle and character; and who would be able to learn their language. As the Europeans are extending into the interior, the Natives will be finally extirpated, unless some measures be adopted to prevent crime; and this cannot be prevented, but by the blessing of God on the labours of Missionaries.

The Committee have great pleasure in stating, that His Excellency Sir Thomas Brisbane has granted, subject to the approbation of Government, 10,000 acres of land to the New South-Wales Auxiliary Church Missionary Society, for the purpose of establishing a Mission among the Aborigines.

NEW-ZEALAND SEMINARY IN NEW SOUTH-WALES.

The Buildings for the Seminary for New-Zealand Youths are nearly completed. The main building and the two wings are covered in, and the wings are inhabited. On the 17th March there were with Mr. Marsden five New-Zealand Youths, who had made considerable improvement. There were at that time about twelve New Zealanders in the Colony; with some Natives of Otaheite, the Friendly Islands, and other parts. On this Mr. Marsden remarks—

New South-Wales is the point from which the Light of the Gospel will shine on the unnumbered Islanders of the South Seas. It is pleasing to see them coming among us so freely, and with such implicit confidence.

BAY OF ISLANDS, NEW ZEALAND.*

The departure for New South-Wales of the Rev. William Williams and Mrs. Williams, accompanied by Mr. James Hamlin and his Wife, has been already noticed. They would proceed to New Zealand on the first opportunity. In February, Mr. Marsden writes, that Mr. Shepherd was come from New Zealand; and, in June, that Mr. William Hall and his family had also arrived, and were living in Sydney: Mr. Hall's health was very indifferent. Mr. Shepherd was recommended by the Committee of Missionaries to go to the Colony for medical advice. He had suffered from inflammation in his eyes, and was in danger of losing one of them. He received benefit under Dr. Macleod, the Governor's Physician, and was waiting, in June, for an opportunity to return. Mr. Marsden says of him—

Mr. Shepherd travelled, every other week, upward of 60 miles on foot, instructing the Natives. Lying out at nights, and travelling through swamps and rivers, may have occasioned the inflammation in his eyes.

To the three Stations, mentioned in the last year's Report, a fourth has been added, called Kauakaua, on the banks of the river of that name, and distant from Kiddeekiddee about 30 miles, and 12 or 14 from Pyhea. There is a water communication, by the rivers and bay, among all the Settlements. The Vessel which was building under the Rev. Henry Williams's superintendence, was just completed at the date of the last despatches. It will contribute much to the comfort and efficiency of the Mission, by enabling the Missionaries to hold a better communication with New South-Wales, and procure supplies with regularity, and with less dependence on the Natives and Shipping; and by affording them facilities to visit the various Tribes on the coast. Mr. Marsden writes on this subject—

* The details of this Mission, which it was intended to print in the latter Numbers of the Missionary Register of last year, as stated in a note at p.181 of the Twenty-fifth Report, did not appear, in consequence of the pressure of other matter; but a digest of all the important particulars was given at pp.158—164 of the Survey for the present year.

There are unnumbered small harbours, where a suitable Vessel could go in with safety, and the Missionaries would find easy access to the Natives; by which they would be able to render them the most essential service, and prepare them for the reception of the Gospel. On the west side of the Islands the population is very great; and I see no difficulty now in the Missionaries extending themselves to distant Tribes. We have several Natives in the Colony, who arrived from the southward of Cook's Straits. I have had some conversation with them. They knew my name well, and had heard much of the Missionaries. I am convinced there would be no danger now for a Missionary in visiting any of those Tribes, or residing with them; but nothing can be done in this way without a small Vessel. Mr. Shepherd would be very ready to go to Gambier River, to live with the Natives there, if he could get his supplies; but these, from the nature of the country, cannot be conveyed by land. The New Zealanders themselves are very fond of the sea; and would feel much pleasure in being able to visit their friends in distant parts, without the dangers which they now encounter in their canoes, which are often upset, and many of them find a watery grave.

Rangheehoo.

Since Mr. Hall's departure for New South-Wales, the care of this Station has devolved on Mr. King. The Services on the Sunday are continued, and Mr. King visits the Natives at Rangheehoo, Kaishiki, and other places as usual.

In his Report to the Quarterly Meeting in April 1825, Mr. King states, that the children had been irregular in their attendance at SCHOOL; some having gone on a war-expedition, while others were employed in assisting their parents.

In September, Mr. King writes—

I have taught eight Boys to read; they are capable of reading the Bible, were it translated into their tongue. Some of them can read with ease all the Dialogues contained in the Grammar of their language; they are also learning to spell, and write, and form sentences on their slates: they are taught from time to time the way of death by sin, and the way of life by Jesus Christ.

The disposition of the Natives towards the Missionaries appears, from Mr. Hall's account of them in February, to be improving:—

The Natives at Rangheehoo are certainly much civilized; and, in general, are well disposed toward us. For a great while past, the principal inhabitants of the village have visited our houses in a most civil and peaceable manner: and there is scarcely a day passes, but some of them come or send for a little tea, or bread, for their sick; and, in such cases, we always make a point of supplying them.

In September, Mr. King writes on the same subject—

Since Mr. Hall left this place, the Natives have behaved quietly towards us, and are very desirous that another family should come to live with us. Though there are no evident marks of true conversion to God, yet His Word, I trust, is conveying light and knowledge to their minds, and it will prosper according to His will.

Kiddeekiddee.

Mr. and Mrs. Kemp, with Mr. and Mrs. Clarke, have the charge of this Station; Mr. Shepherd having, as has been stated, gone to New South-Wales; and Mr. Richard Davis, with his family and Mr. Charles Davis, having removed to Pyhea.

The opening of a Chapel was noticed in the last Report; and Mr. Kemp gives the following account of the manner of conducting the Service, previous to Mr. Shepherd's departure:—

We continue to meet the Natives every Sabbath Morning in our Chapel, and all who like to attend may: sometimes we have from 20 to 30 present. After reading the Confession and Commandments, Mr. Shepherd addresses them from some portion of Scripture: he endeavours to speak as plainly as he can, that they may understand what he says; and, after the Service is over, they often make inquiries among themselves about what has been said.

In September, Mr. Kemp writes—

I feel encouraged to persevere in the work, from seeing the Natives attend regularly to the means of instruction. The Apostle says, Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the Word of God; and, as that blessed Word of Truth is beginning to be made known to them, we may expect to see a blessing attend it; for by the preaching of the Gospel, God is pleased to save them that believe. The Word of God is still powerful and efficacious, through the power of the Holy Spirit, to change and subdue the heart of the most savage New Zealander.

The SCHOOLS have suffered much from continual wars, which greatly unsettle both Adults and Children. In April Mr. Clarke reported, that his encouragements from the Schools had not been so great during the quarter just ended as in the preceding one. Some of the Scholars had been taken away; but during the greater part of the quarter he had had six Boys and four Girls living with him; who, together with two Adults whom he had employed, had regularly attended a course of instruction in reading and writing, and some of whom were fast improving.

In March, Mr. Clarke writes—

Experience teaches me not to be sanguine about them: they may soon leave, and I may have the work to begin again. Almost all our Adults are gone to the fight, so that we have here our work to begin again. These are great trials to us, and such as we may expect in New Zealand. May the Lord grant us a great share of patience and perseverance!

Mrs. Clarke and Mrs. Kemp have each several Native Girls residing in the family, who are trained up in domestic employments, and to whom they give religious instruction. Mrs. Clarke has also a School five days in the week, which ten or twelve other Girls attend.

In September, Mr. Clarke appears to be much encouraged by the state of the Schools. He says—

We have under a course of instruction 16 Boys and Girls, some of whom can not only read the Dialogues in the Grammar, but two of them will write New-Zealand sentences correctly, from hearing them spoken. They have commenced writing in copy-books; and I hope, if they continue with me a little longer, to see them placing their thoughts in a proper manner on paper. I feel convinced, that, were they now to leave me, I should find little difficulty, so far as I am acquainted with the language, in corresponding with them.

On the facilities for communicating instruction by means of the children, Mr. Clarke makes the following remarks:—

There is a communicative disposition in the New-Zealand Children, from which much good may result. All that we do and say, as well as what we teach, whether on religious or other topics, spreads through the different Tribes around us by means of those who have lived or do live with us. In this way, I hope that the Children will be useful in teaching others. But that which gives, as it were, new vigour and life to me, in my sometimes difficult work, is the hope of soon seeing some portion of the Word of Life in the hands of those who are now under my instruction, that they may read for themselves, and to their poor superstitious ignorant friends, the will of God. I hope the period is not far distant.

Mr. Kemp and Mr. Clarke attend the Adult School every evening. Of the plan on which they proceed, Mr. Kemp gives the following account:—

Besides instructing them in their letters, we endeavour to impart to them the knowledge of God, by asking them questions; and by this mode of instruction we may convey the most important truths to their minds, and in time, I trust, shall be made the means of bringing them to the knowledge of God.

The difficulties with which the Mission has to contend will be clearly seen from the following view of the native character given by Mr. Clarke:—

The great cry of the Natives is, "Who will supply us with muskets, lead, and gunpowder?" There are no inquiries after God, and His Christ, and Salvation by Him;—no bowels of mercy toward their slaves, and those whom caprice makes enemies. For a musket, a New Zealander will labour hard, and fare hard, for many months: in fact, it is his idol: he values it more than all he possesses: he will not only part with his slaves for one, but will even prostitute his children for one of these instruments of destruction.

Notwithstanding the numerous difficulties which Mr. Clarke and his Companions have to encounter, he thus expresses his confidence as to the ultimate success of the Mission:—

I have no more doubt respecting the conversion of the New Zealanders now, than I had when I first engaged with the Society. It is true, the Lord may be pleased to try our faith in various ways: some of us may be obliged to leave our post for a time: yet I dare not suppose, for a moment, that the Gospel will be ever beaten from New-Zealand's coast. Amidst all our trials, New Zealand still holds out encouragements to the faithful Missionary. I might notice the fact of our being able to continue among them; but I pass on to notice the dissatisfaction of many of the Natives with whom I have conversed: they feel how inferior they are, as a people, to civilized countries; and begin to desire that their children should be educated. Schools are not only formed, but the children begin to read and write in their own tongue: what may we not expect, by God's blessing, from educated children and from Schools? Added to these encouragements, the sure Word of Promise tells us that there is nothing dubious in our work; but that in due time we shall reap, if we faint not.

Mr. Kemp's sentiments on the subject are of the same character:—

Were we to look on the state of these poor degraded Heathens, without having the promises of God's Word to support us, we might justly say, How can these things be accomplished? Indeed, we might then despair of ever seeing these poor Heathens brought out of their lost state. But since God has given us such exceeding great and precious promises, that they shall be brought into the fold of God, and become the subjects of His grace, what cause have we to fear? The Lord hath said that He will give His Son the Heathen for His inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for His possession—and that all nations shall call Him blessed.

Towards the close of the year, Shunghee and his party being engaged in preparing for a war-expedition, the Missionaries determined on proposing a conference with the Chiefs, for the purpose of dissuading them from the war. Of the proceedings on this occasion, Mr. Williams gives the following account:—

It was agreed by us to issue notice, that, on the Tuesday following, we should meet for the purpose of conversing with them, but we did not express the object of the Meeting. As it was something new, it excited considerable interest, and all were desirous to know what we could have to say. The day at length arrived; and, at noon, Shunghee and six of the Chiefs met us at Mr. Kemp's house: their behaviour was very pleasing, and the Meeting exceedingly interesting: though Shunghee said that he must go to revenge the death of his son, it certainly has had considerable effect, and comparatively few are gone.

Mr. Williams concludes—

Our hopes are much raised by these beginnings; and I look for the breaking forth of that glorious day of Grace, when these people shall be created anew.

From the latest despatches, it appears that the instruction of the Natives had been attended with favourable circumstances. On the 31st of December, Mr. Kemp writes—

I am happy to say that there is great encouragement from the rising generation; those who live with us manifest a great desire to read and write; and many of those about us have, during the last twelve months, made considerable progress. Our visits among the Natives on the Sunday are also encouraging: by going out among them, we have a greater opportunity of extending our usefulness; and they are generally more attentive when we go to their places, than they are when at our Settlement. The Chiefs manifest a pleasure and delight in seeing us, and generally are very attentive to what we say: they often ask questions about our Religion. We see a much greater spirit of inquiry among them, and a greater desire to be taught those things which make for their eternal peace, than ever we saw. May the Lord increase that spirit more and more! and may it stimulate us to labour and pray with more earnestness for the salvation of their souls!

Pyhea.

The Rev. Henry Williams and Mrs. Williams, with Mr. and Mrs. Fairburn, continue at this Station; and were joined, in March last, by Mr. Richard Davis and his family, and Mr. Charles Davis, who, it was probable, would remove to the new Station at Kauakaua in the course of the summer.

The Morning Service on the Sunday commences at eight o'clock; and after it is over, those who are engaged in the Mission visit the Natives within a distance of seven miles from the Station.

During the former part of the year, things wore a very gloomy aspect. The inhabitants of Whangarooa Bay had seized the Brig Mercury from Port Jackson; the people of the Bay of Islands became, in consequence, unsettled and menacing; while the scarcity of provisions pressed hard on the Settlers. Under these circumstances, Mr. R. Davis writes, in April 1825—

This Mission is, at this time, in a dark state: we are surrounded by enemies, and have foes without and within. The hand of the Lord is very visibly to be seen in the formation and protection of this Mission. We MAY be obliged for a time to leave New Zealand: we may be even entombed in the bowels of these cannibals; but the Cause of Christ it is beyond the reach of Satan's power to hinder. We may, with propriety, use the language of the Apostle—Cast down, but not destroyed. We are cast down in our minds, it is true; but this is for want of faith. O Lord, increase our faith! In their temporal concerns, the Natives have been much benefited; but I am fully convinced that all which we can do in New Zealand, with respect to the civilization of the Natives, will have no great effect on their minds: it is the preaching of the Gospe of Christ which will benefit the New Zealanders.

In March, Mr. Williams gives the following view of the state of things—

Our visits to the Natives are as usual: they generally appear interested in any of the historical passages of Scripture; but are as dead and insensible to the necessity of Redemption as the very brutes. On Sunday, we asked a Chief, where we visited, why the people did not attend, as they knew that we were coming: he replied, that they did not care about such things: all that they thought of, was eating and drinking and fighting: he had told them, but they would not come: if we had come to talk about any thing else, or to give articles of trade, we should have had numbers. This is very true. We then addressed some serious words to them—that though they would not hear, yet what we told them would certainly come to pass; and that, should they die in their present state, they must everlastingly be banished to the place of darkness and fire. Speaking on the Work of Redemption, they said that they could not understand it; and immediately retired into their dark places of abode, as utterly regardless of what was said. The dominion of Satan was never more visible to me, and that this great work can be accomplished only by the Divine Power.

In April, though the conduct of the Natives had been quiet, the indifference which they manifested was most distressing. Mr. Williams remarks on this—

If the time has not arrived when these people will receive our message, certainly that time has, when the servants of the Lord should, in humble supplication, pour out their prayers to Him to remove the veil from the eyes and hearts of this people.

As the year advanced, it pleased God to manifest His grace in the conversion of an aged Chief, named Ranghi*, and to encourage His servants by the improved conduct of the Natives and their readiness to receive instruction. After stating the particulars of the conversion and baptism of Ranghi, Mr. H. Williams writes—

We trust that a breach has been accomplished in the strong-holds of the great enemy of souls, by the arm of the Lord of Hosts. One foundation-stone is removed, and more are loosened around. There are many circumstances, which combine to strengthen our hopes that the glorious rising of the Sun of Righteousness will soon be seen in this land. May the Christian Church be roused, and feel the important duty of earnest supplication to its Great Head! And may we, also, who are in the field, ever be remembered by you!

The state of the Mission is as it never was before—universal peace, unity, and joy in the Holy Ghost.

Mercies innumerable have been bestowed upon us all. Within these two months, Mrs. King, Mrs. Davis, and Mrs. Williams, have been safely delivered each of a boy.

Mr. R. Davis remarks concerning the same circumstances—

The spiritual prospects of the Mission brighten much; and, at this time, promise fair for an abundant harvest. The divine light of the Gospel is beginning, I trust, to dawn on the minds of the New Zealanders. Their superstitions are giving way, and a spirit of inquiry is visible among them. Glory be to God! we have now a good hope that the foundation of the Church of Christ is laid in New Zealand.

On the 10th of September, Mr. H. Williams writes—

It is with gratitude to the God of all grace and consolation, that I now prepare these documents for England. You, no doubt, will have felt distress of mind at the appearance of affairs here, at the close of our last communications. We were greatly exercised at that time, and could not see how things would terminate. All is now quietness around. We are treated with as much attention and respect as we could possibly wish; and the people receive us with kindness, wherever we go. Their behaviour has been universally respectful, for several months past: they appear, in a degree, disciplined to our mode of proceeding; and submit to our regulations and restrictions. On our first landing, they would climb our fences, pry into every corner, and enter our houses at will; but now they wait to be asked in: and if any one should stray where he should not, a single word will generally set all right. When strangers come near, as they do at times in large parties, and are disposed to be troublesome, our own Natives will explain our customs. They will, however, thieve on all occasions; and frequently put us to considerable loss, without benefiting themselves: but it is encouraging to see them improve in any respect.

On all occasions, we speak against their tapus (tabooing, or consecrating persons or things). Their superstitions are very extensive; but, around us, we certainly find that they are giving way. When we are requested to attend the sick, we do not visit if we observe any appearance of this kind. When a person is seriously ill, they will remove him out of the house, and deny him food: we reverse this—otherwise we leave them. Our remedies have universally been blessed; and they will ask to be bled and blistered on slight ailments, having witnessed the recovery of two or three who were severely ill with inflammatory disorders.

They are now urgent for our visits on the Sabbath, and professedly abstain from work on that day. Within seven miles around us there is a vast population, which might occupy the daily attention of six or eight Missionaries. At present, we find it impossible to appropriate more than the Sabbath to visiting them.

He subsequently adds—

The Natives receive us with kindness, and hear what we say with attention; but the dominion of Satan over them is very apparent: yet are there very many circumstances which concur to encourage us, and convince us that the Lord despiseth not the day of small things.

Mr. R. Davis's Journal details several interesting conversations which had been held with the Natives, whose behaviour and remarks indicate a desire for spiritual instruction. On one occasion, the people at Te Puki listened with attention, expressed their joy at being instructed, and, on Mr. Davis and his companion leaving them, anxiously inquired when they would visit them again. On another visit to the same place, Mr. Davis writes—

We found between twenty and thirty people assembled to hear what we had to say to them: the principal Chief told us that they were come from a place which was full three miles distant, for the purpose of receiving the benefit of our instructions.

His account of another interview will be read with pleasure:—

At Te Puki, the principal Chief and some of the people were absent: to those who were present we spoke of the things of God. Just as we had concluded, we saw the others on their way home. We waited till their arrival; and witnessed, with delight, the haste they made, by running across a valley, when they saw their countrymen assembled at the place of worship. The first person that came was a Chief, all over perspiration, with a child at his back: he said that he had been to let the people know it was the Sabbath, and to fetch them home to meet us. In a short time, the principal Chief arrived, who had also a child at his back. The first words he said, after we had shook hands, were, "I have been fishing to-day:" I replied, "That is very bad." He answered, "My heart is very sick about it; but I did not know it was the Sabbath." He said also, "It was my intention to have had a great fight with you, as my heart told me that you did not intend to visit us, but had given over coming to our place." We told him that the badness of the weather had hindered us from coming regularly—that we had not given up visiting them, nor had we the least intention of so doing—that our hearts were full of love toward them, and that we longed greatly for the salvation of their souls. He said, "It would have been very bad for you to leave us, as we are very desirous to receive your instructions. Perhaps some of you will come and live with us; and if so, we shall gladly give you our place; and we will be your servants, and do all your work."

On this conversation, Mr. Davis remarks—

It would have rejoiced the hearts of the Christians in England, if they had seen these poor savages run across the valley to meet us. Some time ago, we gave them a wooden calendar, to enable them, by daily removing a peg, to distinguish the Sabbath. The circumstance of the Chief going three miles to apprise his friends of its being the Sabbath, and the uneasiness of the other Chief on account of his having fished on that day, evidently shewed that they had not only made use of the means which we had given them to distinguish the Sabbath, but that they had attended to our instructions to keep it holy.

The last despatches give a favourable account of the disposition of the Natives; and Mr. Williams, in a Letter dated the 26th of December, expresses his gratitude to the Great Head of the Church for the peace enjoyed through the Mission temporally and spiritually. There were, at that time, thirteen Natives employed by him and his companions, at Pyhea, of whom he reports—

They are instructed every morning; and are frequently occupied during the day, by themselves, in spelling and writing: some make considerable progress.

He adds—

At Kiddeekiddee and Ranghehoo, the Boys read and write well.

The conversion of Christian Ranghi had occasioned much conversation among the Natives, and led them to ask many questions of the Missionaries.

The Schooner, which Mr. Williams has been for some time occupied in building, was almost completed; and it was his intention to proceed in her, with Mr. Fairburn, to the Colony. He says—

The Vessel will be finished this week; and it is our intention to launch her at the full moon: she has been of vast labour, but, I doubt not, will prove of considerable advantage.

Kauakaua.

This place, which has been selected for a new Station, is about ten miles south of Pyhea, on the bank of a beautiful river which falls into the Bay; and appears to be a desirable situation, for the purposes of agriculture. Mr. Davis reports of it as follows:—

The land which I have selected for cultivation is on the banks of the river, and is very rich. During the winter it is occasionally overflowed at high water, which tends much to fertilize the soil. It is, at present, covered with small timber and brush-wood. The quantity purchased does not exceed ten acres, it being recommended by the Brethren that land should be purchased only as wanted; as it would be a greater benefit to the Natives to have at one time only a few articles of trade, than it would be to have all the payment at once for a great quantity of land. Two acres are sown with wheat, which is growing very luxuriantly. I have no doubt, should it please God to spare me and I can get the Natives to work, but I shall be able to raise, in the course of another year, a sufficient quantity of wheat to support the Mission.

WEST-INDIES MISSION.

THE visit of the Bishop of Barbadoes to this Country afforded the Committee an opportunity of communicating with him on the subject of their proceedings in the West Indies. His Lordship, in several interviews which the Senior Secretary had with him, manifested a friendly disposition toward the Society; and assured him of his readiness to receive its Schools under his protection, on the same footing as those which have been established by the "Incorporated Society for the Conversion and Religious Instruction of the Negro Slaves."

Jamaica.

The Committee, having been invited by a valued friend to assist in the instruction of Negroes on his Estates in this Island, were happy to embrace such an opening for usefulness; and Mr. Taylor and Mr. Jones, whose departure has been before noticed, were sent out for this purpose. They reached Jamaica about the middle of last January; and, on their arrival, waited on the Bishop, who received them with kindness, and promised them every assistance in his power.

Mr. Jones had commenced, in February, the instruction of the Adults, who appeared thankful for the privilege, and attentive. They meet in a room in the Overseer's house, on Sunday Mornings and Thursday Evenings; and between 30 and 40 attend every evening, at Mr. Jones' house, for instruction.

Mr. Taylor, not having had a School-Room appropriated, had not commenced a regular system with the Children, but had assembled the Adults for instruction on the Sunday.

Antigua.

The following Table contains a summary of the Returns which have been transmitted from the various Schools connected with the Society in the Island of Antigua, with the exception of that at Old Road:—

At the School on Byam's Estate, the Ladies of the Family attend daily, to teach and catechize the Children; thereby setting an example which the Committee earnestly hope many others may be induced to follow.

Barbadoes.

In the beginning of August, the Lord Bishop took the Colonial Charity School under his own charge: it contained 114 Boys and 44 Girls, making a total of 158 Scholars; of whom 81 were Slaves, and 77 Free. Six of them, after having been examined by the Rev. William Garnett, the Rector, were admitted to Confirmation by the Bishop, last July.

From the Schools in Dominica and St. Vincent's no Returns have been received.

NORTH-WEST AMERICA MISSION.

THE arrival of the Rev. William Cockran at the Settlement at Red River, was stated under the head of "Missionaries and Students," as well as the return of Mr. and Mrs. Harbidge to this Country: Mr. William Garrioch has succeeded Mr. Harbidge, in the charge of the Boys' School.

The Rev. David Jones's health has suffered from the extremes of heat and cold which characterize the climate; but he reports, in May, that it was then better than it had been since his arrival in that country. In the month of June he was in the enjoyment of good health.

With reference to his MINISTRY, Mr. Jones writes—

The Lord is daily adding new encouragements to the friends of Religion in this Country: every thing in and out of the Colony wears a very highly interesting and promising aspect. I preach at both Churches every Sunday, and, if I have no calls to visit the sick &c., catechize the Indian School, at my own house, in the evening. I have two Weekly Lectures; one on Tuesday Evening, at Image Plain, about ten miles from my residence; and the other on Wednesday Evening, at the Upper Church.

The New Church, which the last Report stated to be in progress, has been completed, and was opened for Divine Service on the 30th of January. The Congregations at both Churches are large and attentive; and although, during the winter half-year, the Afternoon Service is not so well attended as that in the Morning, in consequence of some of the people having to return home nine or ten miles, yet the circumstance of their coming from such a distance indicates an anxious desire for Divine Truth, which must be most gratifying to those who are labouring among them.

Mr. Garrioch gives an encouraging account of the growing seriousness and attention of the people in the vicinity of Image Plain. A Prayer-Meeting had been established there, which is well attended; and several engage in public prayer, in behalf of a Cause which they once opposed. In March 1825, Mr. Jones attended this Meeting; of which he gives the following account:—

I believe and hope that the Word has taken hold of many in that quarter. To God be all the praise! I read and expounded to them the latter part of the VI^th^ of Romans. The attention was great, and many shed tears: at the close, they blessed the Lord for sending me to them; and begged that I would come again; which I promised to do, as often as my duties would allow, and travelling was practicable.

And, on another occasion, in the same month—

The track was so extremely bad, that I was obliged to leave my horse, and wade, for the last three miles, through water lodged on the surface of the ice, to the depth of 18 inches. A crowded audience as usual.

Mr. Jones has not transmitted any statement of the numbers in the SCHOOLS; but gives a favourable account of the readiness of Parents to send their Children, and of the disposition which the Children manifest for instruction. He has engaged Mr. Bunn to keep the School at the New Church; and hopes to raise a sufficient sum among the inhabitants to pay his salary; many of the Settlers, Europeans, Canadians, and Half-Breeds, having professed their willingness to support such a charge.

Four Indian Boys from Port Nelson River have been received into the School, together with two others, the sons of Indian Chiefs, who were brought by Governor Simpson from the neighbourhood of the Columbia. While Christian Education is carrying on, habits of industry, it is hoped, will be formed. On this subject, Mr. Jones writes—

The Indian Boys are hard at work, breaking-up a very sturdy piece of ground for an enlargement of their gardens. They work well for a short time; and I wish not to force them, but, on the contrary, I order them to leave off when they begin to flag, and then they soon take up the hoe again; whereas, otherwise, they would be disgusted.

Mr. Jones mentions the following circumstances, to shew the improving spirit of industry among the people:—

Several Indians, young men from 15 to 20 years of age, have been very urgent lately to be admitted into our establishment: they say, that their parents want them to leave off the Indian life; and that they would work in the day, and learn to read in the evening.

Of the First Class in the Sunday School, of which Mr. Jones took charge, he writes—

I have now taken them through the History of the Israelites, to their second settlement in Jerusalem under Ezra and Nehemiah. I commence every Sunday Morning with recapitulating what we have read on the preceding Sunday, and by this means they have obtained a very circumstantial knowledge of it: this I deemed necessary, in order to give them a clearer view of the links that connect the Old and New Testaments together, as well as to facilitate the explanation of various parts of the writings of the Prophets.

When Mr. Jones commenced the Service at the New Church, he was compelled to give up the instruction of this Class. He addressed them on the last Sunday of his attendance at the School; on which occasion they seemed to feel much at the separation.

Two of the Indian Boys under Mr. Jones's care died in the course of the year; one of whom, though far inferior to any Boy of the School in point of intellect, gave satisfactory evidence of his Religious Knowledge, when asked—

"Should you die soon, where do you think you will go?" He replied, "I hope to the good place."—"Can you tell me why you hope so?" "Because Jesus Christ loves me."—"What reason have you to think so?" "The Testament says, He died for sinners."

The Relatives of this Boy, among whom were his Mother and Grandfather, came from Beaver Creek, a distance of 300 miles, to cry over the grave. They brought from the Father a present to Mr.

Jones of four moose-skins, and left him with expressions of gratitude and confidence.

Governor Simpson's intention to visit the country west of the Rocky Mountains was noticed in the last Report. He was enabled to fulfil his intention, and to ascertain what facilities that Country affords for Missionary Labours. On his return, the Governor communicated with Mr. Jones in the most kind manner, and detailed a number of circumstances most favourable to such an object. The climate is healthy—the Natives are stationary—the Country rich and productive—the Indians are not only favourably disposed, but are earnestly soliciting the boon of Christian Instruction at our hands. Governor Simpson told him, that the only subject of importance with them was, whether they should have Missionaries to teach them the knowledge of the "Great Master of Life." On this subject, Mr. Jones thus expresses himself:—

I confess, I think there is something peculiarly grand in the prospect, and I hail the opening with emotions of the liveliest joy. The exertions of the Eastern and the Western World are hastening to a collision, with rapid and gigantic strides. The North-West-American Missionary may stand on the summit of the Rocky Mountains, and stretch forth his hand toward the waters of the Great Southern Sea, and hail his brother Labourers in the Islands; while he may in his horizon see the dawn of that happy day when the knowledge of Him, whom to know is life eternal, shall overshadow the whole world, as the mighty waters now cover the abyss of the ocean that separates him from them!

The general state of the Mission will be seen from the following view given of it by Mr. Jones:—

The work of the Lord is growing daily: I am hardly a day without some new encouragement to proceed; and both Churches are always crowded—our weekly social meetings are still increasing—and the Sunday School will now be placed on a more efficient footing than it has hitherto been, owing to Mrs. Cockran assuming the charge of the female department. I have this summer received Five additional Native Boys to the School—one a young Esquimaux from Chesterfield's Inlet, a most interesting child: he reads well, and understands much of the Esquimaux Testament as translated by the Moravian Missionaries on the coast of Labrador.

Of himself, Mr. Jones says—

Though far from enjoying good health, the Lord deals very gently with me; and I trust I can say, that, while the outward man continues to remind me of the eternal world, the inward strengthens daily: my labours are my comforts—my weakness is my strength—and my encouragements my constant joy in the midst of my tribulations.

The Committee will conclude their review of this Mission with an Extract from Mr. Jones's Journal; which, while it describes the improvement already effected by Christianity, points out the prospects which are opening on North-West America:—

To watch the progress of the Gospel in a foreign land, to which it has of late been carried, is, to the mind of the Christian, the most interesting of all subjects: the gradual diminution of the opposition to its propagation—the growing attention to the preaching of it—the increasing veneration for its ordinances, precepts, and injunctions—the more steady and full attendance on public worship—and the community, in proportion to its extent, assimilating daily to the scenes which the observer has been rendered familiar with in his native country—all these particulars, without coming to the vital part of the subject, are so many proofs that the Servants of God spend not their strength in vain, and that the liberality of a benevolent Christian World is not lost or thrown away in supporting the Cause of Missions. But when, in addition to this, we see the inward progress of Divine Grace on the human heart—when tears of repentance are shed—when those powers and affections, once devoted to the service of the god of this world, are beginning to flow in a different channel, and in an opposite course—the subject becomes an interesting and an animating one indeed; and, with such prospects and such feelings, let not the Missionary cast one longing lingering look behind—let not Christians grow tired or weary in well doing: our reward is sure! All this, I may venture to say, I daily witness at Red-River Colony; and I feel perfectly sure, that, ere long, we shall see greater things than these; or rather, that we shall see these things in greater perfection.

With such a prospect am I animated; and, though the work of a Minister in this Country is attended with peculiar toils and privations, it is also attended with peculiar encouragements. I cannot for a moment doubt but that the Lord has sent me to this place: He has given me my work for the present: and I hope, that, if I see the cloud and pillar move, I shall be ready to move also. This is the work—this the glory!

In concluding their Report, the Committee desire to impress on the mind of every Member of the Society, that, amidst the various wants which it experiences, the most urgent is that of faithful and zealous men, who are willing to devote themselves to this Cause. The number of those who offer, it is true, does not diminish; but the supply does not keep pace with the demand. While Christians are becoming more interested in Missionary Objects—while the Funds of the Society are increasing—while opportunities of usefulness are opening—while Christian Teachers are welcomed by the Heathen, and the fields are whitening to the Harvest—there are but few, comparatively, to gather it in; and their number bears a very undue proportion to the exigencies of the Society. The love of science, of conquest, of gain, induces thousands to go forth from their native land, disregarding separation from family and friends, and braving danger and enduring hardship in all their multiplied forms. Ought the love of Christ to be a less powerful principle? Shall situations of honour and emolument, in distant lands and unhealthy climates, be sought for with avidity by men of the world; and shall so few, among the disciples of the Saviour, aspire to the distinguished privilege of becoming His Ambassadors, and the Heralds of His mercy to perishing sinners?

The Committee trust, that the statement of this fact will have its influence on the friends of the Missionary Cause; that they will become more adequately impressed with the greatness of the Harvest, and the fewness of the Labourers; and will, with uplifted hands and hearts, in secret and social prayer, commend this subject to the Great Head of the Church. Let the Servants of God regard the wants of the Society as so many occasions for pleading the fulfilment of His encouraging promises, and for imploring the out-pouring of His Holy Spirit. Their faith and patience may be tried; but not the shadow of a doubt hangs over the issue of their warfare. The great deceiver of the nations shall be bound at the appointed season: God will, in His own time, accomplish the number of His elect, and glorify Himself in the triumphant establishment of His Kingdom over all the powers of darkness: He will make bare His holy arm in the eyes of all the Nations, and all the ends of the earth shall see the Salvation of our God.

APPENDIX I.

(See Page 42.)

INSTRUCTIONS OF THE COMMITTEE TO THE REV. W. WILLIAMS AND MRS. WILLIAMS, MR. JAMES HAMLIN AND MRS. HAMLIN, PROCEEDING AS MISSIONARIES AND TEACHERS TO NEW ZEALAND: DELIVERED JULY 20, 1825.

Instructions of the Committee.

DEARLY BELOVED IN THE LORD—

In dismissing you to the sphere of your future labours, the Committee are thankful to observe, that, although no cases of conversion have been reported from New Zealand, the Missionary Stations there present a somewhat more encouraging aspect, than they have hitherto worn. The Committee attribute this improvement to the judicious measures recommended by the Rev. S. Marsden, and adopted by the Labourers, for the regulation of their conduct and intercourse with the Natives—to the harmony which now happily reigns among those who are associated in the work—and, above all, to that Divine Blessing, without which human wisdom and human effort would be alike abortive.

The peculiar features which distinguish the New-Zealand Mission from those in other parts of the world, and the general principles which should guide the efforts of the Labourers among the inhabitants of this country, have been sufficiently dilated upon, on former occasions; and the Committee will refer you to the Instructions addressed to those who have preceded you, for information upon these points.

The field, on the cultivation of which the Providence of God has called you to enter, is in a distant quarter of the Globe; and, before you can commence your arduous, but honourable employment, some months must necessarily be occupied by you in traversing the mighty deep. While this season will supply you with many opportunities of communing with your own heart—of reflecting upon the difficulties and encouragements in the work before you—and of seeking, by intimate communion with God, such measures of grace and strength as your respective circumstances may require—the Committee indulge a hope, that this season may also be rendered subservient to the great end of your calling, both by enabling you, Mr. WILLIAMS, to preach to those who may embark with you, the Gospel of the Saviour, and by leading each of you to shew forth the fruits of that Gospel in your daily conversation. It was remarked by a late Chief Justice of Calcutta, on his dying bed, that, although it appeared mysterious, that he should be taken away from the important sphere before him as soon as he was preparing to enter on it, yet he could look back and adore the goodness of God in calling him from his native country to die in a foreign land, were it only to afford him the opportunity which he had enjoyed, of learning more of himself, and more of his Saviour, in the solitude of his cabin. While the Committee therefore pray, that you may long be spared to make known the unsearchable riches of Christ among the Gentiles, they trust, that having the Divine Presence with you on your voyage, you may grow in grace and knowledge yourselves, and leave a savour behind you which shall be profitable to others. They have pleasure in hearing that the Captain of the Vessel, in which you will sail, will afford every facility for the regular performance of Divine Worship on board his ship, and will duly appreciate the exertions which you may make for the spiritual welfare of his crew.

As the judgment of the Committee, in reference to the state of their Missions, must be chiefly formed from the communications of the Labourers, they desire to impress upon you the importance of regularity in your correspondence with the Secretaries. And, that this correspondence may be easy to yourselves, and interesting to your friends in England, they would urge the necessity of keeping copious Journals. The prominent occurrences in connection with your immediate sphere of action—such conversations with the Natives as may elicit their views and sentiments upon the work before you—facts which illustrate the character, habits, and superstitions of the people—together with the impediments on the one hand, and the encouragements on the other, which arise in the progress of your labour—these topics, while they supply subjects for your Letters, and matter for your Journals, will enlarge the views of the Committee on the prospects of the Mission; will excite a deep interest in the friends of the Cause at home; and will call forth, on your behalf, their sympathy and prayers.

In addition to a regular and copious correspondence, the Committee would especially express their desire, that the most rigid fidelity may be employed, in detailing occurrences, and in furnishing reports of the progress of the Mission. Partial views, and exaggerated statements, formed in haste or under the influence of first impressions, while they mislead the Society, afford just ground of offence to the opponents of Missionary Effort. The commercial relations of this country, extending, as they now do, to every quarter of the Earth, supply many opportunities for individuals to compare the reports made of Missionary Proceedings, with the actual state of things in the respective places to which such reports refer; and nothing could be more injurious to the interest of the Cause at home, than the discovery of a want of accuracy and fidelity in the detail of proceedings abroad. A charge of this nature has sometimes been unfairly urged by persons unfriendly to the operations of the Society; and the Committee feel the importance of your carefully and uniformly avoiding even the appearance of every thing that might justify such a charge.

In the highly-valued Representative of the Society, the Rev. S. Marsden, you will find a wise Counsellor and a steady Friend. His long acquaintance with the New-Zealand Character, and his intimate knowledge of the varied circumstances of the Mission, render him fully competent to afford you the best directions for the regulation of your measures; and while to his mature judgment you leave the decision of such points as may require the aid of his experience, from his Christian advice and affectionate counsel you may anticipate much advantage and encouragement. In the selection of a suitable Station for the commencement of your labours, as well as for such other instructions as can only be suggested upon your arrival in New Zealand, the Committee refer you, with entire confidence, to their friend and co-adjutor, Mr. Marsden: and whether your Station be appointed in the vicinity of your excellent and devoted Brother, the Rev. H. Williams, or at some distance from him, the Committee doubt not but that you will mutually strengthen each other's hands, and unite in counsels, in labours, and in prayers, for the prosperity of your work, and for the advancement of your Master's glory.

They wish, indeed, to urge on all employed in the Mission, the duty of bringing forward before the Natives, on every fit occasion and by every suitable method, the great and distinguishing Truths of the Holy Scriptures. By the Ministers of the Mission, their especial calling must ever be kept in view. All other measures must be made subservient to the great end of preaching among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ. In every degree in which the Natives may become susceptible of comprehending the Gospel of God our Saviour, that Gospel must be assiduously and affectionately pressed upon them, with fervent prayer for the gracious influences of the Holy Spirit on their souls. Much anxious care and painful labour, and much time and money, have been expended in work chiefly preparatory; and this work must still be continued: but the work of preaching to the Natives, which has been already begun, should be now enlarged and extended in every practicable way: it is the especial ordinance of God for enlightening and converting sinners; and His blessing on all our measures can then only be reasonably expected, when all are pursued in their due order and subserviency to the great and ultimate design of bringing these Heathens to the saving knowledge of Christ.

The Committee feel, that, in touching upon the public duties of a Missionary to New Zealand, they can only offer general remarks, since the precise line of conduct, which it may be fouud expedient for him to pursue, must be regulated by circumstances beyond the reach of their observation. As a primary object, however, they urge upon you the necessity of familiarizing yourselves, as speedily as possible, with the language of the country in which you will labour. In this elementary pursuit, you will enjoy an advantage, which many of your predecessors did not enjoy, from the Grammar which has been prepared by Professor Lee. The plan adopted by some of the Brethren in New Zealand, of making excursions into the interior of the Island, and addressing such Natives as they may meet in their progress, promises a successful issue; and when an adequate acquaintance with the language shall enable you to adopt a similar mode of intercourse with the people, the Committee trust that this practice will be diligently pursued, especially by all who sustain the character of Ministers of the Gospel. From the instruction of the rising generation, too, the most important consequences may be anticipated. The Committee rejoice to hear, that many of the Chiefs are willing to surrender their children to the care of the Missionaries for this purpose; and they cannot but watch, with feelings of deep interest, the progress made by their Labourers in so essential a branch of their work.

But, while the Committee are aware that the precise line of your public duties must in a great measure be regulated by existing circumstances, they are powerfully impressed by the conviction, that much of the efficiency and success of your public walk will depend upon your private habits.

In order to be useful to others, you must look well to yourselves; and if you would see clearly to remove the mote from the eye of another, you must be careful that no beam exist in your own. The Committee therefore affectionately urge you to the cultivation of a vigilant, and devout, and praying spirit, as the only way to be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might. The exhortation of Christ to His slumbering Disciples—Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation, will be especially needful, amidst the discouragements and deadening influence of heathen superstitions; and that your lamp may be bright, and your light shining, you must be often employed in fervent supplications at a Throne of Mercy, for the oil of God's blessing, and the sanctifying influences of the Holy Ghost. A spirit of patience, forbearance, and self-denial, must also be the object of your constant cultivation. A serious and diligent contemplation of the character and conduct of your Saviour will assist you in the attainment of this frame of mind. Consider Him, who patiently endured the contradiction of sinners against Himself—who, when He was reviled, reviled not again; when He suffered, threatened not, but committed Himself to Him that judgeth righteously—who came, not to do His own will, but the will of Him that sent Him. The temptations to indolence and self-indulgence, which are so peculiarly strong in hot climates, you will not be called to encounter; but an abiding recollection of the proneness of human-nature to adopt selfish views and to fall into selfish habits, is necessary in all climates, in order that the Missionary may exhibit the spirit of his Master, and deny himself, and take up his cross, and meekly follow his Lord through evil report and good report. The last point, to which the Committee will direct your notice, is, that you are careful to cherish an affectionate disposition, both toward those with whom you will be associated in the Mission, and toward the inhabitants of the country to whom you go forth, the Heralds of Salvation. The powerful influence of kindness, both upon communities and individuals, is too obvious to require comment. If we would arrest the attention of the most barbarous, or attract the regard of civilized communities, we must convince them, by our conduct, that we have their welfare at heart, and, by acts of kindness and sympathy and love, shew that we are seeking, not theirs, but them. Various circumstances, in the history of the Mission to New Zealand, prove that the Natives of that country are sensibly alive to acts of kindness; and that, while they would be repelled by coldness, and roused to hostility by oppression, they may be conciliated by the expression of friendly feelings, and attached by the exhibition of an affectionate heart.

The Committee, considering how important an auxiliary, in the hands of a Missionary, medical knowledge may prove, feel pleasure in remembering that you, Mr. Williams, will proceed to your destination with this additional talent entrusted to your care; and they rejoice that you will hereby possess the means of alleviating the bodily sufferings of those to whom you are anxious to communicate the highest spiritual blessings. The prejudices which once existed in New Zealand against the use of medicine, are reported to have rapidly declined; and in proof of this, may be noticed the fact, that, instead of having recourse, as formerly, to spells and incantations, many of the Natives, when labouring under the effects of disease, have repaired to the Missionary Stations for aid. From your medical knowledge, therefore, united with a zealous and affectionate discharge of your Ministerial Functions, the Committee trust that the most solid advantages will, under the Divine Blessing, arise to their Mission in New Zealand.

By your example, Mr. Hamlin, as a private Christian, as well as by your exertions in communicating to the Natives of New Zealand a knowledge of the art you have practised in England, will you be enabled to serve the designs of the Society. Although not called to preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ, you are called so to walk, and so to act, as becometh the Gospel—to exhibit in your daily conversation the meekness and gentleness of Christ—to imitate Him, who came not to be ministered unto, but to minister; and of whom it was emphatically said, He went about doing good. Opportunities will be afforded you of assisting the spiritual concerns of the Mission, without diverting your attention from the more immediate object before you; and in various ways you may contribute to advance the eternal welfare of those among whom you will be placed, while you are patiently and diligently labouring to promote their civilization and temporal comfort.

To you, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Hamlin, the Committee would address a few words of affectionate encouragement and counsel. It will be your first concern to be, respectively, fellow-helpers with your Husbands in the work in which they are engaged. The domestic cares which devolve on the Female will be your first duty: and if, in the midst of civilized society and congenial friends at home, the Husband feels his chief earthly refreshments in the order, regularity, neatness, harmony, and love which reign in his own abode, much more sensibly will he feel this blessing when among the rude and as yet untamed Heathen. On the Wife, too, will greatly depend, under the blessing of God, the practical influence of the example of domestic happiness on the surrounding Natives, especially on the Females: and Christian Women must never forget how much the happiness of their own country is dependent on the character and influence of its Females, and that no country can be happy or Christian but in proportion as its Females become so. In every way, therefore, in which you can be useful to the Natives generally of NewZealand, and especially to the Females, whether by example or by direct instruction, the Committee place their hope of good, under the blessing of God, very much on the Females of the Mission. And they further look to you and to those already engaged, obtaining first for yourselves by earnest prayer the supplies of Divine Grace, that you should rank with those honourable Women of old who laboured with even Apostles in the Gospel. You may find avenues to the minds, of Females especially, which may not be open to the instructions of your Husbands: and let it never be forgotten, that, while your gentleness and meekness may soothe your Husbands in their difficulties and trials, and your faith sustain their spirits, and your charity prevent or extinguish discord, and your prayers bring down the grace of the Holy Spirit on their labours, you will yourselves most effectually and honourably labour with them in the Gospel.

The Committee, then, send you forth, commending you to the merciful keeping and gracious guidance of their Father and your Father, of their God and your God. They implore for you an enlarged measure of the strength and consolations of the Blessed Spirit—they pray, that you may become, in your respective spheres, burning and shining lights, in the midst of a heathen land—they trust, that they shall have cause to give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in their prayers, and remembering, without ceasing, your work of faith, and labour of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, and in the sight of God and our Father: and they would address to you, as their parting exhortation, the words of the Apostle—Be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

APPENDIX II.

(See Page 42.)

INSTRUCTIONS OF THE COMMITTEE TO THE REV. WILLIAM KEELING BETTS AND OTHERS, PROCEEDING AS MISSIONARIES TO THE WEST-AFRICA, WEST-INDIES, NORTH- AND WEST-INDIA, CEYLON, AND MEDITERRANEAN MISSIONS: WITH AN ADDRESS TO THE MISSIONARIES BY THE REV. JOHN NORMAN PEARSON, M.A. PRINCIPAL OF THE INSTITUTION: DELIVERED NOV. 11, 1825.

Instructions of the Committee.

DEARLY BELOVED IN THE LORD—

THE Committee have availed themselves of a larger number* of Christian Labourers going forth from them to the Heathen World, than they ever previously sent forth, to call together the Society, in order to excite a more general interest in your respective stations, and a greater spirit of prayer in your behalf.

In October 1817, and in November 1819, similar General Meetings were held; and the Missionaries long retained the holy and refreshing influence which accompanied those Meetings. May a similar blessing from above attend us this day! Of the Labourers who were addressed on those occasions, some have entered on their eternal reward, and one or two are no longer connected with the Society; but by far the larger number continue faithfully to labour, with increasing usefulness, in carrying forward the work of their Lord.

Their history, and the general experience which the Society has acquired, furnish much practical and suitable instruction for the present occasion.

The Committee regard each of you with affectionate interest. If faithful, you may become a blessing while you live, and even to remote generations; if unfaithful, you will incur awful guilt, by betraying the trust reposed in you, in not holding forth the Word of Life to the Heathen World.

You are the first who have enjoyed the advantages of the Institution at Islington; and we regret that the urgent wants of several Missions prevent your residence there for a longer period: but we doubt not that the Instructions, which you have received from the Principal and the Tutor, have laid the foundation of future acquirements: those, also, which many of you have had from Professor Lee, either in Hebrew, Sanscrit, Arabic, or Ethiopic, have furnished you with elementary principles for your future successful progress in acquiring the languages of the respective countries where you may labour; your proficiency in which will hereafter, in various ways, through the Divine Blessing, greatly promote your usefulness.

The Committee are much indebted to Mr. Fernandez, for the very kind assistance which he has rendered, in furnishing several of you with a measure of medical knowledge and skill, which, it is hoped, will, in no unimportant manner, assist you in gaining access to those among whom you may be called to labour.

You are going forth in various characters — Ministers, Schoolmasters, a Printer, and Female Teachers.

* Twenty-four Adults were addressed on this occasion, including Females. Of these, five were appointed to West Africa, one to North India, three to Western India, four to Ceylon, four to the West Indies, and seven to the Mediterranean.

Some remarks on these various offices will introduce the more direct Instructions respecting the particular Mission to which each of you is appointed.

To the MINISTERS we say—Meditate much on the Word of God—pray much—preach constantly. Shew all kindness to all men; but let nothing divert you from the great work of preaching the Gospel. The Committee wish it to be deeply impressed on your minds, that, as Ministers, the preaching of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, in all its fulness and simplicity, is the divinely-appointed means of accomplishing your great object—the conversion and salvation of those to whom you are sent.

There are, it is true, mighty obstructions to be surmounted, in every part; and no one can know the real state of Africa or India, of Palestine or Egypt, of Ceylon or the West Indies, without being aware of their existence. A religion which has held its sway for untold generations, long-continued habits of idolatry and iniquity, the chains of caste, the prejudices of learning, the ignorance of barbarism—these difficulties oppose you at every step: and we must add to these hindrances, the hardened heart, and the seared conscience, and the blinded eyes of the millions of benighted Gentiles, living together and mutually confirming and strengthening one another in an error delightful to the carnal heart, gratifying to pride and sensuality, and strengthened by every early association and every relative affection. To these impediments must be joined others still more serious—the carnal mind, which is enmity against God; and the subtilty, malignity, and power of him, who, in the tremendous description of Scripture, is called the God of this World.

Such are your difficulties: but there is an engine, which, though wielded by weak instruments, is yet powerful, through God, to beat down every obstacle; and, wherever it is perseveringly applied, it vanquishes every difficulty—the preaching of the Cross of Christ. One who had tried this method under amazing difficulties, says of it—The weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty, through God, to the pulling down of strong-holds, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God.

Be everywhere, then, Preachers of the Word. Such of you as are going to the Mediterranean, may not be able publicly to assemble Congregations; yet opportunities will not be wanting of testifying continually, to greater or lesser numbers, the Gospel of the grace of God. Let all, with whom you have intercourse, see, that this Gospel is the spring of your own peace and joy, your self-denying love and unwearied patience, your deep humility and ardent desire for their best and eternal welfare: then will your lives, as well as the instructions which you may more directly give, abundantly preach the Gospel of Jesus Christ. May your light thus ever be burning and shining!

It is no vain expectation that all difficulties shall be surmounted by the preaching of the Word, seeing that in all ages it has been found that the Gospel is the power of God unto salvation. His Almighty Power gives effect to this mode of extending His Kingdom: you may, therefore, confidently expect, that, in proportion as you simply hold forth, in your public ministry and in your private conversation, the doctrine of a Crucified Saviour, and adorn that doctrine by a holy life, the power of the Divine Spirit will accompany your ministrations, and give life to those who are dead in trespasses and sins.

In order to preach the Gospel intelligibly, it is absolutely necessary, where a foreign language is spoken, that you should, as early as practicable, be able to address the Natives in their own tongue. The first work of the Holy Spirit was to enable the primitive Teachers to speak in other tongues; and the first use of that Gift was to preach the Gospel. This encouraging fact may be stated as the result of much Missionary Experience, that, in every land, in proportion as the Gospel has been preached in a language intelligible to the people, Churches have been gathered, and Christian Converts have walked worthy of their high profession. In other Stations, where Missionaries had to acquire the languages, and where the Heathen have not therefore been able to say, We hear, every man in our own tongue wherein we were born, the wonderful works of God, there has, comparatively, been little progress: so that just in proportion as the Word of God is diffused and received, True Religion, with all its beneficial effects, succeeds.

An able Writer observes—"Of all methods of diffusing religion, preaching is the most efficient: other methods are indirect and preparatory; but the simple proclaiming of the Gospel has, in all ages, been attended with the most transforming efficacy—elevating the few, who have cordially accepted it, into a higher and happier state of being; and even raising the many, who have rejected it, into a better system of moral opinions. It is to preaching, that Christianity owes its origin, its continuance, and its progress. Books, however excellent, require at least some previous interest on the part of the person who is to open and to peruse them: but the Preacher arrests that attention, which the written Word only invites; and the living voice and the listening numbers heighten the impression, by the sympathy which they excite—the reality, which the truths spoken possess in the mind of the Speaker, is communicated to the feelings of the hearers; and they end in sharing, at least for the moment, the same views, and in augmenting each other's convictions."

The preparation of Converted Natives, to whom it may have pleased God to give the desire and the qualifications to be useful as Teachers among their countrymen, is another part of the work of the Ministry, of high value, and of special importance in the present state of Missions. Some of you may be called, by your peculiar circumstances, more particularly to engage in this, than in the direct work of the Ministry; nor, however unpromising the present and immediate labour may seem, can you engage in any thing which may, in the end, more effectually promote the extensive preaching of the Gospel.

The Committee would remind you who are to act as SCHOOLMASTERS, that your office calls for much grace, patience, and forbearance. The education of Children is intimately connected with the diffusion of Divine Truth. Their minds are peculiarly susceptible of religious impressions: those of you, therefore, who are going out as Schoolmasters, have to sustain a very important office, the faithful discharge of which will materially facilitate future Missionary labours.

The Committee rejoice in being able to send another PRINTER to the Heathen World. They feel the power and importance of the Press, as an invaluable means of most extensively circulating Divine Truth, in silent and unobtrusive, but efficacious ways; and new improvements have given it an increasing power of immense advantage. The Printer will go forth, having been made acquainted with the latest improvements; and will, they trust, if God shall spare him, render his acquirements long and beneficially available to the most important interests of the Mission.

The FEMALES, now present, and about to accompany their Husbands in their high calling, will have an appropriate and most important office, in the instruction of their own sex,

The Committee cannot but regard, with peculiar interest, so many Christian Females about to go forth to new scenes, and tropical climates, and Heathen Lands. Their fervent prayers shall follow you, that you yourselves may be blessed abundantly in this work, and be a blessing to many others; that, like Mary, greeted by St. Paul as bestowing much labour upon him, you may count it your high honour and your greatest privilege to labour for Christ. May you each ever have grace to sacrifice little and merely personal interests; and, like Phebe, be a servant of the Church, and a succourer of many!

More particular Instructions, with reference to each of the Missions to which you have been appointed, will now be given.

The Committee have much pleasure in sending you, MR. BETTS and MR. SCHOLDING, to strengthen the WEST-AFRICA MISSION. They rejoice to witness that faith and devotion, which, after a full knowledge of all our trials and sorrows, lead you willingly to consecrate yourselves to this service: and, knowing the distressing want of Labourers in that Mission at the present moment, they are assured that your arrival will greatly strengthen and refresh the Brethren who are engaged in that deeply interesting scene of the Society's operations.

The Committee have taken every measure in their power, to obtain the fullest information respecting the state of the climate, and the most effective means of securing the health of their Missionaries. For this end, a Board of Medical Men, acquainted with the nature of Tropical Climates, have, at the request of the Committee, with great kindness and patience entered into a full investigation of the past history of the Colony; and have obtained valuable information from the Army and Navy Medical Board, and have personally examined many individuals who have long resided on the coast. These Medical Friends have stated their views at some length; and have given such directions as may tend to preserve the health of our Missionaries. You will be furnished with an Abstract of their Report; and the Committee charge it upon you, as a solemn duty, conscientiously to follow the directions thus given to you. There is reason to fear that the two valuable Missionaries, Brooks and Knight, whom the Society recently lost, were prematurely cut off through an inadvertent exposure of themselves to a tropical sun. As you, MR. SCHOLDING, have experienced in India the peculiarities of a Tropical Climate, we entertain the better hope that it may please God to preserve you to labour among the Africans.

You will probably find several of the Congregations suffering from the loss of their Teachers; and it will require patient and persevering labour, to bring together those who may have been dispersed. Much may be done by the spirit of love, united with firmness, in checking all that is evil, and promoting all that is good. Gain the affections of the Africans; and let them see that you are really seeking their good, and you will find them a willing and grateful people.

The Committee hope to be enabled ultimately to establish the Christian Institution, for training Native Teachers for this Mission, on a more efficient scale than they have yet been able to accomplish; but the enlarged plan is not yet sufficiently matured to enter upon particulars. Never, however, will the Society's aims be completed, till, by duly-qualified Native Teachers, the Gospel of Christ be propagated from Sierra Leone among the various Tribes and Nations which inhabit that quarter of the globe.

If any one Christian grace be especially needed among Africans, more than among any other class of Heathen, it is that of Love. A hard, reserved, domineering spirit will repel them; and may render ineffective the most awful denunciations of Divine Wrath, or the most affectionate statements of Divine Mercy. Let the Apostle's conduct among the Thessalonians be your model—We were gentle among you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children: so we, being affectionately desirous of you, were willing to have imparted to you, not the Gospel of God, but also our souls, because ye were dear unto us.

Having been invited by a valued friend to assist in the instruction of Negroes on his estate in the WEST INDIES, the Committee have great pleasure in embracing such an opening for usefulness: they therefore send you forth, MR. TAYLOR and MR. JONES, for this purpose.

The present situation of the West Indies calls for peculiar watchfulness and Christian simplicity, in all who are sent to labour among the Black and Coloured Population. As a Society, only aiming to diffuse Christian Knowledge and its accompanying blessings, we cannot, in any way, interfere with the political circumstances of the countries to which our operations are extended. Your single object will be, the education and instruction of those who are committed to your charge in the principles of Christianity, as developed in the doctrines, discipline, and worship of the United Church of England and Ireland. Entirely conformed as those doctrines are to the Word of God, you will endeavour to make them understood and felt by all who are entrusted to your care, by those various means and helps which the Church supplies. To the Discipline and Worship of the Church, also, you will adhere in all your proceedings. Episcopacy being now happily established in the West Indies, the Society's Schools in those Islands are placed under the jurisdiction of the Bishops; and you are to act in subordination to those directions, yielding them, at all times, canonical obedience.

With an anxious desire to benefit the West-India Slaves, the Committee cannot but greatly rejoice at the sanction given to their religious instruction, and the provision made for that instruction by the establishment of the West-India Bishoprics, and at the increasing exertions of the Slave-Conversion Society. Whatever part can be taken by us, must be in strict subordination to due discipline and authority. The peculiar circumstances in which some of the Schools have been placed, and the present state of those Schools, render it the duty of the Committee explicitly to state their views on this subject.

It has ever been their express wish, and their decided purpose, that all their proceedings should be carried on in perfect conformity to that Established Church to which they belong; and according to those principles, which, from the beginning, they have publicly avowed.

In sending you to the NORTH-INDIA MISSION, MR. LATHAM, the Committee have the pleasure of placing you under the patronage and direction of friends who have long shewn a warm interest in the proceedings of the Society. They do not think it necessary that your precise station should be fixed, till your arrival at Calcutta; but you will be directed in this, as in your other proceedings, by the Committee of the Auxiliary Society.

You will, in pursuance of the plan on which our Missionaries are now placed, apply to the Bishop for the licence which he gives to them, that they may act under Episcopal Jurisdiction.

It is a special advantage to our Missionary Proceedings in the East, and for which the Committee feel that many thanksgivings are due to the Father of Mercies, that they are now carried on under the fostering care of a Bishop, whose heart has been so long alive to this Sacred Cause. May the conduct of our Missionaries ever be such, as to shew that his favour and kindness toward them has not been misplaced! The Committee exhort you ever to pay all due subjection and reverence to such as be in authority over you.

It is not improbable that you will have to encounter the sophistries of Socinianism, as well as Mahomedanism and Paganism: all must be met, and opposed, by a simple and full declaration of that glorious Gospel, which alone meets the necessities of fallen man.

You, MR. STEWARD & MR. MITCHELL, will proceed to Bombay. The Rev. Richard Kenney has now faithfully laboured alone for about six years, in the Bombay and WESTERN-INDIA MISSION; and, hitherto, the Committee have been unable to send him help. Domestic circumstances will probably oblige him soon to return to this country. This renders it the more needful to strengthen the Mission without delay; and you, MR. STEWARD and MR. MITCHELL, have been appointed for this purpose. The Society has at Bombay, as at the other Presidencies, the advantage of a Corresponding Committee, to whose care and kind direction we gladly commit you. Mr. Kenney has, in part, translated the Liturgy into Mahratta; and has been successful in the establishment of Schools. You will enter into his labours, and find the way prepared for future exertions.

The situation of Bombay is important, from its contiguity to Persia and Arabia. By recent intelligence received from the Corresponding Committee, it appears that Schools have been formed on the shores of the Persian Gulf, in the hope that they may be supported in connexion with the Mission. The effect of the labours of Henry Martyn in Persia still remains; and furnishes the good hope, that Christianity will find an entrance into many minds at Shirâz.

You, MR. SELKIRK and MR. TRIMNELL, are appointed to CEYLON — Mr. Selkirk to assist Mr. Lambrick at Cotta, and Mr. Trimnell to aid Mr. Browning at Kandy; if, at a Meeting to be held of as many of the Missionaries as can readily come together after your arrival, this shall be found to be the most expedient arrangement.

In sending you to Ceylon, we send you to labour among Brethren, who have been enabled to maintain a spirit of wisdom and perseverance, of piety and mutual affection, now for many years. May your arrival among them strengthen their hands! May it please God to send down His Spirit, and crown all your efforts with success!

The Committee are anxious that the Christian Institution now gradually forming at Cotta may become an effective means of training up Native Preachers of the Gospel. Increasing experience leads them to an increasing sense of the value of well-prepared Natives, in promoting the spiritual interests of the Heathen. The progress of the Youths in the Palamcottah Institution, and of those who are under the American Missionaries in the northern part of the island, and the hearty zeal by which these Youths seem to be animated to devote themselves to the conversion of their countrymen, awaken our hopes that the blessing of God may yet more abundantly rest on the various Seminaries which are now multiplying through the Heathen World.

The Committee have the satisfaction of sending forth to the MEDITERRANEAN, you, the Rev. MESSRS. GOBAT, MUELLER, KRUSKE', KUGLER, and LIEDER, with the Printer, MR. KOELNER. Educated in the Bâsle Seminary, all that the Committee has seen has confirmed their good opinion of you and their affection to you; and they truly rejoice to send forth so many, of whom they have every reason to think highly, to this interesting quarter of the world.

Mr. Jowett has shewn, in the Preface to his recently-published Volume, how wide a field is open around him to investigation and exertions. It is with the views and in the spirit which he recommends, that the Committee wish to prosecute the great objects of this Mission. While they are desirous of continuing, as opportunities may offer, those Christian Researches which have been so auspiciously begun, they are anxious that practical measures should be pursued, as fast as the means can be obtained, wherever openings may present themselves. You will, therefore, carefully study the Researches already published, and endeavour to carry forward the plans now in progress.

Mr. Jowett will be able, from his own experience, to furnish you with the requisite instructions for passing with ease and safety through the countries in which you may travel.

After your arrival at Malta, you will take an early opportunity of conferring with him on your future proceedings. Scenes of extensive usefulness open on every side. In the first instance you will probably enter on Journeys of Investigation and Research, and will communicate to the Committee every fact of importance.

You, MR. GOBAT and MR. KUGLER, have had your attention more directly turned to Abyssinia; and, ultimately, if Providence shall open the door, you will visit that country, gain access to its inhabitants, and promote the circulation of the Scriptures and the general revival of that Ancient Church.

The Society has long had it in contemplation to make some attempt in behalf of Abyssinia. Nearly ten years ago, Mr. Silk, a Student under the Society, was set apart for this Mission; but it pleased God to call him to his rest before he could enter on this service.

The attention of the Society was again directed toward Abyssinia, by obtaining possession of a manuscript copy of part of the Old Testament, in Ethiopic; which it presented to the British and Foreign Bible Society, in order to assist in the publication of the Scriptures in that tongue, and which are now in the press: the Ethiopic Scriptures, however, will be chiefly useful to the Priests, Ethiopic being the Ecclesiastical Language. But the providence of God has also opened the way for the preparation of the Scriptures in Amharic, the vernacular language of the larger part of that country: the French Consul at Caïro had, for ten years, employed an Abyssinian, well qualified for the work, to translate the whole of the Sacred Writings into that tongue: this Version, purchased by Mr. Jowett for the British and Foreign Bible Society, has, in part, already been printed for the use of Abyssinia.

Great advantages have thus been given for access to that interesting country. With the Scriptures in the vernacular language in your hands, you will have great facility, not only for acquiring the language, but for communicating the Knowledge of Divine Truth to the Natives.

May you be enabled to direct many an inquiring Ethiopian to Christ Jesus! and may they, through your instruction, go on their way rejoicing!

With a few general remarks, the Committee will now close their Public Instructions.

It is evident that we live in remarkable times, which furnish peculiar advantages for diffusing Divine Truth.

The Prophetic Word supplies every sober Student of the Scriptures with ample encouragement to Missionary Labours; and that encouragement is strengthened by the actual state of mankind—the Heathen World, in all its vast extent, is gradually opening to the efforts of Christians: and it may be truly asserted, that many thousands of the Heathen in different parts of the world—in Western and Southern Africa, in India, in the South-Sea Islands, in the West Indies, and in America, have already been, by these efforts, converted to Christianity, and numbers have died in the faith of Christ. The great work of the Conversion of the World, notwithstanding some disappointments, continues year by year to advance; and all the efforts, prayers, and charity, which have yet been expended in this work, are already amply repaid, and more than repaid.

While, therefore, many of your Predecessors have gone forth, under multiplied discouragements, to a work almost unknown and untried, you are going forth, under encouragements constantly increasing, to a work which God has in our own day largely owned and greatly prospered.

If you desire to do the will of God, if you wish to glorify your Saviour, if you would approve yourselves to the whole body of the Society at home, and be really blessed to the conversion of the Heathen abroad—and these, we doubt not, are your prevailing motives—cultivate PERSONAL RELIGION. It is not so much talent, though this Cause is worthy of the highest talents; it is not so much learning and acquirements, though the most profound learning and the most extensive acquirements may here find full scope for constant exercise; but it is simple and lively faith, ardent love, deep humility, much patience, and fervent devotion, which will be the main-spring of your future usefulness.

We cannot close without directing your attention once more to that Heavenly Comforter, the Holy Spirit, by whose influence alone you can maintain personal religion, and that personal religion can be blessed to others. God giveth the increase. Our eyes are unto Him. You sow the seed—you plant—you water; but neither is he, that planteth, any thing; nor he, that watereth; but God, that giveth the increase. Expect, then, great things: not from man—not from your talents—not from favourable circumstances, but from the promised Spirit of your Heavenly Father. Fear not, under the sense of your own weakness and your many difficulties. You cannot go where the Giver of all success will will not be at hand.

Go, then, in His name, with good courage, and with hearts devoted to His work. Go—east and west, north and south: we send you forth with faith and prayer; with love, and hope, and joy—earnestly desiring and looking for the plenteous gift of the Holy Spirit unto you; and deeply feeling, that it is only as you are sent by Him, that your Ministry and Mission will be blessed to the advancement of Christ's Kingdom.

Many of you we shall probably never see again in the flesh; but we look forward to that day, to every Christian so truly blessed, when you, and we, and all the ransomed of the Lord, gathered from every land, shall come from the east and from the west, the north and the south, to sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the Kingdom of GOD. In that happy day, they who sow, and they who reap—they who, from love to the Saviour, send you forth and support you in your work; and they who, influenced by the same constraining motive, have gone before you—and you who now go, and they who shall follow—shall rejoice together, with Him, in whose presence is fulness of joy.

Address to the Missionaries, by the Rev. John Norman Pearson, M.A. Principal of the Institution.

MY DEAR FRIENDS—

As the time draws near for your removal to those scenes of Missionary Service, to which you have been severally assigned, the Society, under whose paternal care you have been training, has thought fit to dismiss you in a public manner, and with somewhat of religious solemnity. To its feelings of affectionate interest in your personal welfare, a more private way of shedding on you its parting benedictions would assuredly have been more congenial. But it waves that self-indulgence, in hope that the Gospel may gain honour from a publication of what is doing for its diffusion; that an evangelizing zeal may be excited by the transactions of this day; and that a banquet may be provided for many, whose hearts are bound up with the prosperity of our Zion.

To my mind, indeed, there is something in a convocation like the present incomparably august and sacred. I appear to myself to be surrounded, not by a company of simple individuals, but by Representatives of the Universal Church, met here to vouch their allegiance to that Mighty Potentate, who claims the heathen for His inheritance; and to bind themselves, with hands and hearts up-raised to the heaven wherein He dwelleth, to fulfil to the utmost His benevolent command—Go ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature. Under this impression, I look around with no common reverence on this assembly. And, though it might seem extravagant to speak of it as representing the Church Triumphant in glory, yet it cannot be presumptuous to imagine that angels who rejoice at the conversion of sinners, together with the spirits of those departed saints whose names have been canonized by our Society—that these holy beings are even now in the midst of us, imparting to our proceedings, by their mysterious presence, a superhuman sanctity and grandeur. But let this be fancy: there is at least nothing chimerical in the belief, that the Prince of Missionaries is Himself among us:—and oh that He would vouchsafe to us, not only a certainty of His presence, derived from His infallible promise, but also a consciousness of it, from the experience of His love shed abroad in our hearts!

In addressing myself to the task assigned me, I shall be at no pains to disguise my satisfaction at being permitted to bear a testimony, which my official situation particularly qualifies me to bear, to the Missionary Character of the Students, who are now on the eve of setting out for their respective Stations. Among them, indeed, are some, from whose superior qualifications, associated, as I believe their gifts and accomplishments to be, with mature and energetic piety, the Society is warranted to expect, under the Divine Blessing, no scanty or common fruit. To say more in the hearing of those individuals would be unbecoming; for I am not come here to extol, but to exhort, them. Nevertheless, to an assembly composed like the present, it seemed allowable in me to express the persuasion, which is strongly wrought into my own mind, that among the Labourers whom the Church Missionary Society is now sending out, there are men such as God does not commonly raise up, unless He is designing some great exhibition of mercy to mankind.

When I turn to you, My beloved Friends and Pupils, I hardly wish to restrain those strong personal feelings, which my connexion and intercourse with you have produced: for it may sometimes cheer you, amidst the painful vicissitudes of your career, to recollect, that your labours and privations are appreciated by tender friends at home; and that you have all their sympathy and prayers, with the full estimation which is due to a faith victorious over manifold trials. I send you forth, said the Lord of the Harvest to the first Apostolic Labourers, as sheep among wolves. You, indeed, may have no reason to anticipate such hard usage as the primitive Evangelists encountered. Still, the transition from your present situation will be painful; and to minds not sustained by Divine Grace, might prove overwhelming. Whatever exertions are made to facilitate your course, to secure you from mishap and care, and to allay the moral and physical evils of your condition, you must still lay your account with enduring a great deal of hardship. Your respective trials may differ; but all of you are alike embarked in a Cause, the grand features of which are toil and danger. You will be separated from the paternal bosom of a Society which has supplied, or prevented, your wants with bountiful tenderness. From this state of peaceful abundance you will be cast at once on a cold and pitiless world. You abandon country and home and kindred, the prospects of worldly fortune and the endearments of domestic relations, to spend your youth, and manhood, and strength, and probably to lay your bones, in some far-distant land; to live in toil, contempt, and poverty; to languish unattended on the bed of sickness; and to die perhaps in some inhospitable spot, where none will be at hand to revive your fainting spirit by pointing to the Promised Rest; none to close your eyes, and to render the last pious offices to your remains. You are forsaking the habitations of civilized men and Christians, the home and the altars you love; some of you, for climates unfriendly to life; some, for islands of which the Natives, if not actual cannibals, are as yet of untamed ferocity; some, for regions so spell-bound by the Brahminical superstition, that nothing short of a miraculous power seems able to dissolve the enchantment; and others, for countries which are still untrodden by the beautiful feet of the preacher.

It may be thought, perhaps, that this picture of the Missionary Warfare is overcharged; or, indeed, that it would have been discreet to abstain altogether from such representations. Of exaggeration I would not willingly be guilty: neither would I be supposed to insinuate, that sufferings, to the amount which I have described, do commonly befal the Missionary. But to such he is always liable, and for such he ought always to be prepared. To you, my friends, I make no apology for reminding you of the conflicts you have dared to engage in. You are not, I am thoroughly persuaded, soldiers of such base metal, as to lose your courage when the arduousness of the service is set before you. Better were it, if you are so feeble-minded, that you should even now draw back. But I put you in remembrance of these things, because I promise myself, that you will rather be inspirited, than dismayed, by reflecting on the greatness of the sacrifice which you make for the love of the Saviour. You have read the roll throughout; and you know that within it is inscribed with holy hopes and glorious consolations; although without it is written over with lamentations, and mourning, and woe.

When I consider to what an undertaking you are pledged; when I see you going forth, hardly knowing whither you go, and only certain that everywhere afflictions await you; I am tempted to hail you as a band of the noble Army of Martyrs. To our eyes, you carry in your forehead the stamp of a peculiar dedication to the Lord; and appear as men sequestered from their brethren by a vocation which excels that of ordinary Ministers, and which insures to those, who fully obey it, a Prophet's and a Martyr's reward. Your calling is, to arise as stars in the dark firmament of Heathenism, and to usher in the Sun of Righteousness. We look to you, as to persons designed by God to break up the fallow ground which constitutes two-thirds of the globe; and to scatter seed, of which the ample produce shall fill the garners of heaven. I do not say this—God forbid that I should!—to puff you up with conceit and vainglory. But, as I take it to be the likeliest way of inflaming the courage of true Christian Heroes, to set before them the perils of their generous enterprise, so I think that a faithful exhibition of its magnitude and grandeur is the surest way to produce in them humility, and simple dependence on God. The great Apostle himself, after reviewing the duties and interests connected with his office, exclaimed, in a sort of holy dismay, And who is sufficient for these things? It is this, My Reverend Brethren, which I desire for you; that, being thoroughly versed in the extent and comprehension of your engagements, you may see what is requisite for the adequate discharge of them, and whence your sufficiency is to be obtained.

To describe what constitutes sufficiency for an undertaking so stupendous in its aim, and of such manifold difficulty, is far beyond the compass of my powers. Humanly speaking, a rare concurrence of mental and bodily perfections is indispensable for the Missionary — constitutional vigour, and muscular strength; intellectual quickness, and moral courage; a frame of iron, and a soul of fire—or he will fail in some critical moment. Still more rarely do we find the spiritual virtues which he needs, combined, in any perfection. Within what limits, I would ask, should his self-devotion be circumscribed? Within none, it must be answered, except those which the Apostle of the Gentiles prescribed to himself, when he professed his readiness to spend, and be spent, for the benefit of his converts; when he counted not his life dear unto him, but was ready to pour it out, as a libation, for the spiritual advantage of the Philippians; when he was willing to impart to the Thessalonians not the Gospel of God only, but also his own soul; when he was daily delivered unto death for Jesus' sake; and when he was content to be in a manner accursed from Christ, if, by any means, the salvation of his brethren might be effected. This is the example, which you, Beloved, have engaged to copy. You must neither be disconcerted by inconveniences, nor confounded by novelties, nor cast down by disappointments and reverses. Unshaken by terrors, and impenetrable to blandishments; regardless of animal ease and comfort; superior as well to the infirmities, as to the chances, of humanity; dead to worldly interests, and alive only to the great business of saving souls; you are to go, with your lives in your hand, wherever Divine Providence may lead you, taking this apostolic sentence for your conduct and support—To me to live, is Christ; and to die, is gain.

Permit me, here, to hint at the importance of a Missionary being unencumbered with secular cares. No man that warreth, entangleth himself in the affairs of this life. And, indeed, I have sometimes thought, that, as a proselyte to Judaism was considered to have dissolved, by his accession to that faith, all anterior ties, even those of the nearest consanguinity, and to have contracted entirely new relations, so should the Missionary be as one, whose previous existence is annulled, and who is born into a state of new duties, habitudes, obligations, and interests. This principle may be carried too far; but certainly a mind, more than slightly tinctured with it, would afford the best promise of usefulness in the work to which you are set apart. If, on loosing from your native shores, you "drag at each remove a lengthening chain;" if your spirit linger at home, when your body is expatriated; if the love of souls be not so predominant in your bosom, as to keep down all inferior affections; if, in short, you carry about with you any sentiment or attachment that can make you waver in the course, which the spiritual welfare of the people among whom you labour would dictate, you are proportionably unfitted for your vocation. Of all occupations, yours is that which most demands a single eye and an undivided purpose: and I am persuaded, that a frank renunciation, where possible, of whatever might tend to distract your minds, to complicate your duties, and to set your feelings and principles at variance, would equally conduce to your success and happiness.

If I rightly take the drift of our Lord's directions to his Disciples, when He sent them forth to evangelize the cities of Israel, those directions contain a twofold rule, which is of equal application to subsequent Missionaries—to be as little burdened as possible even with actual necessaries; and to keep at the utmost distance from social entanglements. Carry neither purse, nor scrip, nor shoes, suggests the first part of the rule: and the second is involved in the prohibition to salute any man by the way. Undoubtedly, one not thoroughly divorced from the world may still have real zeal and piety, and be moderately useful in his evangelical province. But it is from persons whose hearts are so fully engrossed with the Ministry of Reconciliation, as to have no space left for human passions; it is from men who have broken loose from the clinging attachments of humanity, and have shaken off earthly hopes and fears, like dust from the feet; that I look for the greatest number of spiritual trophies. It must not be imputed to me that I would have the Missionary divest himself of natural affections. Nay—let him keep them all, and even stimulate them to higher sensibility; only let them be diverted from common objects, to the one transcendent business of rescuing souls that are ready to perish. Do you reckon this a hard matter? I admit it to be so; far beyond the compass of a virtue not of heavenly origin, and implying a singular force and activity of gracious affections. But, then, my conception of what a Missionary should be is not taken from Christians nor yet from Ministers of a common make and standard. It is a conception of something far more brave and magnanimous, more lofty and heroic; something more akin to those blessed spirits, whose delightful employment it is to minister unto them that are heirs of salvation. To suppose that a Christian of the ordinary cast would be good enough for a Missionary, is to entertain low and unworthy conceptions of the office. He ought not to be a man as much leavened with worldliness as the generality of those (to our shame we confess it) who name the Name of Jesus. He is to be a luminary of the first order; sphered above the mists which so stain and obscure the brightness of commonplace religion. So noble is his calling, so vast his design, and so incalculable are the interests depending on his behaviour, that he is justly required to surpass other men in humility, self-denial, and devotedness, in contempt of the world, in spirituality of mind, and in heavenly sublimity of port and demeanour. It is because I revere the character of a true Missionary as the greatest this poor world can produce, that I shrink from debasing it to the vulgar level.

The ample instructions which you have received, My Dear Friends, on the way of exercising your Ministry, would be my excuse, were I more competent than I am, for touching on only one or two points of the subject. It may not, however, be superfluous to warn you against employing, whether in sermons or private discourse, such arguments as may indeed weigh heaviest in the scale of cultivated reason, yet are not the best adapted to the capacity, the prejudices, and the intellectual infirmity of your scholars. The best style of preaching is that which is most suitable to the auditory, goes home to the conscience, and is found to be the fittest to convert and edify. I would exhort you to declare the truth faithfully and plainly; yet to deal it out in such portions, and after such a method, as shall least expose it to the cavils of the captious, and the misapprehension of the simple. Take care, also, that your matter be not so abstruse, nor your composition so elaborate, as to call on your audience for much effort of the mind. Persons little accustomed to intellectual operations will not readily listen to what it gives them trouble to comprehend; or they will go away with their hearts unaffected, in proportion as their understandings have been strained and baffled. Besides, vague and superficial notions of religion will prove, not only unproductive of good, but positively hurtful; while one Gospel Truth, received into the heart, will exert a seminal virtue, and gradually develope a rich produce of evangelical knowledge and holiness. Take every honest advantage of the passions and weaknesses of your people. Avail yourselves of any correspondence in their national traditions, their mythological legends, and their superstitious observances, with the facts and doctrines stated in the Bible: and, when occasion offers, contrast the drudgery, abominations, and absurdities of Paganism with the reasonable, holy, and beneficent genius of Christianity. But never make a proselyte by irreligious concessions: and, while you are careful to make no rash attack on inveterate habits and revered institutions, be still more afraid of conniving at vice, and of sanctioning, or seeming to sanction, improprieties.

There is another point, to which I must solicit your attention. Nothing, we trust, is further from you than to be harsh and overbearing to the Natives of your adopted countries. But there is danger on the other side, lest, in striving to propitiate them by kindness, your condescension degenerate into familiarity. Now, to put yourselves on a level with them, and to conform your discourse and manners to their barbarism, is the sure way to prevent their mounting up to your civility and refinement. Constantly maintain the pre-eminence of your education and office: and, should you sometimes be called upon to act for their profit in a capacity not purely Ministerial, yet still preserve your elevated rank as the Delegates of God. For the most part, indeed, the less you have to do with their temporal concerns the better. By officiousness and meddling you will bring upon yourselves trouble and ill-will; your own minds will be secularized; and you will learn, perhaps too late, that a mixture of profane with sacred functions impairs that majestic sanctity, with which the Ambassador of Heaven is invested, in proportion as he stands aloof from the earth, and is known only in his spiritual capacity. If you descend from your proper orbit, and gratuitously engage in secular intercourse with men of this world, you will shortly be regarded as no better than themselves; and will make the sad discovery, on attempting to resume your official ascendancy, that you are shorn, completely and irreparably shorn, of your strength and glory.

You know how essential I deem it for the whole soul of the Missionary to be in his work. Still, it may be questioned, whether the progress of the Gospel abroad has not been hindered by a want of that circumspection, temperance, and wise reserve, for which the Author of our Faith was remarkable. Self-government to wait in patience for providential openings is a quality to the full as needful, as penetration to observe opportunities, and address to improve them. By precipitation you will often miscarry in considerable points, which might have been secured by slow and cautious approaches.

Let it then be your first business, when you are settled among a people, to make yourselves objects of affectionate confidence, and your religion an object of reverent attention. It is an axiom, obtained from the largest experience of human nature, that the first art of education is to make those solicitous to learn whom you wish to teach. Far be it from me to put you upon wily practices and base concealments; for I am convinced that those who carry worldly wisdom into the Ministry of the Gospel are pretty sure to be taken in their own craftiness. Nevertheless, we have the example of our blessed Lord Himself for endeavouring to recommend ourselves to the carnally-minded in the capacity of spiritual physicians, by first coming in aid of their bodily wants and necessities. Do you, therefore, take pains, in the first instance, to earn the confidence and affection of your people by such proofs of concern for their welfare, and of ability to promote it, as they may be qualified to understand and appreciate. Yet be all the while sleeplessly observant of the special visitations of the Almighty, who works, as a free agent, at his own seasons and in his own method; at one time suddenly removing great natural obstacles out of the path of the Evangelist, and at another time as unexpectedly shaking the heathen wilderness with the great and strong wind of his Spirit. These are conjunctures which it is not in human sagacity to foreknow. Yet not to be prepared for providential openings, is an error, if not a fault; and the wisdom and diligence to improve them to the utmost, whenever they are presented, are in the first class of Missionary Endowments, and may be rightly termed the peculiar gift of Heaven. Keep in mind, moreover, that, in proportion as men are less removed from a barbarous state, they are the more alive to sensible impressions; and that Idolaters, who have been used to a ritual apparatus of imposing splendour—and with such, some of you will be stationed—will be attracted to religion by a noble exterior, and disgusted with outward meanness. Simplicity may be pushed to excess, as well as ceremony. Do you therefore fall in, to a certain extent, with this principle of the human mind, by clothing your public ministrations with such a grave and sober dignity, as may correspond with the spirituality of the Gospel, and with the wise constitutions of our Apostolical Church. You will gradually win your hearers to receive elementary education; and, when the moral tone of their minds is improved, and their mental capacity expanded, they will be prepared, so far as natural preparation goes, to receive those superior truths which are able to make them wise unto salvation.

But endeavour, above all, to instil religion into them, by discovering in your commonest actions a principle, with which their principles and practice would be very disadvantageously contrasted. Appear among them as beings of another order and nature than themselves. They are shrewd observers of inconsistencies: let them see none. They will frequently lay traps for you: walk circumspectly. By your conduct rather than your words let your doctrines be made known: and be recognised for Messengers of Heaven, as the angel was by Manoah, not by hastily divulging what ought for a time to be kept secret, but by doing wondrously.

To the Females, whom I see on the Missionary Form, may I venture to suggest a word or two of friendly counsel.

You come before us with the strongest recommendation to our esteem and regard. Either you have frankly consented to accompany, on the Missionary Pilgrimage, the persons to whom you were already united: or you have married, after being well apprised of the arduous services to which that step would engage you; and the alliance has perhaps been commended to you by the very circumstance, that you were thereby affiancing yourselves to the business of Heathen Evangelization. I do not forget myself, when I call the Evangelization of the Heathen YOUR business: for, undoubtedly, the share that falls to you is considerable in that department of Christian Labour to which your partners are appointed. Indeed, it would be difficult to exaggerate the importance of the work you have undertaken. You are to be the mothers of a new, or the nurses of an infant, Church. You are to be the instructors of Gentile Babes; the first moulders of rude understandings. To the Females of Asia, of Africa, and of Australasia, you are to be examples of those virtues, and decencies, and graces, which constitute, when happily blended in woman, the most beautiful of God's works upon this earth. Through the religious loveliness of your character, the male barbarian is to be humanized: and he is to learn, from what he witnesses in your conjugal and domestic behaviour, how much his own happiness would be enhanced by admitting the partner of his bed to the full rights of their common nature, instead of treating her as a slave or an animal. It is among the chief advantages of a Missionary being married, that means are thereby created of shewing the form and management of a Christian Family. Unless, therefore, your families be wisely ordered, your children and servants governed with a due mixture of strictness and indulgence, and all your household affairs conducted on the highest principles, the model which you exhibit will be imperfect, and may be pernicious. But of you we hope better things. We assure ourselves, that, by the benignant operation of your Christian and feminine virtues, a wide field of useful exertion will be opened to your husbands, who will also be cheered and animated in their course by your affectionate co-operation. But beware of weakening hands that you ought to strengthen. Fan the flame of your husband's zeal; and never damp it by foolish fears and softness, nor break their lofty resolution by a selfish interference. Think more of their obligation to God as Ministers, than of their duties to you as Husbands: and shew, that, after having forsaken your country and your father's house, you are ready to resign your own house also, your children, and the father of them, when the Cause of God demands the sacrifice. Without putting off gentleness, put on courage; and with all that is soft and lovely in the wife and the woman, let there be incorporated the masculine attributes of the Missionary Character. You will then be precious before God, and to this Society; and the reclaimed Children of Pagan Superstition will rise up and call you blessed.

I had intended to point out some of the spiritual temptations, to which the Missionary is particularly exposed; but the length to which I have already gone forbids my attempting a subject, which it were better to leave untouched than to treat inadequately. Yet I cannot sit down, without reminding you all, how indispensable it is to maintain intimate communion with the Father and his Son Jesus Christ. It is possible, Dear Brethren, that, in your zeal for the conversion of others, the duties of private devotion may be relaxed or suspended. And, oh, what a multitude of evils will pour into the soul, when once it is laid open, by intermission of its usual converse with God, to the incursions of the world and the flesh! The Missionary who has ceased to be a Man of the Bible and of Prayer, instead of gathering in sheep to the Saviour's Fold, will soon begin to scatter and destroy. Oh the dismal darkness, the utter misery, of such a condition! Can you picture to yourselves a more desolate being, than one who leaves country, and kindred, and home, to carry Salvation to the Heathen, and then loses his own relish for that blessing, the experience of its power, and the comfort of its prospects? He is a wretch indeed, in the most piteous state of dereliction and exile; and his own heart is a more doleful wilderness, than any region of the globe to which he may be relegated! By the mercies of God, and the faith of the Gospel, and the hope of eternal glory, I charge and beseech you, My Brethren, to nourish the grace bestowed upon you, by incessant applications to the Fountain-Head above. Never think it inconsistent with Christian liberty, and with a highly gracious state, to be very exact in your closet duties. Have stated hours for prayer and meditation, and adhere to them with rigid punctuality. When once you are grown remiss in private devotion, the Tempter has gained no slight advantage over you: and it may be feared that your piety, by little and little, will lose all its lustre and substance; or that you will fall suddenly, like lightning from heaven. Therefore, set God always before you, as the end of all your actions, and the author of all your sufficiency. Live by faith on His dear Son, praying always in the Holy Ghost; and then you will be kept in purity and peace, and will not be disconcerted by the Master's arrival, whether he come in the second watch or in the third.

Finally, My Brethren, dearly beloved and longed for, my joy and crown, in the name of God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ, I bid you farewell. You go, some to invade the sanctuary of Boodhism in Ceylon; and others to wage war against the Gentoo superstition, and to unite the Brahmin with the outcast in that family, which acknowledges no difference of rank or degree, but is one in Christ the Saviour. Some of you are destined to assist the poor Negro, but lately redeemed from civil bondage, to attain a far nobler liberty:—and some, to plough up virgin soil and sow precious seed in Abyssinia:—while others, with the Gospel of Charity, in their hands and in their hearts, are proceeding to teach merciless Zealanders to love one another. May the blessing of the Almighty descend upon your heads, and the Angel of His Presence go with you! May He preserve your bodies and souls from every evil—from perils of waters, and perils by the Heathen, and perils in the wilderness, and perils among false brethren—from the pestilence that walketh in darkness, and the destruction that wasteth at noon-day—from the terror of man, and the devices of Satan—from spiritual pride, and ignorance, and wilfulness—from lukewarmness, formality, and hypocrisy—from a hard, or a scrupulous conscience—from a zeal that is harsh, superstitious, or unseasonable—from unbrotherly envy, strife, and division—from abuse of your talents, and neglect of your charge—and from an amazed conscience, and the rebuke of God's countenance, in the hour of death, and in the day of judgment! Be yours the joy and recompence of them that turn man to righteousness! We commend you to that great Shepherd, who can never be unmindful of those devoted Servants, who search out and bring home His scattered sheep, now wandering among the dark mountains. May He be to you a sun and shield, a hiding-place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest, as rivers of water in a dry place, as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land! Where you go, may He lead you! May He keep you when you sleep, and talk with you when you are awake! And, having granted you strength sufficient for your days, and supplied all your need from the treasury of His mercies, may He receive you to the embraces of His heavenly love, and bestow on you a crown of glory that fadeth not away.

APPENDIX III.

(See Page 52.)

REPORT OF THE WEST-AFRICA MISSION FOR 1825.

THE Mission established in this Colony has had to contend with difficulties of various kinds, in each successive year. Both the Society, and those employed under its direction, have been called to act under the influence of that faith, which recognises things not seen by the eye of sense; and depends on the sure promises of Eternal Truth, notwithstanding the presence of many things, apparently tending to invalidate them.

To the dangers attendant on the climate, which, though sometimes exaggerated, really exist, are to be added the observations of certain persons, not very friendly to the objects of the Society: some of whom object, that its efforts are in a great measure thrown away, and that very feeble hopes are to be entertained of doing good to a people so stupid and ungrateful; while others are ready to reproach the Society, for not having effected more than it has done. Suggestions of this kind generally find their way, expressed in the most discouraging manner, to those for whom they are destined; and certainly have a tendency to weaken their hands and slacken their exertions.

Fully satisfied, nevertheless, of the practicability of the work which they have undertaken, and leaving the measure of present success to be ascertained in the lapse of time, the Committee have been unwearied in endeavouring to effect their great object—the religious instruction of the Native Africans, with a view to their conversion. For this purpose they have sent to these shores, at different times, a body of Labourers, whose number, up to the close of the year 1824, amounted to 77 persons. Beside these, about 30 others, chiefly of the Native Population, have been raised up, to assist, more or less, in the benevolent labours of the Society. But the number of Europeans has been so frequently reduced by death, by various removals occasioned by impaired health, and by some other causes which need not be particularly specified here, as to be very inadequate (even with this additional aid) to meet the wants of the Colony; while the regions beyond it, as well as other parts of the Coast, have been left, of late years, almost untouched. It may not be unnecessary to keep this in mind, by way of accounting for the apparent want of agreement, between the progress which has been made, and the total number of Labourers who have entered on the field. Had it seemed good to the Lord of the Harvest to spare the lives of the 107 persons just mentioned, and had nothing occurred to divert them from their work, very much (humanly speaking) might have been effected, which has been necessarily left undone.

The following is a statement of the number employed, at the commencement of the year 1825, in the Fourteen Stations, more or less under the Society's care—

Clergymen.....	3 English, 4 Lutheran.	7
Schoolmasters...	6 European, 1 Native ...	7
Schoolmistresses,	8 European, 2 Native ...	10
Native Teachers		3
Native Assistants.....		17
Total.....		44

This body, small as it must be considered in comparison with the extent of the population, has been rendered still smaller, by various afflictive occurrences, which are now to be noticed. Scarcely had SEVEN months of the year passed away, ere the stroke of death was permitted to deprive the Mission of SEVEN Labourers; that is, three Clergymen, one Schoolmaster, and three Schoolmistresses. Besides this, another Schoolmaster and two Schoolmistresses have returned to England, to seek the restoration of their health; one of the Natives has withdrawn from his work, and it has been found necessary to suspend another. A deduction of TWELVE, therefore, is to be made from the abovementioned total; leaving 32, the number of Labourers in actual service, during the latter half of the year.

Though these repeated losses could not but be deeply felt by the survivors, yet they have continued, through the help of Divine Grace, to labour in their different capacities and situations. Some few discouragements have, it is true, been experienced; but the measure of apparent success has, it is conceived, been as great as could be reasonably expected, under all the circumstances of the case.

At some of the Stations, a degree of indifference toward the Public Means of Grace was manifested for a time; which could not be observed without pain, by those entrusted with the care of the people residing there: in more than one instance, however, an improvement, in this respect, has subsequently taken place, which is truly gratifying; and it may be safely affirmed, that at several Stations the Congregation would, in all probability, be larger, were more ample accommodation provided. Cases are not wanting, in which an eager desire is shewn to hear the Word of God; and the crowded state of the people, in time of Service, is such as considerably to interfere with the personal comfort of those who are called to address them: when the hearing ear is thus given, it may be regarded as a token for good; and surely it affords ground for hope, as well as prayer, that the heart may also be opened to receive the truth.

As to the actual fruit arising from the dissemination of the Word of Life during the period embraced by this Report, it is not easy, nor perhaps altogether safe, to speak in positive terms. In fact, in order to this, a personal acquaintance with the state of each individual Settlement is necessary. In the absence of such an acquaintance, use will be hereafter made of a Statement respecting the present condition of most of them, drawn up by those employed on the spot.

Some idea may be formed of the general state of things during the year, by a comparison of the number of Scholars and of Communicants, according to the Returns for the first and last Quarters of that period. The result of this comparison indicates some decrease in the number of Scholars, while there is but a slight alteration in the number of Communicants. The respective sums are as follows—

	Lady-day.	Xmas.	Decrease.
Scholars (including Freetown	1861	1681	180
Communicants (Do.)	496	493	3

It is more than probable that the Schools will frequently experience some fluctuation: many of the children, as they grow up, are allowed to leave, in order to learn some trade; others to marry and settle in life, which here, as in all warm climates, it is customary to do at a very early age: and many also are removed by death, principally in consequence of disease, the foundation of which was laid while in a state of Slavery. The decrease mentioned above does not, therefore, necessarily prove that the people in general are indisposed to send their children to receive instruction: still less does it afford any ground of discouragement to those who labour for the benefit of the rising generation. The instances of decided piety, which have been brought to light during this period, are comparatively few; but, were there only ONE well-attested instance of this kind, it ought surely to be hailed with gratitude, as a token of the Divine approbation, and to operate as a stimulus to further exertions.

On the other hand, the attention paid to the Ordinance of the Lord's Supper may furnish a tolerably safe criterion, for judging of the degree in which the Gospel has found its way to the hearts of the adult population. Those who thus publicly and solemnly profess themselves the disciples of Christ are but few, compared with the mass of the people; but, though we may justly regret that these are not more numerous, yet, perhaps, their fewness may afford satisfaction, in ONE view, as indicating a commendable care, on the part of their Instructors, to bring forward those only, whom, in the judgment of charity, they conceive to be prepared for that sacred ordinance, by a due acquaintance with its nature and design, by the profession of faith in Christ, and by a desire to serve and glorify Him.

The contributions to the Church Missionary Society, received during the year, are much smaller than could be wished; but this by no means evinces such a decay in piety and such a declension in the zeal of those concerned, as might be imagined by comparing the amount paid in, with what has been formerly contributed.* Granting that some degree of indifference may have crept in, it is believed that the alteration which has taken place is in great part to be attributed to the altered circumstances of the people. A few years ago, great numbers of them were regularly employed, and fairly paid, by His Majesty's Government; but the Works which were then carrying forward have in some instances been finished, and in others suspended for the present: the earnings of this class are, in consequence, considerably reduced; while several, finding no immediate demand for their services as mechanics, employ themselves in the cultivation of their Farms, as their portions of ground are called when planted. In this way, as (for want of further acquaintance with agriculture) they confine themselves to the growth of a few articles, the supply of which becomes superabundant, they do little more than obtain a subsistence: their resources being thus materially abridged, it can scarcely be matter of surprise that their contributions to the funds of the Society should be abridged also.

A sketch of the Religious Condition of the Settlements, prepared from the statement already mentioned, and frequently given in the words of that statement, is here subjoined: the first number after each name denotes the average attendance at Public Worship on Sundays, making a total of 3101 persons; the second the average attendance on Week-days, amounting to 1581 persons; and the third the number of Communicants, being in the whole 483: then follow notices relative to each Station, on these points—the degree of regard manifested to the Means of Grace—the disposition of Parents in respect of sending their children for instruction—the disposition of Children to receive instruction—the Manners of the people—evidences of a Christian Spirit among the people.

Kissey—380 attend on Sundays; 190 on Week-days: 30 Communicants—With the exception of the Communicants, the people do not seem to pay that attention to the Means of Grace, which it is so desirable to witness: a considerable proportion of them live as without God in the world: many know too little of the English Language to be much benefitted by preaching—The parents do not seem to be properly sensible of the value of instruction to their children—Some of the children appear to value the instruction afforded them: others require the eye of the Master to keep them attentive to their lessons—Generally speaking, there is a tolerable measure of outward decency to be seen among the people—In some of them, evidences of a Christian Spirit are to be discovered, in their diligent and serious attention to the Means of Grace, in their regular Meetings for prayer and religious conversations, and in their lives, which testify more or less that they are Christians indeed.

Leicester—50 attend on Sundays; 25 on Week-days: 9 Communicants—A few of the people are backward in coming to Public Worship; but those who do attend seem desirous to profit—The people are very willing to send their children to be taught: the School having been discontinued for a time, they repeatedly asked, when it would be commenced again—The children, in general, manifest a great desire to learn—An improvement has taken place, in dress and manners: little is now seen of Heathenish Customs—The Communicants, in general, manifest some good measure of the Christian Temper, in their habitual deportment.

Gloucester—400 attend on Sundays; 170 on Week-days: 138 Communicants—The people are very anxious to have their children baptized: baptized Adults value much the privilege of attending the Lord's Supper: many unite for prayer, after Public Service, on the forenoon of Sunday—Too many of the parents are negligent in respect of sending their children to school: there are, however, a few who discover a better state of mind—The children are, in general, very tractable, and appear to make progress—The people conduct themselves, on Sundays, in an orderly and quiet manner; and go to Church cleanly and neatly dressed; a few excepted, who still follow their country fashion—The lives of many of the Communicants afford hopeful evidence that they are true Christians: conversation at the Saturday-Evening Meeting is often edifying: many fervent petitions are offered up at Prayer-Meetings, for their Countrymen, for the Society, and for more Labourers.

Regent—256 attend on Sundays; 76 on Week-days: 160 Communicants—The people, with a few exceptions, come to hear with a degree of solemnity: their attention to the responses and the singing is truly pleasing—The parents are generally anxious to have their children instructed—The capacity of the greater part of the children is good; and they are not indisposed to receive instruction—Great attention to neatness and cleanliness is observable in those who attend at Church: those who absent themselves are, for the most part, in a very degraded state—A hope is entertained, that many of the Communicants are concerned to walk as becomes their profession: some of them have given affecting statements of their inward grief, under a sense of remaining depravity.

Leopold (including Bathurst)—800 attend on Sundays; 250 on Week-days: 9 Communicants—In general, the people discover a regard for the Means of Grace, which is pleasing and encouraging: the Sunday attendance mentioned is that of the Morning; when the people from Charlotte are present—The parents very readily send their children to be instructed—The children are, for the most part, desirous to avail themselves of the advantages afforded them—A degree of attention is paid to decency of manners, by the people in general, which merits commendation—It is hoped that the few who are Communicants adorn their profession, by humility, meekness, and sobriety.

Charlotte — 140 attend on Sundays; 114 on Week-days: 4 Communicants—The attention paid to the Means of Grace is not generally such as could be wished—Nothing is known, with certainty, on the disposition of the parents with reference to the instruction of their children—nor on the disposition of the children to receive instruction—A commendable attention to outward decency is manifested by the great body of the people—Nothing particularly favourable is known respecting the evidences of a Christian Spirit and Temper, in the lives of the Communicants.

Wellington—350 attend on Sundays; 250 on Week-days: 103 Communicants—There appears a general hunger after the Word of God: the Communicants are regular in coming to the Lord's Table: the people are anxious to have their children baptized: Christian Burial is esteemed a privilege—Most of the parents are very desirous to have their children instructed—There is a great difference in the disposition of the children toward instruction: some must be compelled to go to School; others appear to take delight in being taught—Most of the people are careful to observe decency in dress and modesty in manners—Evidences of piety among the Communicants are, their love to one another, their private Prayer-Meetings on Sundays and Week-days, their attention to the sick, and their readiness in contributing to the Society.

Waterloo—250 attend on Sundays; 190 on Week-days: 20 Communicants—The silence, order, and attention of the adults in Public Worship are satisfactory: the children need occasionally to be roused to more attention: the building used for Public Worship would scarcely admit more than now attend on Sundays: the daily number mentioned is that of an Evening: the Morning attendance is but thin—Only 20 children are of a proper age to be sent to School: they are not so regular in their attendance now, as when their parents received food and clothing for them from Government—Want of desire for instruction, on the part of the children, excites grief: while young, they are, in general, teachable; but, as they grow up, a more untractable temper discovers itself—Avoiding that deplorable indecency, which is seen among the low thoughtless Europeans, the people have not attained that good sense and delicacy, which are to be found among well-educated and well-disposed Europeans—Most of the Communicants evince, by words and actions, that they are not destitute of the Spirit of Christ: yet there is much cause to entreat that more of His Spirit may be poured out upon them.

Kent—375 attend on Sundays; 240 on Week-days: 10 Communicants—While under the sound of the Word, the attention of the people is, in general, very good—The few children, who are of an age to be sent to School, are sent by their parents with apparent readiness—The disposition shewn by the children to receive instruction is, in general, very good—Outward decency is particularly observable among the people—Those, who profess to be Christians, evidence that they are such by their life and conduct.

Bananas—100 attend on Sundays; 76 on Week-days—Little regard appears to be paid to the Means of Grace, except by a few of the persons who regularly attend: almost the whole population of these Islands consists of persons transported from the Colony, for offences of various kinds — There are some who would probably send their children to be instructed, were there a more regular School—Few of the children have yet discovered any particular love for instruction—A small proportion of the people manifest an outward decency of conduct: but the greater part consider their character as already lost, and seem not to bestow much pains to recover it—At present it is not easy to discover any decided marks of the Christian Temper among them.

In the following Table a general view is given of the Population &c. of the Settlement.

Where nothing is stated in this Table, it denotes that the particulars had not been received. The number of Acres mentioned is the number cultivated by the Liberated Africans on their own account. The Gardens enumerated are those occupied by the Liberated Africans.

Another object of this Report, not yet particularly specified, is to convey further information relative to the temporal condition of the people: for, while the great purpose of the Society is to promote the future welfare of the Liberated Africans by making known to them the way of Salvation, their present comfort is also consulted, by endeavours to lead them forward in the arts of civilized life. It will, indeed, scarcely be expected, that the Agents of the Society should be able to devote much of their time and strength to this particular branch of duty, occupied as they are in attention to those higher objects, the promotion of which they justly consider as their first and principal business: yet the duty has not been disregarded, though only a limited degree of labour could be bestowed upon it. The people have been assisted by friendly hints of caution and advice, tending to prudent management; as well as by suggestions relative to the cultivation of their land. Where those, who have the charge of their spiritual concerns, have been long resident among them, they have, almost insensibly, acquired an authority, which they have beneficially employed in restraining outward evils and in countenancing virtuous and praise-worthy habits. A growing attachment is manifested by the people toward those placed over them, from which the most pleasing effects have already resulted. It is proper also to remember that the inculcation of religious principles naturally tends, so far as those principles are received, to encourage industry, sobriety, and the regular discharge of the ordinary duties of life. Civilization, when it does not precede Christianity, invariably follows in its track; or, rather, they may be said, in many instances, to advance hand in hand.

Without asserting that all has been done in this way, among the inhabitants of this Colony, which a sanguine disposition may have led some to expect, it may be sufficient to refer to the notices just given of the state of the people as it regards outward decency and sobriety. Some assistance in forming a judgment on this subject may, perhaps, be obtained from the statements which follow relative to the kind, quantity, and value of the productions raised in the Settlements, and sold to His Majesty's Government, during the year, so far as information can be obtained respecting them.

It may not be unnecessary to observe, that the produce, the amount of which has just been stated, is exclusively that sold to His Majesty's Government, for the supply of the new people and school children who receive rations. In addition to this, each Village has a small Market, where the most common productions are daily sold, for the use of the inhabitants: among these may be mentioned, Plantains, Bananas, Sugar Cane, Sweet Potatoes, Onions, Indian Corn, and Ground Nuts: of the quantity and value of these, it is not easy to form any correct idea. The same remark is applicable to that part of the productions of the Colony which is sold in the Public Market at Freetown; consisting of Shingles, Lumber (Boards &c.), Charcoal, Lime, and Black Soap; besides many of those articles already mentioned as sold in the Villages. Of some of the kinds, the quantity thus disposed of is considered to be equal to that which has been stated as purchased by His Majesty's Government.

Could a more exact account be given of these, it would have been more satisfactory; but it has been thought better to keep within the limits of known facts, than to hazard a conjecture, which might prove altogether incorrect. Should a Report similar to the present be drawn up annually, it may hereafter be practicable to obtain fuller information on these points, than has now been given.

The growth of some of the more common articles is greater than the consumption requires: for instance, at Regent, when the particulars relative to that Settlement were furnished, there was a quantity of Cocoa and Cassada in hand, amounting together to more than 9000 bushels; for which there was no immediate demand. This is only one out of many circumstances, which tend to shew the necessity of holding out some inducement to the Africans to cultivate productions of which there is a less plentiful supply, as well as of affording them some instruction in the European methods of cultivation. A hope is entertained, that the day is not far distant, when both these objects will receive that attention which the state of the Colony seems to require.

Perhaps this may be the proper place for stating, that, in order to avoid too many distinctions in classing the people according to their employments, Mechanics have been included under the head of Persons in Trade: but, in several instances, those who were formerly employed as Mechanics by His Majesty's Government, while buildings of various kinds were carrying forward, are now (in consequence of the cessation of Public Works in the Settlements) under the necessity, either of cultivating their Farms, or of seeking a subsistence by working as Labourers in Freetown, where several extensive buildings have lately been finished, or are now erecting. It is gratifying to remark, that the number of persons supporting themselves by FREE labour appears to be considerably increasing. In Waterloo, about one third, and in Charlotte about half of the population, is of this description.

With respect to the Houses built by the people for their own use, it may be observed, that, though few of them are wholly of stone, several are substantial buildings of wood on stone foundations: these, as well as those entirely composed of wood, are called Frame-houses. At Leopold, two of wood, and three of wood on stone foundations, have been built during the year: at Waterloo, one Frame-house has been finished; while the thatched houses, in which almost the whole population of the Settlement reside, are frequently constructed with neatness, and rendered more convenient, as well as more durable, than such buildings might be expected to be made.

The number of Burials may be thought small when compared with the population: but this circumstance will be, in a great measure, accounted for, by the recollection that only CHRISTIAN Burials are included in the statement; the Service not being used in the case of persons dying unbaptized, or remaining altogether Heathens. Of the class of unbaptized persons, there have been interred during the year, at Charlotte 16, at Leopold 54, at Gloucester 23, and at Leicester 4: the number at the other Settlements has not been ascertained.

The difference existing, in various respects, between the population of Freetown and that of the Villages will render it advisable to speak of that Station separately.

It is known to some who are likely to see this Report, that, owing to the neglected state in which the people had unavoidably been left for some time previous to the year 1825, and to other unfavourable circumstances, the exercise of the Ministry among the European part of them has been attended with peculiar difficulties. That these difficulties have been felt, it were in vain to deny: it is considered, however, a cause of gratitude, that, though found to be painful, they have never been suffered to become overwhelming; and that the prospect is somewhat more encouraging now, than at the commencement of the year.

The attendance on Sunday Mornings, in the early part of this period, may be stated at 120 on an average. This number will naturally be thought very small, in comparison with the population, which, four years ago, amounted to about 5600: yet the number present during the rainy season was still smaller. The Congregation has, however, been increased since that time, by the regular attendance of the Military; and, for the last two months, it has exceeded 200.

It must be matter of lamentation to all who know the value of Public Worship, that a suitable place has not been prepared for this purpose, capable of accommodating a number somewhat more answerable to the increasing population of the Parish. Till this be done, it seems in vain to expect that the Europeans will attend in any considerable number.

So far as opportunity has been afforded for the exercise of the Ministry among the Coloured Population, a more pleasing state of things has presented itself. Circumstances have, as yet, confined the numbers who attend within narrow bounds. The congregation has, in fact, seldom exceeded 50: but their deportment, while engaged in Public Worship, has, on the whole, been serious and devout; and the attention of the greater part to the Word delivered has apparently indicated an eager appetite for the Bread of Life, and a real concern to profit by the Means of Grace. Some inconsistencies have occurred in the conduct of a few of the Communicants; but, generally speaking, their steadiness and consistency of behaviour are such as to give satisfactory evidence that they have felt the power of the Gospel.

Several cases of Adult Baptism have occurred during the year, in which the gratifying hope was entertained, that the individuals admitted to that holy ordinance received it in obedience to the command of Christ, and with a desire to devote themselves to His service. Some of them were connected with other bodies of Christians.

Perhaps a few remarks may be here allowed, on the necessity of caution in judging of the success which may be granted to Missionary Efforts, among a people circumstanced as the Africans in general are.

It seems not altogether unreasonable to expect, while endeavouring to communicate religious truth to minds destitute of previous cultivation, that a longer period should elapse than in countries more civilized, before any great and permanent effects are produced. When the understanding has hitherto been unaccustomed to the contemplation of divine things, and, in fact, unconscious of their existence, it can scarcely be anticipated that it will, ALL AT ONCE, open to the perception of them; or that their power will speedily be so felt in the heart, as manifestly to influence the conduct. This, though a consummation devoutly to be wished, and such as must ever be the ultimate object of the Missionary, must in general be waited for with patience: in the case of individuals much more favoured in the appointments of Providence, it is often the result of a variety of causes, all directed by an unerring hand to the same termination; and, in a multitude of instances, does not appear, until after a lengthened period of instruction.

Far, however, very far, be it from the Writer to insinuate, that events such as are here intended, have not occurred, or that they may not occur again. It were presumption to limit, in any way, the Holy One of Israel. Undoubtedly, He is able, from those who are as devoid of life, in a spiritual sense, as stones to raise up children unto Abraham — heirs of the same precious faith, and members with Him of the family of heaven. It is only for Him to speak the word, and a nation shall be born in a day: they shall at once cast their idols to the moles and to the bats, and give unto the Lord the honour due unto His name. There is also an appointed season, when the Promises of His Word, which ensure these things, must be fulfilled: that season must be continually drawing nearer; and such extraordinary events have taken place, within these few years, in some of the distant regions of the earth and in the Islands of the South Sea, that we seem to be warranted in concluding, that we are not very far from the commencement of the period referred to.

Nor let it for a moment be doubted that many pleasing proofs have already been exhibited, on these very shores, of the blessed tendency of our Holy Religion. Even here it has been seen, that now, as well as in the primitive ages, the Gospel is the power of God unto salvation, to every one that believeth, however distinguished by colour, clime, or language. It is hoped and believed, that, in many instances, such as have made an open profession of religion have, in a good measure, lived in a manner consistent with it; and have exhibited satisfactory proofs of the efficacy of Divine Grace, in raising, enlightening, and transforming the most degraded and oppressed. In some lamented cases, indeed, it has been otherwise; but, even here, much is undoubtedly to be attributed to the peculiarly afflictive dispensations, by which it has pleased God (for some wise purpose, though to us unknown) to deprive the people of their beloved Teachers, and thus for a time to abridge the spiritual advantages previously afforded them. Probably, also, not a little may be ascribed to the unchristian lives of too many of the Europeans resident in the Colony; whose example, were they Christians indeed, would have an influence on the minds of the Natives, which might be incalculably beneficial.

On a review of the whole, there seems no reason to doubt, that it is the will of God that the Society should labour in this part of the Heathen World: and, wherever He calls His servants to labour, though the seed may be sown amidst multiplied discouragements, and though many things may threaten to choke it and render it unfruitful, yet eventually He will cause the harvest to arise. The Mission to this Colony is undoubtedly one which requires, in a peculiar manner, the exercise of faith: but when it is considered what the Lord has already done for His servants, both here and in England, in not suffering their hands to hang down, but enabling them steadfastly to maintain the post of duty, unwearied by toils and undismayed by dangers, it is not, surely, too much to hope, that He will yet be with them in every future trial; and, at length, when the time appointed in His unerring counsels shall have arrived, will abundantly prosper their labours,

APPENDIX IV.

RAPID PROGRESS OF CHRISTIANITY IN THE TINNEVELLY DISTRICT.

THE special blessing of God appears to rest on the labours of the Missionaries. The subjoined statement, of the progress of this good work, in the midst of opposition and persecution, is given by Mr. Rhenius.

In August 1823, eight persons were baptized in Tiroopoolangoody: these were people who had for several years been impressed with the truth of the Gospel, had forsaken Idolatry, been instructed in Christianity, and had suffered many cruelties from their Heathen Neighbours. About this time, a new Collector of the District arrived in Courtallum; a place where the European Gentlemen reside during the hot season. In October of the same year, people came from Sembankoodiyirooppoo, begging to be instructed in Christianity, as they found no satisfaction in Heathenism; being persuaded of this by some Native Christians in Varlaradi: a few days after, I went to see them; and instructed them in the nature of Christianity: a Brahmin, an owner of the village, was kind enough to give the people a piece of land on which to build a Chapel: that ground we afterward bought from him, and these Candidates for Christianity settled upon it: it is now a Christian Village, which we have called Arooloor. On the occasion just mentioned, I left David behind, to visit the neighbouring villages, and to make known the Gospel among them: on his return, he reported the opposition which a Vellalen, a partner of the Brahmin, was unjustly making against our people; ill-treating them in various ways. In December, David was again sent to Sembankoodiyiroop-poo; and, on his return, reported that he had been at the fair in Satangkoolam, and preached to various people, and read Tracts to them, when a number of Shanars of that town had followed him, and came hither with the resolution to embrace Christianity.

In the mean while, the new Collector had arrived in Palamcottah, from Courtallum; and we had the favour of an interview with him, in which I laid before him the oppressed state of our people, both of Sembankoodiyirooppoo and Tiroopoolangoody; requesting him to render justice to them, and, if possible, to stay the persecution. He was very kind, and promised to do every thing in his power to render them relief.

In January 1824, I sent some of our people to Satangkoolam to instruct the Candidates for Christianity: they found 21 Families decided to embrace it; but opposition, also, on the part of the Heathen. At the end of the same month I and Mr. Schmid visited the place; and were rejoiced to see a very large Congregation waiting for us at their Choultry, to see us, and to hear the Word of God: during our stay, we endeavoured to obtain a piece of ground for the building of a School and Prayer-House, but the great men of the village were evidently enemies to the Cause, and our endeavours were all in vain. In the beginning of February, our people in Arooloor had to suffer much from the Vellalen, by whose instrumentality they were beaten and robbed. One case was so daring an outrage, that I sent the oppressed and wounded to the Collector, requesting the favour of him to stem the persecution, which he did: having ascertained the truth of the outrage, he punished the offenders. Our people remained steadfast, and for some time they had a little rest.

I then proceeded on a journey to Jaffna and Madras, and returned in July 1824. In the mean while, the persecution had gone on, both in Arooloor and Satangkoolam; and Br. Schmid saw himself under the necessity of requesting the aid of the Collector. Notwithstanding these troubles, several families, in the villages round Satangkoolam, had renounced Idolatry, and requested Christian Instruction. Those villages are, Nadoovakooritchy, Pandarapooram, and Amandavanakoody: Br. Schmid made several journeys among them; and, in September, I proceeded on a journey to visit the several Congregations; and was rejoiced to find the latter, as well as those in the former villages, desirous to hear the Word of God, and to become Christians, whatever might befall them. In the mean while, several of the enemies of our people in Satangkoolam had been punished by the Magistrate, for their outrages.

In September 1824, ten families of Secadivally, 10 miles south of Satangkoolam, destroyed their idols, and joined themselves to the Christian Church.

It became now high time to think seriously of ground for a Church in Satangkoolam: a suitable spot was soon found, and the people were permitted to build upon it. The enemies now saw that they could not do as they pleased, in their wanton opposition to the Christians, and became quiet: in the mean while, the Church was begun, and is now finished. This success seems to have given much courage to the people who had come forward to join us.

About that time, by the instrumentality of a Member of the new Congregation at Nadoovakooritchy, the Headman and people of Kovindapaty, in the west, also renounced Idolatry; with several families of two other villages in its neighbourhood. In February 1825 I visited them, when I found the stone idol cast out of the Temple, and that building prepared to be a Place of Christian Worship: the next day, they burnt, in my presence, the other relics of Idolatry; and destroyed a small Temple, which the Headman had in his yard. One of our Assistants was placed here as their Instructor.

In the mean while, more people in the villages round Arooloor and Satangkoolam came forward likewise: the Heathens, particularly some principal persons, continued to be hostile to them; but their conspiracies did not succeed. In addition to some new cases, there was one respecting the village Nadoovakooritchy, where a rich Heathen Native, formerly a Tasildar, had, about thirteen years ago, by various tricks, appropriated the village to himself, depriving the Native Christians of the Tanjore Mission of their possession; and about four years ago had destroyed a Church which the Christian Congregation there had built. This case was brought before the Collector, who, with much patience and trouble, investigated it, and found out the wicked injustice of that rich Native. In consequence, the village was restored to the Native Christians, and those who had destroyed the Church were punished.

The attention which, in justice, was thus paid to the grievances of the Christians by the Magistrate, became known, of course, all over this part of the district; and was, probably, one of the causes which excited many more villages to listen to Christian Instruction and renounce Idolatry; so that, in May 1825, we numbered about Thirty-five Villages in which we had Congregations. We were thus obliged to select some pious Young Men to go and teach them the Word of God: seven of these were sent for this purpose: they found a ready reception, and great willingness to hear and learn the Word of God, among all; particularly the women. Previously to this, they, with others of our Seminarists, being stirred up to make known the Way of Salvation to their countrymen, had visited, in different directions, the most famous places of Idolatry, during the time of the Heathen Feasts—discoursing, and reading and distributing Tracts and Gospels, to vast crowds, who used to come together, on such occasions, from all quarters; many of whom expressed themselves much pleased at the new light which they received by these instructions. In about three months from the time when our Young Men were first sent out thus, the villages, in which New Congregations had arisen, were no less than NINETY; and they have now (in September 1825) increased to ONE-HUNDRED-AND-TWENTY-FIVE: in these villages, more than A THOUSAND FAMILIES are under Christian Instruction.

The following causes may have operated, under the blessing of God, to bring about this change in the minds of the people—

1. The preaching of the Gospel by ourselves and our Native Assistants —2. The distribution of Tracts— 3. The intercourse of the Heathen with our New Congregations; and with the Native Christians of the Tanjore Mission, who were formerly 10,000, though reduced, from various causes, in the last fifteen years, to less than half that number—4. The attention paid to the grievances of the Christians—5. The liberation of the people from various burdensome labours which they had to perform at the idolatrous festivals.

Under the sufferings of which I have spoken, our people were, from the beginning, exhorted to exercise patience and forbearance toward their enemies, as it becomes professors of Christianity; and I must say that they have endured much. Though, in cases where application for redress seemed necessary to the maintenance of public peace and justice, they received relief; yet, in the mean while, they endured beatings, spoliation, and wanton imprisonments, with a steadfastness which I cannot but ascribe to a reality in their Christian Profession.

Thus have we arrived at a very interesting period. We would lean on the Holy Spirit to help us; and to give us understanding and wisdom, that we may advise and guide and instruct these Congregations aright and with power, so that their affections may be drawn closer toward their Redeemer and Heaven, where He sitteth at the right-hand of the Father; whereby they may be enabled to overcome all the temptations and troubles of this life, and more especially their own innate corruptions.
